

Work Begun For Building On Franklin

No definite completion date is known, but work has started on RPI's new educational building in the 800 block of West Franklin street.

A building permit for the $264, 322 structure was authorized last week by Richmond Building Commissioner William G. Wharton.

Dean H. H. Hibbs said the uncertainty of delivery dates of needed materials will effect the completion. August has been tentatively set for the delivery of steel, he said.

In an effort to insure that the delivery date will be met, Dr. Hibbs said the National Production Authority will be asked to render aid.

MULTI-PURPOSE

The 77 by 103 foot-multi-purpose building—located at 815 and 817 West Franklin street—will contain a large room on the ground floor which can be used as an assembly room or gymnasium. It will be possible to divide it into smaller rooms by moveable partitions.

The basement will house facilities for teaching industrial arts and occupational therapy.

The rear of the house at 819 West Franklin street, now used as a dormitory, will be torn down to make way for the new building. Students living in the sections slated to be removed have until May 1 to find living quarters elsewhere.

SGA Leader Drury Lyle Is Installed

Drury Lyle, a junior distributive education major, was installed as new president of the 1951-52 Student Government Association last night in installation ceremonies at the regular SGA meeting.

Along with Lyle, the other officers of the new regime and the dormitory house presidents took their oaths of office.

From Keyesville, Va., Lyle has been active in campus activities since his enrollment at RPI. At present, he is a member of the Distributor's club, a junior class officer and a member of the German club.

In the recent SGA election, Lyle headed the CO-OP party which made campus history as the ticket emerged victorious from the race.

The other new officers include, Vivian Trestman, '52, vice president; Lloyd Rogers, '53, secretary; and Jean Dickerson, '54, treasurer.

Separation From W & M Needed For RPI's Growth, Alumna Says

One-Actors To Feature Music, Comedy Tonight

The School of Dramatic Art will take over the gym tonight, starting at 7:30, for a double one-act bill, including a musical presentation.

"It's Show Time", the second offering, will feature hit numbers from recent Broadway musicals such as "Call Me Madam", "Oklahoma", "Kiss Me Kate", "Carousel", and "Annie Get Your Gun". A skit from a recent Broadway revue "Small Wonder" and a dance solo by Bill Clark, former member of the "Oklahoma" touring company, will round out the production.

Noel Coward's "Red Peppers" will be the first on the bill. Directed by Cathy Stampalia, the play is a comedy about backstage people and will feature Joan Faw, Roy Carter, Arthur Greene, Vivian Trestman, and Peter Cannon.

Directed by Charles Cagle, "It's Show Time" is headed by a large cast including: Marjorie Simpson, Warner Callahan, Pansy Donsky, Arthur Greene, Vivian Trestman, Geri Chronowit, Myra

The proposed separation of RPI from William and Mary is a necessity if the college is to grow strong and prominent in its own right, seniors were told last Wednesday by Mrs. Kathleen Bullard, a 1941 graduate and president of the Richmond chapter of the Alumni Association.

In fact, she said, it would be to RPI's benefit to "learn to walk alone" so it will not be subordinated by outside controlling elements.

Mrs. Bullard cited possible dangers that lie ahead for RPI if the separation—backed by the Association—is not carried out.

1. Continued small state appropriation of money for building and expansion.

2. Continued elimination of RPI from the nationally circulated lists of colleges and universities.

She urged that seniors support the Alumni Association and help it become strong so it may boost the growth and prominence of the college. A separation from William and Mary would result in "some loss of prestige," she said, "but RPI must learn to walk alone."

Mrs. Bullard's talk was delivered at a compulsory meeting (Continued on page 4)

Baccalaureate For Graduation Will Be June 10

Baccalaureate services for graduating seniors will be held Sunday, June 10, at 8 p.m., Carson Overton, senior class president has announced.

Services will be held at the Lutheran English Evangelical church, 1605 Monument Ave. R. J. J. Sherer, Jr., pastor of the church, will deliver the baccalaureate speech, Overton said.

The senior class is also sponsoring an old-fashioned "Carolina" barbecue, Sunday, May 20, (Continued on page 6)

Exams Set

Examinations for the second semester will begin Wednesday, May 30 and run through Saturday, June 9.

Classes will be held through May 29, according to Mrs. Ann E. Heller, assistant registrar. Mrs. Heller also said that exams must be scheduled for all classes.

RPI Drama Student Recieves Barter Theater Acting Award

By Terry Anthony

Geraldine S. Chronowit received the feminine award from the Virginia Speech and Drama Association Barter Theater appreciation honors at the final audition held Saturday, April 21, in the RPI gymnasium playhouse.

Miss Chronowit is a senior in the School of Dramatic Art—Appearing in many of the theater associates productions, she has played one season with the Green Mountain Playhouse in Middlebury, Vermont.

Before she enrolled at RPI, Miss Chronowit spent two years as staff actress with the American Forces Network. While in the WAC's, she conducted an entertainment program for the service men in Germany. This included both radio and stage work. She had singing experience over a Maryland radio network while stationed at Fort Meade, Maryland.

Prior to her enlistment in the service, Miss Chronowit attended the University of Pennsylvania. Her home is in Pittsburgh, Pa., where she was active with the Pittsburgh opera group.

TERRIBLY HAPPY

"I was terribly, terribly happy," she said when asked how it felt to be the first RPI student to be adjudged winner of this award.

Dr. Johnson Position Rare In Co-ed School

A woman as Dean of Students in a co-ed college is a rarity even today, and Dr. Margaret L. Johnson is one of the few who holds that title.

The attractive, personable dean seems unimpressed by her rise to a man-sized position. She even laughs when she thinks of her previous work as a dean of men before I. J. Krepick took over in 1945.

In addition to being Dean of Students, Dr. Johnson still continues to be Councillor of Women and the official Registrar. With all her work she even finds time to conduct two language classes.

Coming to RPI in 1930 after she received her A.B. in Latin and Greek from Barnard and her masters in the same from Columbia, Dr. Johnson plunged into an instructorship in French and Latin. Her doctorate in French was completed in 1936 after a leave of absence for one year.

After she came here, it did not take long to realize her administrative abilities, and she was put in charge of the junior college program, advising freshmen and sophomores. About the same time, Dr. Johnson took over the dormitories as Councillor of Women.

Meanwhile, she had taken over the sponsorship of the Wigwam, and in 1937 became advisor to SGA.

Before 1945 when the male enrollment had been as low as 28, Dr. Johnson heard the problems of the few brave men in a girl's college. When the back-from-the-war men started infiltrating RPI, a regular Dean of Men was appointed.

Now, Dr. Johnson is back to advising both men and women in her new capacity. Her office is always well populated with students seeking aid and requests for activities. Her friendly advice has been a boon to SGA presidents and her warm manner an inspiration to students.

LIEUT. GOVERNOR TO BE FEATURED AT DE BANQUET

Lewis Preston Collins, Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia, will be the guest speaker for the annual DE banquet on May 24.

The affair will be held in Ewarts' Cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. It is in honor of Co-Op II and Seniors in DE.

Lack Of Interest

A little over two weeks ago a student assembly was called for the purpose of installing, officially, the new officers for next years SGA leaders. About ten students were present so the affair was called off.

Installation of SGA officers is a solemn and momentous occasion here, but judging from student reaction, it wasn't worth the trouble to even attend.

The event was widely publicized throughout RPI. No one can say truthfully that they did not know that an assembly had been scheduled. The only conclusion is that the student body was not interested enough to deem it necessary to put in an appearance. The general attitude seemed to be, "So What."

In previous years SGA officers and Honor Council representatives were installed at a formal convocation at Pace Memorial church, the same place the student assembly was scheduled. Each year students came to these convocations by the hundreds. But official rolls were not taken, nor was any attempt made to check on the number of students attending. "Compulsory convocation" seemed to be the magic words that drew students.

Perhaps if future SGA officers were to make all assemblies actually compulsory, that is, assign each student a seat and take an official roll in which missing meant a cut, then RPI's convocations or assemblies, as the case might be, would be crowded. It is indeed unfortunate that such action would be necessary, but in view of past experiences, there would be no alternative.

A Good Job

Last night a new student leader came into office. Drury Lyle, who will head the student government for the next year, was handed the gavel by outgoing president Baxter Duffy.

The position of trust was handed over by a president that carried it well. Baxter Duffy not only able performed the duties relegated to the office, but put a spirit of cooperation into the machinery by the formation of executive councils. His term of office saw little controversy. What problems there were were dissolved through his leadership.

The SGA office will have a new habituent. His co-officers are able, and the students are behind him. How he will administer is yet to be seen, but to his predecessor we offer, "a good job, Baxter Duffy."

"SPRING AT R.P.I."

Rules Posted For Student Sunbathers

Dr. Margaret L. Johnson, dean of students, has announced the following rules concerning sunbathing on Founder's Hall roof:

1. All students must stay within the rails of the roof.
2. Use the Shafer street door and steps of the cafeteria to and from the roof.
3. Girls must wear raincoats going and coming from the roof.
4. Students must not go on the floors or in the rooms of those students living in Founder's hall.
5. No Coca-Cola bottles are to be left on the roof.
6. All trash must be placed in waste baskets.
7. No yelling to and from students who are on the roof.
8. If a student is needed who is on the roof, another student (girl) must go after her. No phone calls are permitted.
9. Students will be permitted to sunbathe on Sunday mornings provided they keep out of sight. The first time this rule is broken, this privilege will be taken away.

Freshman Class Cards Required

Freshmen who do not have their class cards are urged to get them at the meeting May 3.

Johnnie Kloss, president, stated that members lacking these cards will not be admitted to the May Day Dance. Those who cannot attend the meeting may obtain their cards from one of the following: Emily Fugett, Mary Jane Coverston, Jean Edmundston, Wylene Smith, Nancy Dyer, Liz Cather, or Tommie Hopkins.

Students who have been invited to take part in the May Day figure must reply by May 7.

Cello Program To Be Staged Next Wednesday

The first cello recital in the history of RPI's music school will be presented May 8 at 8:30 p.m. by Mr. Efrim Fruchtman, cello and theoretical subjects instructor here.

A program, from ancient music by Pergolesi to modern by Hindemith, will be presented to the Women's club of Richmond at 211 E. Franklin st., Mr. Volney Shepard, piano accompanist for Mr. Fruchtman, and director of the School of Music here, said.

He was graduated from the Juilliard School of Music before entering North Carolina university where he received his masters degree. He joined the music faculty here in February.

While at the university he was a member of the faculty quartet and North Carolina symphony orchestra.

Students and faculty will be admitted free to the recital.

Opening Date For "Shrew" Is Changed

The production dates of "The Taming of the Shrew" have been changed to May 16, 17, and 18.

Imogene Cowan, graduate student director of the Shakespeare play, found the original dates of May 8, 9, and 10 too early to complete the staging.

"The Taming of the Shrew" is a play within a play. Geri Chronowit and Charles Cagle, as the leading characters, will unfold the conquering of a wife's temper by the husband's outburst of outlandish temper tantrums.

RPI Faculty, Students, Represented At Virginia Art Museum Exhibit

Thirty-eight of the 111 artists represented at the 13th biannual art exhibit of Virginia Artist's work, were students, teachers or former students of the RPI School of Art.

The exhibit opened with a reception and preview at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, Friday, April 27.

Out of 933 works submitted, 168 works by 111 artists were selected.

Over half of the artists submitting graphic arts were from RPI and one-third of those submitting crafts were from RPI.

Of the 45 Richmonders who were accepted for the exhibition, 27 attended or formerly attended RPI and 22 of these are members of the Linden Gallery.

The works were selected by a jury composed of two well-known American artists, Stuart Davis and Peppino Mangravite and the director of the Corcoran Gallery of Art in Washington, Hermann Wilkins.

RPI ARTISTS

Richmond artists whose works will be on display in the Virginia Artists 1951 exhibit include the following from RPI: Ross Abrams, Robert N. Adams, Josephine Arcano, Wolfgang Behl, Marilyn Downes, Lewis Buck, Jeanne Begien Campbell, Margaret B. Curry, Jack Davidson, Jean M. Dawson, and Major Quiller Huf.

Others include Hope Jackson, Ward Jackson, George Karney, Beatrice T. Klein, Iris Kritzil, Ruth Henson McWane, Teresa Pollak and Fletcher Proctor.

Also, Charles Renick, Edna C. Rex, T. Kenneth Rowe, Joan Scott, Raymond E. Spain, George Speck, Shirley Stairs, Robert Willis and Nora Wilson.

The jury has recommended a number of the works on exhibition for purchase. Among those from RPI whose works were recommended are: Lewis Buck, Laurel Garlette Trego, Ross Abrams and Wolfgang Behl.

Talks By Leading Authorities Open On Foreign Policy, Religion, Music

Lecture-discussions on foreign policy, religion and world music, by three leading authorities will open to the public on May 8, 9, and 10, Mr. William Bowden, director of the Evening college announced today.

The lectures on foreign policy and religion will be held at the Glasgow house, 1 W. Main street starting at 8 p.m. The talk on music can be heard at 4 p.m. at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts.

Dr. Selby Vernon McCasland, professor of religion at the University of Virginia, will speak on "The Role of Hinduism in India's Struggle for Freedom", Tuesday, May 8th.

The following night at 8 p.m., Dr. William Alexander Malby, professor of history and government at Randolph-Macon, will lecture on the subject "Can The United Nations Provide Collective Security?"

A lecture devoted to world music in change will appear on the program Thursday afternoon at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts.

This will mark the first of a series of music lectures to be given by Mr. Edgar Schenkman, conductor and director of the Norfolk symphony and choral association.

Diamond Nine Elects Fisher, Tester Co captains Of 1951 Baseball Squad

By Winston Overton

While visiting Lynchburg college the past week for a return game with the Hornets, RPI's 1951 diamond squad elected James 'Jim' Fisher and Robert 'Rapid' Tester co-captains for the remainder of the current baseball season.

Tester hails from Pulaski, Va. and is a junior majoring in architectural drafting.

Fisher is a product of Roanoke Rapids, N. C. and a junior majoring in journalism. He was sports editor of the PROSCRIPT in '50.

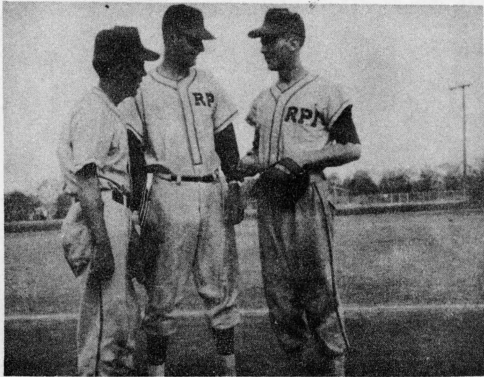

Fisher began playing baseball with the Green Devils in the spring of '49 under coach Bob Reese and has been a regular ever since, holding down the 'hot spot' of the diamond third base. He hit a lofty .322 in '49 with 19 hits for 59 trips to the plate. Included among the 19 hits were a pair of doubles and a home run.

Fisher was elected captain of the '50 diamond squad.

Tester began his diamond activities at RPI in '50 playing short stop for the Devil nine. He has lettered in basketball for two years and has been an active member of the Monogram club. He scored 200 points for the '51 Devil court five for second place honors.

ONE AND TWO ON STICK PARADE

Fisher and Tester finished one and two on the '50 Stick Parade both shattering the miracle .400 mark. Fisher was top hitter of the season with 19 hits for 44 trips to the plate for a .432 per centage. Fisher had six doubles, a triple a home run and was credited with Coach Ed Allen, center, and recently elected co-captains, Jim Fisher and Bob Tester, discuss the favorable results of the RPI-Medical college game which the Devils took in stride 29 to 7. Fisher and Tester were elected by the '51 diamond squad last week.

Hapless Devils Are Host To Wilson This Afternoon

RPI Wins Match Over ATS, 4-1

RPI's tennis team won a match by 4-1, over Apprentice Training school on April 20.

All three single matches were taken by RPI players and one of the two double matches.

Players winning the singles were: Betty Palmer, number one player for the home team; Barbara Ennor, second position player.

The number one double match was won by RPI's Vivian Easter-

Coach Ed Allen's hapless Green Devils, plagued by their most severe case of loseitis in three years, will be seeking a cure for the bugaboo this afternoon when they entertain Wilson Teachers College on Parker Field at 2:30.

A win over Phil Fox's nine would give the Shafer square Green a double dose of the cure-all. First, a victory would snap a two game losing habit and better the Devils not-so-impressive 2-7 record. Second, the Devils would avenge the 4 to 2 licking administered by Wilson two weeks ago.

In the clubs first meeting April 19, fireman Bill Hatchett spun a lustrous two hitter against Wilson but saw the brilliance of his moundwork fade as the Teachers, getting maximum mileage on Devil errors, grabbed a 4 to 2 verdict.

Coach Allen may give Hatchett a second crack at the Teachers this afternoon or either call on sidearmer "Butch" Sadler, who has notched both Devils wins thus far.

Devils Win 29 to 7 Over Medical College Behind Butch Sadler

Devils Win 29 to 7 Over Medical College Behind Butch Sadler

The Green Devils, suffering from a quartet of consecutive losses, bounded into the win column on April 25 with a 29 to 7 stomping of the Medical College of Virginia nine at Parker Field.

The local nine scored freely throughout the seven inning tilt except the initial frame and hopped four MCV hurlers for a grand total of 20 hits.

Locals Downed Twice In Row By 6 5 Count

The Devils dropped two consecutive games on April 27 and 28 by the slim margin of one run, 6 to 5.

On the 27th they lost to William and Mary's Norfolk Division in Norfolk and returned to Parker Field the next day to drop an eleven inning affair to the Langley Flyers.

Ed Taylor went the route for the Devils against the Division nine and limited the Norfolkmen to eight hits—all singles. Taylor walked six and fanned six Division stickmen.

Clyde Harding, RPI catcher, was the big stickman of the day with a home run and a single for two trips to the plate.

Big Bill Hatchett hurled seven hit ball against Langley Field, but Flyer left fielder Chester Owens hit for the circuit in the top-half of the eleventh inning with one teammate aboard to insure the Flyers victory in their season's opener.

John Creighton, Flyer first sacker, and T. C. Hill, RPI right fielder, were the day's heavy hitters. Creighton accounted for four of the Flyer's seven hits with a double and three singles for five trips to bat. Hill had a trio of singles for three times at bat.

Butch Sadler, who hurled the Devils to their only other victory of the young season over the University of Richmond Frosh, went the route for the Allenmen limiting RPI's cross-city rival's stickmen to eight hits. Sadler fanned seven MCV batters and walked four in claiming his second win in two starts this season.

Mel Moore led the massive hitting attack for the Devils with a four bagger and a trio of singles for five trips to the plate. Moore was credited with seven runs batted in and scored four times himself.

Bill Smith, Devil second-sacker, had a perfect day at the plate with a home run and double for two trips at bat. Smith received credit for a pair of stolen bases.

Other Devil hitters for the day were Jim Fisher with a triple and two singles and Bill Stacia and Butch Sadler with three singles apiece.

Ed McCauley hit for the circuit for the Devils in the fifth and Bob Tester doubled in same frame for the winners.

Bob Anderson and Vic Matney hit homers for the Medical College nine.

Maurice Buckner Re-Elected As President Of DE Club

Maurice Buckner was re-elected president of the DE club at the regular monthly meeting held April 25 in the chemistry building.

Buckner served as vice-president of the club last year until George Lyle, the president, left for service. He then became president.

Other officers elected at the meeting are: vice-president, Rona Baker; secretary, Mary Carolyn Jones; treasurer, Eleanor Zehmer; parliamentarian, Pat Vint; master at arms, Bill Moody; and SGA representative, Bruce Donlan.

The officers will be installed at the annual banquet of the DE club May 24.

Race tracks are the biggest single source of income taxes in Singapore and Malaya.

CO-CAPTAINS (from p. 5)

14 RBI's. Tester was second with 20 hits for 47 times at bat for a .426 average. Tester racked up five doubles, a pair of triples, three home runs and 26 RBI's.

At present both still hold the same positions on the Stick Parade of '51, among the regulars. Fisher is number one with a .370 average and Tester second with .286. This includes the Medical college game on April 25.

RPI WINS (from p. 5)

ling and Helen McRorie. Janice Steele and Catherine Kieth were defeated by ATS's Jane McAtee and Ann Arnold, in the second double match.

RPI will play matches at Lynchburg college tomorrow.

Two Club Constitutions Approved

Constitutions of the ASI and the OT club were accepted by SGA, April 11.

The constitutions were among several submitted to the SGA executive committee for revision and reworking in the drive to complete all club constitutions.

Under the recommendation of Baxter Duffy, former SGA president, it was written into the minutes of the SGA meeting that the OT club is to be commended on the scope and contents of their constitution.
