

Summer Term Opens June 15

School Under Direction Of Mr. Roy B. Bowers

The RPI summer school will be in session from June 15 to August 16 under the direction of Mr. Roy B. Bowers, Associate Professor of Educational Psychology.

Mr. Bowers has announced the names of the teachers who will constitute the summer school faculty. They are: Miss Imogene B. Claiborne, Assistant Professor of Chemistry; Dr. Alice Davis, Associate Professor of Sociology; Mrs. Kathryn Winfrey, Assistant Professor of Business; Miss Juliet Woodson, Instructor in Languages; Mr. J. T. Walker, Instructor in Social Science at the University of Virginia Extension Division here; Dr. Paul Ritter from the University of Southern California; Mrs. Margaret Hudson, specialist in audio-visual education, State Department of Education; and Miss N. Ethel Hill from John Marshall High School.

Any further names of faculty members will be disclosed as plans become definite.

SSW Lists Summer Plans

The Richmond School of Social Work Summer School will extend from June 10 through July 20. The course in Field Work for those eligible will extend from July 22 through August 14.

The six weeks of classwork will be divided into five two-week institutes, one workshop, and four six-week classes.

Supervision in Social Case Work will be offered by Miss Mary M. Zender, lecturer in Social Case Work at Bryn Mawr College, from June 10-22. Mrs. Lois Washer, head of Recreational Leadership in the Richmond School of Social Work, will offer Supervision in Social Group Work from June 10-22. Social Agency Administration by Miss

Accidental Club Visits New York

Thirteen members of the Accidental Club, RPI's recently organized club for music majors, will leave tomorrow for a six days' stay in New York City.

Those who will go are Dorothy White, Helen Briemister, Nancy King, Mildred Hale, Doris Hedg-peth, Taylor Stephenson, Margaret Henley, Nettie Owen, Hannah Bromberg, Lois Rosenbaum, Patricia Glendenning, Mary Timberlake, and Nancy Colvig.

Mrs. Grace Hale Markham, aunt of Mildred Hale, will be the chaperon.

Dorm Students Elect Officers

The dormitories held elections last week for new House Councils for next year.

The following were elected at Founders' Hall: Ethyl Merritt, president; Sarah Gambrel, senior representative; Jean Elberson, junior representative; Lola Mae Shiflet, sophomore representative; and Jane Fivel, freshman representative.

At Meredith House, Sarah Utz was elected president; Alyce Quince Parrish, senior representative; M. F. Dimmick, junior representative; Lois McAdoo, sophomore representative; and Kristy McLaughlin, freshman representative.

At Ritter-Hickok, the following were elected: Nell Burns, president; Taylor Stephenson, senior representative; Jeepy Payne, junior representative; and Rena Wright, sophomore representative.

Results of elections in other dorms have not been announced.

House Chairman For IRC Dance

Bill House was elected chairman for the committee to plan the International Relations Club dance to be given in the gymnasium on April 13th, at a meeting of the club members on Monday.

Bill announced that the dance, which will be informal, will start at nine o'clock and will have an Easter theme. The tickets will go on sale after spring recess, and they will be fifty cents stag and seventy-five cents drag.

New Committee Formed For Off-Campus Plans

Dr. Margaret Johnson has announced that all students who plan night picnics or other affairs away from school must clear the arrangements through a committee newly formed for the purpose. Dr. Johnson is chairman of the group, and it is composed of Mrs. Virgie Chalkley, Mrs. Raymond Hodges, and Mrs. Mary Mosby.

Confusionism Is Confused Confusion

Confusionism, Confusionism, what is Confusionism?

Confusionism mounts, curiosity mounts, more confusion, more curiosity!

Are you confused? If you aren't you will be on April 12 at 8:00 P. M. in the gymnasium when Confusionism will be the theme of the entire student body gathering sponsored by the Student Government Association.

Confusing, isn't it?

Betty Donahue, chairman of the committee for the program, announced that not only students but faculty members will participate in the general confusion. When asked what she meant by confusionism, Betty replied, "I can't tell you, but anything can happen and probably will. We want all of the students to be there and guarantee you will die laughing—or confused."

Are you still confused? Don't look so bewildered. Confusionism will clear you of your confusion.

Tickets for Confusionism will be on sale after the Spring Vacation for 15 cents.

CONFUSIONISM - ! ? ?

New SG Heads To Be Installed

Dot Turock Elected President of Association

Installation ceremonies for Student Government officers for 1946-47 will be held in April.

Last week's election named pre-social work major Dot Turock president. Dot is a transfer from the Norfolk division of William and Mary and is House President of 816 Park. She is a member of the Spanish Club, Glee Club, and is representative to the May Court from the class of '47.

Pat Albright, laboratory technique major from Alexandria, was selected vice-president of Student Government. Pat has served as secretary of the Student Government Association, vice-president of the Junior class, vice president of the Athletic Association, and a member of the 827 House Council, Boosters' Club, and Wigwam staff.

Secretary-elect Byrd Bradshaw is a day-student living in Laurel and is specializing in recreational leadership. Representing her class both years in the May Court, Byrd has also been president of the freshman class, secretary of the sophomore class, Student Government treasurer, and a member of the Glee Club and Theatre Associates.

From Churchville comes treasurer Lola Mae Shiflet. Lola, as a dramatic art major, has appeared in "The Enchanted Cottage" and "Ladies in Retirement." She is a member of the Theatre Associates and the International Relations Club.

Students Awarded Honor Keys

Honor keys were awarded by Dean H. H. Hibbs at the convocation held at Pace Memorial Church Monday.

Tapped for leadership keys by Dr. S. J. McCoy were Betty Donahue, Mildred English, Mary Sue Hibbs, and June Wharton. Miss Virginia Holden tapped Dorothy White, who received the key for music. Helen Bass, Mary Ashton Joyner, and Lougenia Woolridge, high students in art, were tapped by Mr. Raymond Hodges.

As there was only a slight disparity between the scholastic records of twelve students, no honor key was awarded. Instead, Dr. Doris Fales called all twelve students to the platform, where they were awarded cards from Dr. Hibbs. These students were: Elizabeth Rita Ahern, Ann Louise Crymes, Martha Anne Davis, Betty Ann Donahue, Mildred Elizabeth English, Mary Sue Hibbs, Carolyn Jean Martin, Mary Patricia Miller, Patricia W. Royal, June Bernice Wharton, Dorothy Sue White, and Lois Woodring Wolfong.

It's An Honor

Monday you saw the outstanding seniors in leadership, scholarship, and the different branches of art tapped. Behind each key given to the outstanding student there are qualifications and responsibility.

Up to fifteen per cent of the senior class is eligible to receive the leadership key. The students who are awarded this honor must have demonstrated commonly accepted traits of a leader, such as initiative, efficiency, cooperation and the assuming of responsibility.

The scholarship award is based on quality point average for the last four semesters, three of which must be at RPI. This is automatic; those students who fall in that category scholastically, will receive the award.

Art keys are based on performance. The Drama, Fine Arts, Commercial Art, Interior Decorating, Costume Design, and Music Departments form committees and propose the outstanding students in each field of art.

The awarding of Honor Keys was begun at RPI approximately five years ago, when it was felt that students doing outstanding work should be given credit for this work.

Uphold Our Musicians

On last Monday night, a recital featuring twelve students was held in the music building. Performing were pianists vocalists, a flutist, and a cellist. This was open to all music lovers who cared to attend.

Our musicians are of the best. We have a fine glee club, and the orchestra is composed of some of the leading musicians in the city. We are indeed fortunate to possess these; and we should endeavor to take advantage of our cultural opportunities as much as possible. Every few weeks, a recital or concert, open to the public, is presented by the music department. Should we not show the music lovers of the city that we are interested in programs of culture, and also show our loyalty to one of the leading departments in our school?

A Contest and an Aim

Shirley Goldfarb, a junior in the Sociology department, has just won the grand prize in a contest conducted by station W.L.E.E. The contest consisted of completing the sentence "I would like to see THE BELLS OF ST. MARY'S because. . . .," and Shirley completed it with: "I . . . will gain a better understanding of another faith—a hope and ideal recently fostered by Brotherhood Week."

Shirley's answer was truly indicative of the spirit towards which RPI aims. If we broaden this concept to include other peoples and cultures, as well as faiths not our own, we achieve the goal of all truly liberal education. Tolerance, of the "you keep your faith and I'll keep mine" variety is not enough. This is superficial acceptance, magnifying differences, and leaving the many similarities unrealized.

It is understanding that we as students, and future leaders, must strive for, and that Shirley, in her simple letter, has outlined.

A Plea to the Few From the Many

Are you one of those sorrowful souls who spend most of the class period getting the professor off the subject? Careful observation reveals such students among our masses. Although they're few and far between, it only takes one to take up the professor's time, while others go to college and take courses to learn about the courses. So why not give the other fellow a little consideration.

You Write Us

Dear Editor:

Congratulations to Helen Carpenter on the suggestion for a literary magazine, RPI needs one.

Right here in this school there is much literary talent and it needs an outlet other than class work. With the magazine would come a literary society and the opportunities offered by a society of this type would be greatly appreciated by many students. Book reviews would be one of the many features presented by the society and the magazine. This holds a particular interest for me.

This society would by no means infringe on the work of the PROSCRIPT but offer greater opportunity for the members of the PROSCRIPT, but offer great opportunity to those who wish to try their hands at creative writing.

DENA DAVIS

Dear Editor:

The letter that appeared in the last issue of the Proscript questioning the absence of a publication devoted to creative writing might have been written by any one of many literary-minded students here at RPI. It expresses in writing what others have expressed in spirit—the desire for a magazine that will be representative of the creative ability that is disseminated through the student body.

The formation of a literary society will be a definite impetus to a better understanding of the world's great literature and the magazine a further bond of unity between our students and faculty.

JEANNE FRAYSER.

Students Favor Literary Society

By Jane Scates

In the last issue, there appeared a letter and an editorial suggesting that a literary society be formed through which a magazine of creative writing of students could be published. Since then, many students have responded.

Helen Carpenter, who wrote the letter, says, "I am surprised and happy at the response, and since there is so much interest, perhaps we can begin immediately."

Pat Albright, when asked her opinion on the subject, stated, "A creative publication would be an excellent thing to have here. I understand that there are several students who excel in this field."

Ruth Sussman suggested that a meeting be called for all interested. She says, "We will not have to worry about material for a first issue, since the English and other departments can supply us with material written in classrooms." She suggests that the Art Department will probably aid in making the paper more attractive.

"The heart of every school is its literary magazine. While the newspaper reports contemporary news, and the annual serves as a keepsake and memoir, the literary magazine catches the golden quality of words put together in forms worthy of being kept and reread," explains Shirley Goldfarb.

In a letter to the editor, Marjorie Mullen agrees that the society should be organized. She says, "I am sure that many students, like me, would enjoy and derive much benefit from such a society."

Ginny Lewis points out that such a society would bring about unification and will serve a group not served by any other organization.

Virginia Ellis declares, "I feel that a professional school such as RPI certainly should have a creative magazine. In high school, our magazine was a highlight in school activities."

Nikki Calish, Sue Dicken, Bennie Dunkum, Bette Goldberg, Robert Harris, Peggy Kelly, Pauline Kirby, Isabella Smith and others have expressed their approval in forming the society, while Jesse Addison and Tillie Piper are in favor of the magazine.

RPI Boys Win Overtime Tilt

Led by the "clutch" shooting of Marvin Culbreth and Chuck Wood, the RPI quintet defeated the S. C. Mitchell Literary Club of the University of Richmond 41-38 in an overtime tussle Wednesday night in the local gym.

Dewey Lovelace hit for the first bucket and Culbreth and Wood followed with two more through the meshes in quick succession to put the local boys into an early six-point lead. The first quarter ended with the home team on the long end of a 10-6 score. Coming back fast in the second period, RPI lengthened their lead to 20-10 at the close of the half.

In the second half, however, the Literary Club five became "hot" and started to make a game of it, and RPI came out of the third heat barely clutching a 32-28 lead. Led by S. Hutton and Connelly with 18 and 8 points, respectively, the S. C. Mitchell boys tied it up at 34-all with three minutes of playing time left. Then Hutton sank a quick set shot, but Wood followed that with a crisp shot to knot the score again at 36-36.

Connelly put the Lit. Club out in front again by a layup with ten seconds left. On a called foul, Capt. Joe Slika of RPI elected to take the ball outside. Culbreth then took the pass, shot, and split the nets with a set shot from halfcourt that ended the regulation time with a 38-38 tie.

In an overtime period, Culbreth hit for another field goal and a charity shot, while the home team held the visitors scoreless to win, 41-38.

S. Hutton of the losing team walked off with scoring honors of the night, while Culbreth had 13 and Lovelace 12 points to pace the winners. Wood and Williams had six markers each and Slivka, four, to complete the RPI scoring.

Duggan Sets New Swimming Recrod

Nancy Duggan cut 3.3 seconds off her own state record for the 50-yard dash when she covered the distance in 30.0 seconds as the RPIites dropped their first swimming meet of the season to the tank team of the Norfolk Division of W. & M. in Norfolk last Wednesday by a 30-18 score.

The locals also captured the 100-yard medley when Hatke, Munce, Donahue, and Duggan were timed at 1:06 for the distance which is not far from the state record. They lost the 100-yard free style, 50-yard backstroke and the 150-yard medley.

The RPIites team is composed of Captain Nancy Duggan, Helen Jeanne Keeling, Connie Hatke, Betty Donahue, Hop Hadden and Kristy McLaughlan. Captain Duggan holds the state record for the 50-yard, 100-yard, 220-yard, and 400-yard relay and Connie Hatke holds the state diving title for the 3 meter board.

"The team plans to participate in other meets this season with a meet at Williamsburg with the William and Mary pending," declared Captain Duggan.

RIC Makes Plans For State Council

Plans for a state conference at which students from many colleges throughout Virginia would organize a Virginia Intercollegiate Council were discussed at an executive committee meeting of the Richmond Intercollegiate Council held Wednesday, March 20.

The dates for the conference are April 12 and 13, and present plans are to hold the meeting in the vicinity of Richmond. The goal of the State council is to facilitate a cooperative and unified body of students such as has been organized in many other states.

After the executive meeting, the Richmond Intercollegiate Council held its annual concert in the Egyptian Building of the Medical College of Virginia. Guests of the RIC performed, representing Martha Washington, Lynchburg, and Virginia State Colleges.

Students from RPI who performed were Lois Rosenbaum, who played a piano selection; Irving Schenker, who played two flute solos; Maude Spindler offered a piano prelude; and the Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Helen Fill Rhodes, rendered one selection.

OT's Teach Incurables

Square knotting, crocheting, and Hungarian loom-weaving are being taught by Therapist Club members to patients of the Virginia Home for Incurables.

Therapists who have gone are: Cornelia Van Arnam, Phyllis Pemberton, Jean Beach, Betty Lempeke, and Ernestine Stanford.

They have worked with seven paralysis victims who, according to Cornelia, president of the club, show a keen desire to achieve perfection in their work despite their handicaps.

This activity will continue weekly.

A. A. Entertains Girls' Basketball Team at Tea

The girls who came out for basketball this year were the guests at a tea given Monday, March 18 in Founders' Hall by the Athletic Association.

The team this season was managed by Ann Crymes, and Martha Fielding was assistant manager. The girls who turned out for basketball are Mary Roberts, Marion Collins, Virginia Rowe, Margaret Snell, Byrd Bradshaw, Gene Layne, Ann Jolly, Katherine Tartt, Connie Hatke, Gladys Watson, Mae Dickerson, Norma Hadden, Mildred English, Mary Munce, Nancy Duggan, Anne Tucker, Helen Jean Keeling, Jean Ellerson, Betty Lempeke, Ida Quarles, Marjorie Lucas, and Ebbie Stigall.

Mr. Shepard Appears In Two Piano Concerts

Mr. Volney Shepard, director of the Richmond School of Music, is to appear in several concerts in the near future. On Monday, April 8, he will travel to Orange where he will play the piano at the Woodberry Forest School and on the following Friday, April 12, he will give a recital in Martinsville.

Nancy Shuman, who was crowned queen of ASL Mardi Gras Ball.

Shuman Reigns as Mardi Gras Queen

Nancy Shuman, fashion major, was crowned queen of the Mardi Gras festival and costume ball given by the Art Students League, Saturday, March 23.

Nancy appeared on the stage at 10:00 P. M., and was crowned by Hazel Mundy, assistant professor of costume design. She was attired in a black velvet gown trimmed in silver lamee.

A highlight to the theme of Mardi Gras was Martha Jane Coleman and Darryl Landrum's dance which signified the spirit of the Mardi Gras festival.

Party Held at McGuire's

Girls from RPI held a "First Day of Spring" party for the Paraplegics at the McGuire's Hospital Thursday evening. There are about twenty-five of these boys, who are paralyzed from the waist down, who participated in party games and were served refreshments by the girls.

The volunteers who attended were Mary Sue Hibbs, Mary Rogers, Nell Burch, Ann Garrett, Pat Quisenberry, Reide Fitchett, Virginia Strobel, June Echols, Etta Hill, Martha Fielding, and Rosalie Ranger.

The boys were quoted as expressing hope of other groups of girls coming to put on other parties.

Boosters' Club Plans Drive for New Members

The Boosters' Club will launch a drive for new members after the spring holidays.

A poster will be placed on the students' bulletin board, and those students interested in becoming members may sign there. Each present member of the club has the aim of enlisting one or two new members.

Betty Aherne, secretary-treasurer, announced that the Boosters' Club has begun contributing to the Packages for Europe drive.

OT Graduates In Varied Jobs

Miss Sue Hurt has announced the present positions of some of the recent Occupational Therapy graduates of this year.

Florence Clemens has recently taken a position as director of occupational therapy at the Eastern State Hospital. Miss Clemens took the Occupational Therapy National Registry examination given several weeks ago here at RPI.

Hilda Steinberg now has charge of occupational therapy in the Psychiatric Division of the Medical College of Virginia. Miss Steinberg also took the National registry examination.

Inez Husk, O. T. R., is employed in Richmond at the Crippled Children's Hospital.

Anne Bates expects to return to Richmond soon to be employed as an Occupational Therapist at McGuire General Hospital. Marjorie Peple also expects to return here to become head of occupational therapy work at Pine Camp.

Miss Hurt stated that some of these fore-mentioned hospitals or centers will gradually be developed for clinical training centers to be used by students in the Occupational Therapy Department of RPI.

Dr. Kalif Takes Part in AASW Meet

Dr. George T. Kalif, director of the Richmond School of Social Work, took part in a panel discussion on Professional Training for Field of Social Work at a recent meeting of the local chapter of the American Association of Social Workers. Dr. Kalif discussed the responsibilities of a graduate school of Social Work in training for the field of Social Work.

Other participants were Miss Mary C. Sumner, director of Social Service at the Children's Memorial Clinic, who spoke on Responsibility of the Agency in Training for Social Work; and Miss Wilhelmina Baughan, director of the Children's Bureau of the Virginia State Department of Public Welfare, who spoke on the Supervisor's Responsibility in Training for Social Work.

Also, Mrs. Margaret Milton, case worker in the Social Service Department of the Medical College of Virginia, discussed Professional Training from the point of view of the worker and the student. Mr. E. J. Keyes, director of the Richmond Area Community Chest, was chairman of the panel.

Student Recital Held Monday

A student recital was held Monday night in the Music Building which included selections by pianists, vocalists, and instrumentalists.

Those taking part included Carolyn Lou Ramsey, Margaret Sydnor, Marjorie Hall, Maud Spindler, Lois Rosenbaum, John Trattner, pianists; Irving Schenker, flutist, accompanied by Miss Virginia Holden, piano instructor; Nancy Colvig, Margaret Baxter, Virginia Stevenson, Mary Helen Holmes, vocalists; and Helen Briesmeister, cellist.

Hearts — It's a Grand Old Game

By Nikki Calisch

"Hi, kid, get a third and let's play."

This cry resounds through the Day Room at any time of the day when some of the seven heart-playing enthusiasts get together.

If you should suddenly hear an ear-splitting rebel yell fill the room, followed by a groan, you know that someone has just pawed the queen of spades on a victim.

The rules of this game are simple. The object is to get the lowest score. All hearts count as one; the queen of spades is thirteen; and the jack of diamonds—in some instances—takes ten points off your score. The biggest thing you can do is to take all of the hearts and the queen. By doing this you add twenty-six to everyone's score and nothing to yours.

Of course, these habitual players are not card sharks. They really—and this is straight from one of them—know nothing about the game. They play for their own amusement, and for the secondary purpose of getting everyone else mixed up.

Don't try to get them to play anything else. It's a hopeless case. RPI will have to institute a new degree: the B.H. degree—Bachelor of Hearts.

Summer School

Agnes Van Driel, chief of technical training service of the Social Security Board, will continue from June 24 to July 6.

Miss Cordelia Cox, of the Richmond School of Social Work, will offer a course in Problems of Children in Schools from June 24-July 6. Miss Cox will also conduct a Workshop in Visiting Teaching from June 10-22.

The six-week courses will be conducted by Miss Aileen Shane, Mrs. Washer, and Miss Julia Ann Bishop. Miss Shane will offer Case Work I and Psychiatric Aspects in Public Assistance. Mrs. Washer will conduct Current Trends in Group Work, and Miss Bishop will offer Children in Foster Homes.

SG Heads

Also nominated for president were Chuck Wood, Martha Jane Coleman, and Page Carruth. Ethel Marritt and Margaret Snell were the vice-president nominees, and Stella Burson, Winston Evans, and Grace Emanuel ran for secretary. Nancy Schenk and Gladys Watson were up for treasurer.

The Gossip Gatherer

Hi! I'm the gossip gatherer. I snoop and eavesdrop just every place I can. I even hire a few helpers to help me out. But even then I don't hear anything worth printing. So, help me out, won't you? If there's anything interesting you think I should know, write me a note telling ALL addressed to me, The Gossip Gatherer, and stick it on the Proscript Board.

Jeane Williams was all a-flutter when she left us last week, and no wonder! She has received her orders from the Navy to join her husband, a Navy Chaplain, on Tinian (near Guam).

Flash! Latest engagee is Ann Handy—to Jack. Congrats!

Roz Retzer's friend Bob drove 'way down from Chicago to see her last week.

Shan Johnson, of last year, came up the other weekend from U. of Tenn., where she's spending her junior year.

Speaking of Laura Ann, we hear she's expecting trouble when her sailor hits Richmond (he's due shortly), 'cause she's been steady dating Bill, the guy with the cream convertible.

Pompey Rice of 908 gives with the info on her side of the street, namely:

Margie Kroskin was Maid of Honor in her cousin's wedding last Saturday. Big wedding and big doings, we hear. Did you catch the bride's bouquet, Margie?

Sherry Bullitt has exciting plans for Spring Vacation. She has plane reservations home to Louisville and, no sooner than she arrives there, will fly to New York to spend the remainder of the holidays with . . . well, Sherry won't 'fess up exactly whom she's going to visit, but it's fun to guess.

Kindy Miller will spend half of the holidays in D. C. visiting the Haighs—and did you ever hear of Mrs. Haigh's son Bob? Just ask Kindy and she'll tell you all about him.

Quite a few of the gals in 908 have saved their cuts so as to add a few more days to their vacation. With so many gone over there it isn't quite so lively as usual, but we betcha when April 4 rolls around the old place will be spry as usual. Did you see that cute brunette Jack Collins had around last week? That's his wife.

W. R. Smith had his wife around, too. So Nikki Calisch walks up to the two of them and pipes to W. R. "Hello, Darling."

Norma Perdue has been walking the floor ever since she heard the "F.D.R." is heading for Norfolk. Her Clay is aboard.

Miss Cady is in sad distress over a pair of brown leather wings, size 7, which just will not stay on her 5 feet. So, if anyone would like to buy same at less than cost, see Miss C.

Rumors have it that Miss Dole's little box marked "Bad Words—1c per each" is filling fast.

My colab Loretta Widder tells us that:

Helen and Norma Hansard have a new cousin in the Dominican Republic named after then both, Helen having priority.

That right cute fellow Nancy Parrott dates is Fobby Cobb from Randolph-Macon.

Margaret Stephany had Belle Altman, Baltimore, visiting with her for the week.

The handsome man Ida Moore is usually seen with is Reid Fitchett. Carolyn Hill is T-H-A-T excited about the expected arrival very soon of Phil from Le Havre.

Our last juicy bits come from another colab, Pat Miller, ex-ed.: Frankie Payne is fast becoming the "pic girl" of RPI what with her pictures in the local papers three times in a week! Once as advance publicity for "The Outlaw" (this was taken at McGuire Gen. Hosp.), again as Va. delegate to the April Convention of the Glamour Career Council; and third modeling a John Frederick's hat at the M&R fashion show.

Also modeling at the M&R f. s. from RPI were Laura Ann Barrett, Jessie Carter, and Nancy Schumann.

Rosalie Marks wore blue when she was bridesmaid in the wedding that made Pat Raab, '45, her sister-in-law.

Martha Hawkins' Sandy arrived one day and she was wearing a diamond the next. They're planning a June wedding in which Martha Spicer and Phyllis Kohl will be bridesmaids.

All the best to Irene Jarrett, whose engagement to Marine Lt. Darrell Watson was recently announced.

Anne Ambler Moore, who transferred here from Hollins, journeyed back there for the junior prom.

That's all for this time. See you next issue!

Quips and Quotes

Overheard in Radio Class: In the spring a young man's fancy turns to baseball and other kinds of pitching.

From a Psychology class: Where could a woman find a better job than at school teaching? She talks all day without being interrupted.

"Oh Lord", prayed Sally. "I'm not asking for a thing for myself, but please send Mother a son-in-law."

Minority Club To Reorganize

Members of the Minority Club voted for a complete reorganization of the group at a meeting held on Friday, March 22.

Chuck Wood, president of the club, appointed an executive committee composed of Bill Robinson, Bennie Dunkum, Herby Weisberger, Lindley Hill, Ray Doggett, and Jim Fish to plan for the dissolving of the organization as it now stands and organizing a new club.

A subcommittee of Bennie Dunkum, Bill Robinson, and Chuck Wood saw Mr. Raymond Hodges, the sponsor of the group, who will continue in that capacity in the new group, and made arrangements for the meeting that was held yesterday, at which a new constitution was drawn up.

Chuck announced that complete details and the names of the new officers will be made public in the near future.

Oh, how I want a mate!
