

Triplet-I Scheduled To Open Wednesday In Playhouse

"Triplet-I will open Wednesday night at the gymnasium playhouse and continue there until Friday. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

The production, staged by Peter Prodan, will be the first of three graduate thesis plays scheduled for this semester. It will be followed by the staging of the Greek classic, "Electra", in the latter part of March by Donald Hermes. Imogene Cowan will stage Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" in April, rounding out the major presentations for the current year.

"Triplet-I's" program of three one-act plays will offer a large cast from the school of dramatic art. Appearing in the first offering, "A Few Stones", will be Peter Cannon, Vivian Trestrman, Wamer Callahan, Arthur Greene, and Patricia Caldwell.

The second play, "The Unscrupulous Saint", will feature Arthur Greene, Geri Chronowit, Addison Slayton, Donald Hermes, Peter Cannon, and James Enderly.

Wamer Callahan, James Enderly, Cliff Warren, John Hurdle, Arnold Hyman, Roy Carter, Arthur Greene, Addison Slayton, Donald Hermes, and William Echo are in the cast of "The Artist", the last offering.

"A Few Stones" is a contemporary tragic-comedy, affording a lesson on the values in certain segments of society. In the play, tragedy ensues from an "inconsequential" parking ticket, together with the exchange of "A few stones" among the principal characters.

On the other hand, "The Unscrupulous Saint" is a folk-fantasy in a medieval setting, playing up the ultimate victory of good over evil.

"The Artist" is a contemporary farce, taking as its subject the age-old conflict between the forces of Broadway and the exponent of "pure art" for the theater.

Prodan is staging his three plays with unity in mind. To achieve this, he is utilizing a common, neutral background in the form of a cyclorama. This cyclorama, sometimes

SGA Studies Class Needs At Meeting

To discuss problems of class organizations and ways in which the classes may benefit the school, a meeting was called February 6 by the SGA for the executive committees of the four class organizations.

This committee recommended regular meetings to be held of the class executive committees in order to coordinate class activities and recommend certain policies which would be adopted by the classes. If the classes vote their approval on the measure, the executive committee council will meet on the second Tuesday of each month. This council would be given the power to make resolutions affecting all class organizations. Individual class rights could not be infringed upon, however.

Night Meetings To Be Arranged By Mr. Bowden

It is requested that all arrangements for class meetings and all other types of meetings are to be scheduled with Mr. Bowden, night school head.

Teenie Stevens, head of the activities committee of SGA, requests that they be made at least a week in advance, and if possible a permanent date and room established.

"I would appreciate it if you would continue scheduling these meetings with me so I could announce them in SGA for the news sheet."

"Try to arrange them so that not too many meetings are held on one night. If you schedule them with me in advance, I can advise your meetings before you go far with your publicity," Miss Stevens said.

This does not effect any scheduling of dance or parties in the gym. Requisitions for the gym are to be made a week in advance and also a list of chaperones must be submitted to Miss Stevens.

Spring Vacation Date Changes Sought By SGA

SGA President Baxter Duffy stated that there was a good chance that spring vacation, originally scheduled to begin March 31 may be changed to March 24.

Duffy requested the vacation change in a formal letter to the Administration last week. Definite action is expected on the request this week.

If the proposed change passes the Administration's approval, students will enjoy Easter at home.

The official catalog lists March 31 through April 9 as the annual spring vacation. Under Duffy's proposal the vacation will be March 24 through April 1.

It was learned that many veterans desired the later vacation in order that they might receive their government checks before going home.

The SGA Council voted at their February 7 meeting to replace SGA keys with pins. The new pin will designate the member's SGA status.

Duffy, following last Wednesday's meeting announced the appointment of Phil Pafford as sergeant of arms and Eddie Martin as vote teller.

Students Must Check Reports

Mrs. Ann E. Heller, assistant registrar, has requested that students check to see if they are on either probation or dean's list when they get their reports. It will be stated at the bottom of the report, she said.

Students who in any semester make a grade of A in 60 per cent of their classes, with no grades below B, are placed on the dean's list for the following semester and are entitled to unlimited cuts. Grades for physical education and applied music are not considered.

If a student receives two D's, or one F, without a grade of B or better to bring up their average, he is placed on probation. Students on probation may carry no more than 16 hours.

Seniors Meet Tonight At 7:30

An important senior class meeting is scheduled for tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the front library.

The ordering of cards and announcements for the June graduation will be discussed by the group. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the meeting. Seniors are urged to be present.

Booster Club To Present Variety Production Again

"The Lid's Off", the student variety show, is being reproduced by the Booster Club on February 27 and 28 in the Gym. President Eddie Martin announced this week.

The star studded musical comedy met with great success in its original production in January at the Art Students' League carnival.

Martin said the Booster production will be a two hour show with many of the same acts that highlighted the ASL production.

Don Cronan, the director, is whipping up some new acts to lengthen the show and make it better, Martin said.

Don Cronan directed the ASL production.

The show will be presented at McGuire Veterans hospital on February 26 before opening at RPI, Martin said.

Among the acts of the show is the comedy team of Mitch and Church, a quartet composed of Mitch and Chum, Maxie Mason and Karl Hallbrook. Tom Chick, a local radio announcer will serve as master of ceremonies.

Martin said the show is being reproduced because of the widespread requests of those who failed to see the January production. He said that many who saw the other show have requested a desire to see it again.

The fourth postwar RPI Mardi Gras sponsored by the Art Students League, will be held at the Mosque, Saturday, February 17, 9 to 12 p.m.

Newton Thomas' orchestra will furnish the music for the costume dance which is fashioned after the annual Beaux Art ball in New York.

Intermission entertainment consists of a grand march after which the King and Queen of Mardi Gras will be crowned. The Royal couple will be chosen on the basis of the best and most unique costumes.

Judges of the contest will be Mr. Raymond Hodges of the school of Dramatic Art, Mrs. Hazel P. Mundy, of the fashion department, and Mr. R. R. Harrison, of the commercial art department.

Paid members of the Art Students League will be admitted to the dance by card. Non-members may purchase tickets which will be on sale in the SGA office Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. until 1 p.m., and on Saturday, February 17 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Dormitory students who attend the dance will receive 1:30 lates, according to Dr. Johnson.

A floor committee composed of SGA and ASL members will be present to see that SGA dance rules are observed.

The affair is the main project of the league for the school year. The Art Students League was originally composed of members in the school of drama, fashion department, fine art department, commercial art department, and the interior decoration department. The school of music joined the League this year.

"We are pleased to have the school of music to participate in this, their first Mardi Gras. Their talents have showed up admirably and have been a great contribution," commented Vivian Trestrman, president of the ASL.

GERMAN CLUB SETS DUES DEADLINE

German Club dues must be paid by Monday, February 19. Phil Pafford, president of the organization, has announced.

All members are urged to meet this deadline.

Honor Code Violated

"The Men's Honor Council regrets to inform the student body that a student has been dismissed from this school for a violation of the Honor Code, to wit: cheating on an examination"...

This notice was issued this week by the Honor Council. Its serious connotation cannot be ignored or taken flippantly. Cheating is one of the worse breaches of the Honor Code, and although, in this case, it was an individual offense, its implication can mean a more prevalent disrespect for the code.

There will inevitably be cheaters. Some will be caught; some will not. Cheaters are not only confined to colleges but are found in all elements of society. We all get mad when someone, whether he is only in business or in an important administrative or legislative positions, obtains some reward by underhanded methods. We know it's not right and reaffirm our own morals from such situations.

Honesty is something to strive for, and in what better way can we learn it than by exercising it in seemingly small ways. If someone can get away with cheating on an examination, larger things become smaller in perspective.

Actually, dishonesty on examinations is no small matter. Each student signs an honor pledge at the beginning of the year, assuming a positive moral obligation. If the honor pledge is broken, a student's whole moral pattern breaks down. The Honor Code is a serious, working faction in most colleges that adopt the code. One student can break down the machinery, giving the college a bad name.

This is not a new plea. It has been sounded time and time again. But for the benefit of the students themselves and the reputation of the college, the Honor Code must be held more sacred. Some faults may be found with the system now, but if the students show much more respect, they will be corrected in time.

Let's strive for a clean slate on the Honor Council agenda this semester!

Mardi Gras Time

Mardi Gras at RPI is a miniature Beaux Arts Ball. The spirit that goes with large social functions takes on a new high when spiked with costumes, streamers, and confetti. Its resulting frivolity makes for one of the most anticipated events of the school year.

Unique is the word for the Mardi Gras dance, which rolls around this year on Saturday. It has all the earmarks of a professional school, taking its basis from the Beaux Arts Ball sponsored annually by the Art Students League of New York. College groups have been slow to take up the idea, but our own Art Students League parented the event many years ago.

Costume originality is the keynote. Last year's winners were "birds in gilded cages". Previous to this, a "walking abstraction" took the prize. Yet, everything from putty-nosed clowns to wigged Marie Antoinettes find common stamping grounds at the Mosque.

If there is a "spirit of Mardi Gras", it must have arrived on campus. Everywhere, from girls' dormitories to student boarding houses, costumes are taking shape, and anticipation is running high.

RPI Students Can Win $2000 In Essay Contests

By Charles H. Stebbins

There's nearly $2000 cash awaiting literate minded RPI students.

A survey conducted this week by the PROSCRIPT revealed at least three essay contests open to college students. Prizes range from $750 to five dollars for literary efforts from 1000 to 4000 words on a variety of subjects. Closing dates range from May 1 to May 15.

Sponsors of the contests include the Virginia Society of Colonial Dames, the Virginia League for Planned Parenthood, Inc., of Richmond, and the International Circulation Managers' Association of Boston, Mass.

The top award is a $750 scholarship for post graduate work offered by the Circulation Managers' Association. In addition the ICMA will award $250 for a 1000 word essay on any one of three subjects.

1. How Newspaperboy Training Helped Me Go To College, 2. Job Opportunities in Newspaper Circulation, 3. How a Newspaper Circulation Department Benefits the Community. Deadline for this contest is May 10.

The Virginia Society of Colonial Dames is offering $200 for a paper entitled, "James Madison: Father of the Constitution". Length should not exceed 4000 words and the deadline is May 1.

The Virginia League for Planned Parenthood, Inc., of Richmond will award a $100 first prize, a $50 second prize, a third prize of $25 and three honorable mentions of $5 each. The subject should be "Child Welfare and Planned Parenthood." Maximum length is 2000 words and the closing date is May 15.

General opinion of instructors here is that odds in college essay contest are not as great as one may think. Past experience has revealed that only a comparatively few students enter papers for judging in many of the contests.

One professor, attempting to explain the reason for the low number of contributions, said, "Many students pass up essay contests because they feel the preparation of the papers will take too much time from the regular load of their college work".

An RPI student is of the opinion that men and women in college are overlooking a rich field where they may reap fame and financial reward.

BY THE LIGHT OF THE SILVERY MOON—The entire cast of the Booster club's production of the big musical comedy, "The Lid's Off" rendered a snappy ukelale number in one of the acts. The show is being produced on February 27 and 28 in the Gym at 8:30 p.m. The two-hour long variety is based on the highly popular show of the same name presented in January at the Art Student's League Carnival. St. Valentine's Day Is Great Success At RPI

By Charles Stebbens

The great mid-winter event, St. Valentine's Day, roared pass with a swish on Wednesday and left in its wake a scattering of perennial keepsakes calling up the deepest sentiments of love.

According to a rapid check in the halls of RPI, it seems adored ones were showered with trinkets ranging from a penny card to apparel designed to beautify the physique when draped around the head, neck, shoulders or waist.

After the bustle of the event had passed, delighted girls appeared in classes with notebooks overflowing with a variety of cards expressing in gilded verse the staggering messages of the apples of their eyes. Many of them came out with dizzying scarfs and sweaters. A few displayed glittering diamonds.

Nor was the masculine tribe neglected. Men were draped with startling neckpieces in vari-colored patterns. They, too, had their collection of cards.

But everywhere was to be found the downhearted student slumped in a chair gently stroking his forward middle region. This is reminiscent of gooey sweet tidbits that ranged in sizes of one, two and five pounds.

All over is testimony that the event prompted the giving of numerous "will-you-be-my-valentine" gifts—to the delight of local shopkeepers. And it is rumored they hope the love flames will be well kindled until Easter.

RPI Revives Dying Sport Of Fencing

By Joe Ewing

Many students at RPI have asked about the fencing club and what it means.

Fencing is a sport that is just beginning to become popular with men as well as women, although it has been taught at many colleges throughout the country. The RPI group was started in 1948.

Fencing is described as developing muscular coordination. There are three basic schools of fencing; Italian, German and Spanish. The German school uses the saber. The Spanish and Italian use the foil.

The foil is what the club uses at RPI. It consists of: a handle, a guard, and a four sided metal blade about three feet long with a blunt metal tip at the end. The positions used in fencing are the advance, thrust, and the parry. In the advance the fencer balances on the balls of the feet facing sideways and moves forward. In the thrust, the fencer throws his weight completely forward. In the parry he twists his wrist from one side to the other.

In fencing, the foil is held with the thumb on the top part of the handle and the back part of the handle along the inside of the wrist.

String Quartet's Next Concert To Be March 2

Mr. Allen Warner, bassist, and instructor in the Music School will join the quartet in the final selection, "Music For Strings" by Quincy Porter, an American composer.

Final program arrangements have not been completed, according to Mr. Shepherd.

Electricity Set As New Course

The course requires project work to a great degree in order to activate the class and illustrate the principals of physics.

Ray King, a student, has constructed for demonstration purposes two radios. One radio consists of only one tube with no chassis and operates from batteries. WRVA can be picked up by use of ear phones. The other radio contains two tubes and operates a loud speaker.

College Heads Start Debates On Draft Issue

The question of whether college men should or should not be deferred from military service has drawn a number of varied replies from the nation's educational leaders.

The members of Gen. Lewis B. Hershey's advisory committees feel deferment should be granted to superior students.

Some college heads predict that the drop next year may exceed 50 per cent, in contrast to the 15 per cent drop predicted. Such a big dip would put national enrollment back to peacetime figures of 1940-41, figures.

classes required, four Saturday classes will be held on June 23, June 30, July 7, and July 14.

The 1950 summer school session of RPI showed a 11% increase in enrollment over the summer session of 1949. It was the only summer school in the state of Virginia which showed any increase in the number of students enrolled, and was one of the two summer schools in the state which did not show a marked decrease in enrollment.

Devils Down Shipbuilders 69 to 65

RPI's basketball Green, smarting under a nine game string of defeats, snapped the spell with a stunning 69 to 65 triumph over the favored Apprentice School Shipbuilders last Saturday night on the YMCA floor.

Down 35 to 28 at halftime, the Devils unleashed their most furious cage attack of the season in the second half to wipe out the seven point deficit. The Allenmen, staging a 41 point onslaught in the second half, grabbed a 51 to 49 lead at the close of the third period and added two points more to their margin in a see-saw fourth quarter to register their third win of the season.

It was the Devils first cage win over the Shipbuilders in their three year history. The Shipbuilders have won five in the series, their fifth victory being a 78 to 68 affair last month.

Consistently Rapid Bob Tester teamed with Bob Budlove as the Devils' offensive leaders. Tester rimmed 19 points, running his season's total to 193, just 39 points shy of a RPI record. With six games to go Tester is expected to shatter "Booby" Lane's record mark with points to spare. Budlove, playing his best game of the season, canned 17 points. Frank Gerwin, the Green's elongated center, turned in a brilliant game

Coach Allen's up and down courtsters, having some of their "up" moments lately, continue their '51 stretch drive tonight encountering Shenandoah's Hornets on the YMCA floor. The Devils with two more games on their home slate, play Norfolk Division here Saturday night.

The RPI hoop unit, auspicious in their stretch drive opener against the Apprentice School Shipbuilders last Saturday, has kept a watchful eye on this return date with the Hornets. The Hornets, like the Shipbuilders, dumped the Devils in early season play by a commanding margin. The Shipbuilders were seemingly on their way to a second triumph over the Devils last Saturday when the Allenmen came roaring back under a second half 41 point barrage to grab a 69 to 65 verdict.

RPI followers regard the Devils' brilliant second half against the Apprentice quintet as a sign of awakening and are confident that the Devils are a better club than early season scores indicate. The Hornets should provide the test.

Devils In Nightcap Saturday

The Devils meet Norfolk Division in the nightcap of a cage doubleheader Saturday. MCV plays host to Lynchburg in a 7 o'clock scrap and the RPI-Norfolk skirmish is scheduled for 8:30.
