

May Queen Title Sought By 5 Coeds

Five senior girls, Judy Beall, Betsy Holt, Janet Bond, Sally Nicar and Karen Harshbarger have petitioned for May Queen. One other girl was expected to enter the race before the petition deadline yesterday.

The May Queen will be elected during registration, February 1. Voting tables will be set up and pictures of the candidates displayed.

Judy is a 21-year-old costume design major from Myrtle Beach, S. C.; Betsy, 23, is a drama major from Princeton, S. C.; Janet, 22, from Selma, N. C., majors in commercial art; Sally, 21, a fashion illustration major and Karen, 21, a major in arts and crafts, are from Richmond.

Each girl has submitted a petition carrying the signatures of 25 students.

The queen will reign over a 12-girl court of class sweethearts and attendants at the May Dance sponsored by the freshman class.

May Queen elections are sponsored by the senior class.

Lot to Be Recreation Area

By Fred Bonavita

Two of the major needs of RPI as outlined in Dr. George J. Oliver's installation speech as Provost have been inaugurated.

Dr. Oliver disclosed this week that the temporary parking area next to the Shafer Street Theater would soon be closed to make way for an outdoor recreation area.

He said also that a director of public relations has been named.

No date has been set for closing the parking area and the adjoining alley or for pouring the concrete. Work will be started when weather permits.

He said that permission to close the alley had been granted by City Council. "I don't know of anything more difficult than trying to close an alley around here," he added.

Edwards Appointed

Named to the public relations position was William O. Edwards, a native Richmonder and a former staff writer with the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Mr. Edwards was graduated from the University of Missouri School of Journalism and has a BA and an MA degree. He is married to the former Miss Mary Yeaman, who graduated from RPI in 1941.

He has been named to the staff of the School of Business, where he will develop a program for management and supervisory train-

Registration Set For Day Students On February 1

By Hugh Brown III

Day school students will complete registration for the spring semester on February 1.

Students whose names begin with A-M will register in the gym from 8:30 a.m. until noon and the remainder from 1 until 4 p.m.

Mrs. Ethel B. Riebe, registrar, whose new pre-registration system was tried here for the first time last fall, said that approximately 1,800 day students are expected to complete registration for the spring semester.

Although the preregistration system has eliminated part of the registration process—primarily by giving students an opportunity to tentatively enroll in classes prior to registration day—quite a bit of work has to be completed on February 1.

Registration Process

To complete registration, students must: (1) have their advisors sign the yellow registration card, (2) fill out class and schedule cards, (3) go through the line leading to the different class tables and (4) check out at the registrar's table.

"It is imperative," Mrs. Riebe said, "that students be ready to check out when they come to the registrar's table. In order for registration to be completed in one day all forms will have to be filled out properly."

Mrs. Riebe said that registration instructions will be mailed to students prior to February 1. She said that she thought some of the confusion could be eliminated if students had an opportunity to read the instruction before registration. Previously, registration instruction have been attached to the schedule and class cards and other forms which students receive at the beginning of registration day.

Some of the delays in last fall's registration process were caused by students not having their class cards filled out exactly like the registration card, Mrs. Riebe indicated.

She added that the Business students, who do not usually go through the lines to the class tables, will have to do so on February 1 if they want to vote in the May Queen election.

Tuition Raised, Effective In September

Tuition fees at RPI have been increased, and will be effective next September.

The Board of Visitors of the College of William and Mary last Saturday approved raises of $60 per year for Virginia students and $70 for out-of-state students. Fees at RPI will total $350 for state students and $540 for students from other states.

The board also confirmed appointment of William R. O'Connell Jr. as acting dean of students. Mr. O'Connell, who is also dean of men, was named to the former position last semester when the late Dean Margaret L. Johnson became ill.

Mrs. Jane B. Gladding was named acting dean of women to succeed Dr. Johnson in that position.

Dr. George J. Oliver, RPI Provost, said that the increased tuition fees would be used to cover faculty salary increases and for campus improvements. Details were not disclosed.

William and Mary was the eighth Virginia school to vote tuition increases. The University of Virginia, VPI and other institutions announced tuition increases last spring—effective last September.

Dance to Be Held For Heart Fund

It was revealed last week by Bob Buchanan, Student Government Association president, that an informal dance will be held in February for the benefit of the Heart Fund.

Other plans are incomplete and will be announced later.

Education Group To Propose New Position of Chancellor

Establishment of the office of chancellor of the College of William and Mary and its branches was recommended Monday by the State Council on Higher Education.

The position would handle the over-all administration of RPI, W&M and the Norfolk branch, thereby relieving the president of the Williamsburg school of a heavy responsibility.

James M. Robertson of Norfolk, director of the board of visitors, said that the 11-member board had informally agreed to the plan in principle.

Under terms of the proposal, the president of W&M and the Provosts of RPI and the Norfolk division would be responsible for the administration of their respective institutions, and they would report directly to the chancellor. The chancellor would then report to the board of visitors.

Now, both Provosts report directly to Alvin Duke Chandler, President of the College of William and Mary. Enrollments here and at Norfolk are greater than at W&M.

The State agency further recommended that the three schools be known collectively as the Colleges of William and Mary and proposed an increase in the board of visitors' strength to not more than 15.

The Williamsburg school would retain its original title, the College of William and Mary in Virginia. RPI and the Norfolk branch would continue for the present under their present titles also.

The council said that the office of chancellor should be independent of any institution in the system but readily accessible to any school within it.

Dr. William H. McFarlane, director of the state agency, said that the administration change proposals would require special legislation from the General Assembly, which convened Wednesday. He said the legislation would be introduced during the current session.

Among the advantages of the system, as cited by Dr. McFarlane, was the freeing of W&M to develop normally as a strong liberal arts college.

'59 Review

This was 1959.

September—Dr. George J. Oliver took office as RPI's second Provost. Dr. H. H. Hibbs retired as Provost after 42 years of service.

Enrollment increased. The day school lost a few students, down to 2,108, but the night school increased enrollment to 2,255.

October—Two changes in the administrative office. Mr. William R. O'Connell, dean of men, was named acting dean of students to succeed the late Dr. Margaret Johnson. Mrs. Jane B. Gladding was named acting dean of women.

Mr. and Mrs. Rat, chosen in October, were Bob Hill and Dee Dee Bishop.

"The Kids" by Charles Best, the drama department's first major production of the year, was a success.

November—Dr. Margaret Johnson who had served RPI for 28 years, first as a teacher and later as dean of students, died of cancer. A memorial scholarship fund was started to honor her.

"Certainly this is in line with the wishes of Dr. Johnson," said Dean O'Connell about the fund. "It was always her wish that everyone who wanted a college education should have one."

The Cotillion Club was reinstated. Organized for women students at RPI the club had been suspended in early 1959 because of drinking at a social function.

December—Dr. Oliver was installed as Provost. He outlined a five-point policy for expansion and service. Money-wise, the SGA Scholarship drive went $300 over its goal of $1,500.

RPI again played in the Seafood Tournament in Massachusetts. The boys' team lost, but their basketball queen, Iris Volkman, won the title of Queen of the Tournament.

Don't forget 1959—

Cheating

How many students will cheat on exams next week? Will cheating here reach an alarming 40 per cent high as in colleges across the nation?

An article in this week's Saturday Evening Post reveals some startling facts and figures. These facts are shocking in print, but are generally accepted among students; for cheating continues even while awe-inspiring honor systems are supposedly efficiently disposing of wrong doers.

We deplore the trend at colleges where cheating is becoming the accepted practice, where professors wink and shrug their learned shoulders.

That this extreme situation exists at RPI, is doubtful, but we must keep the thought in mind that it could.

LETTER

To the Editor

Dear Editor:

The Student Council wishes to express its thanks for your editorial in the December 10, 1959, edition of the Proscript, which describes the eminent problem in the campaign to clean up the Rotunda.

In this editorial, entitled "An Empty Threat," it is stated that the Student Council has deferred action on a proposal to close the Rotunda if improvements are not made. However, it will be noted in both the minutes of the Student Council meetings and the November 19, 1959, Proscript (Anne Fitch-ett: "Close the Rotunda," Says Council) that this is not a proposal to close the Rotunda, but a proposal to recommend to the Administration that the Rotunda be closed. Student Council fully realizes that it has no ultimate jurisdiction in the matter.

Each member of the Student Council hopes that the entire student body will assist in the forthcoming clean-up campaign in order that the Rotunda may continue to offer its services and pleasures.

Sincerely,

Student Council

Sweethearts Nominated

Thirty candidates for class sweethearts, sponsored by the "Cobblestone," have been nominated by three classes. The sophomore class had not selected its contestants in time for publication this week.

The ten coeds from each class will be narrowed to five in mid-February by a student committee. A faculty committee will then select three from each group to serve in the May Queen court.

Seventeen of the contestants are pictured on page 8.

'Sorry, Wrong Number'

Kenzie Gives Superb Performance

By Virginia Gibson

Two one-act plays opened 1960 for the drama department last Thursday night in the Studio Theater.

Marian Kenzie gave a memorable and suspenseful performance in "Sorry, Wrong Number".

Her few muffled beginning lines can be attributed to the enormity of the role of Mrs. Stephens. Marian carried the irritated invalid aptly from a murder plot heard on the telephone into mounting hysteria.

The aid of technically inefficient operators and the police were sought to no avail. Ultimately, she realized in panic the victim was herself. The killer stabbed; chilling screams came from a darkened stage; a flashlight flickered, revealing the inert body. An answer to the ringing telephone—"Sorry, wrong number."

The show was Marian, but other cast members gave creditable performances in their small parts. They were Sharon Godsey, Betsy Holt, Genevra Bell, Julia Field, Woody Eney, Ken West, Rike Bauer, John Wilson, Peter Morrison and Walter McGee. Robert G. Buchanan directed.

The second one act was a Japanese comedy in verse, "A Flower of Yedda," adapted from the French by Victor Mapes and directed by Jay Dunn.

Stanley Soble was up to par as the witty poet, Kami. Flirtatious Sainara, to whom Kami dedicated his heart and poetry, was amusing but rather nauseatingly overdone by Jean Biddle.

Mary Sue Breckenridge and Betty Box were satisfactory in their tasks to test Kami's love, honor and courage.

The last one-act plays of the semester, "The Lesson" and "Look Homeward, Angel" will be given tonight at 7:30 in the Studio Theater.

Work on Annual Progresses; Distribution Planned May 20

Staff members of the Cobblestone have finished planning the annual and are beginning to write the material for it. Tentative date for the annual to come out is May 20, according to Marion Kenzie, editor.

The major work of the staff now is to set up the schedule to take organization pictures. The secretary of each organization has been asked to write a summary of the activities of her organization.

A faculty committee has chosen the cover for the annual from a group of covers designed by advertising design students of the commercial art department. The covers were on display in the Administration building before Christmas.

Questioned about the production schedule of the Cobblestone, Marion Kenzie, said, "I'm sure we'll always be behind. I'll never rest easy 'till I get my book in my hand."

Final Issue

This is the last edition of the Proscript this semester. The next issue will be published on February 11.

Harp Instruction To Be Offered In Music School

For the first time in nearly 11 years, the RPI School of Music is offering lessons in harp. Teaching the instrument is Miss Lucia Claff, harpist with the Richmond Symphony.

Miss Claff has taught at Oberlin College in Ohio, where she gained her degree, and in Boston, Mass. While in Ohio, she was a member of the Contemporary Music Orchestra, the Musical Union and the Opera Laboratory Orchestra. She has also appeared in TV and ballet productions in the Boston area, both as soloist and as a member of an ensemble.

Paintings Displayed

Paintings by six commercial design students are on exhibit in the Shafer Street Playhouse. All six students, whose works vary in abstract styles, are from Mr. Jewett Campbell's sophomore class.

Graduate Exhibits Work in New York

Ten paintings by commercial design Instructor James A. Bumgardner will be exhibited at a one-man show this spring in New York City.

Mr. Bumgardner, who studied under Hans Hoffman at Provincetown, Mass., and won three top awards for his "Owl" paintings in the 1959 Virginia Artists Exhibition at the Virginia Museum, will have his paintings exhibited at the Fleischman Gallery.

A recent RPI graduate, he started painting and drawing landscapes and still lifes at the age of 6 in his home town of Winston-Salem.

Art Exhibit

Drawings and sketches by four junior and senior commercial design students are on exhibit in the second floor hall of Shafer Street Playhouse.

Johnson Scholarship Fund
Now Contains $1,120

The Dean Johnson Scholarship Memorial Fund now contains $1,120.35.

The largest single contribution has come from the SGA Executive Committee, which gave $700 and recommended that Johnson scholarships be awarded for academic achievement.

Other contributions include a $100 gift from the freshman class and a $50 contribution from Founders hall. Contributions have also come from various school groups, clubs and interested individuals in Richmond.

"Several teachers have made gifts," said Dean William O'Connell, "and one student, who works at the school, turned over her entire week's pay to the fund."

At present, the fund is inoperative and plans are being considered for investment of the fund, as is the policy of many other colleges.

Contributions to the fund may be made by anyone.

Mid-Winters
Scheduled
February 13

The Mid-Winters formal dance will be held at the Mosque, February 13, from 9 to midnight, according to Bill Ayers, junior class president.

Music for this annual junior class affair will be supplied by the Bob Post Band. The theme is secret, but it was disclosed that there will be a Ring Figure.

There will be no admission fee, but class dues must have been paid by those who attend, Ayers said.

Ayers reminded students that any who does not attend RPI must be accompanied by an RPI student and must present a guest bid. Bids may be obtained from the Student Government Association Office on February 11 and 12.

Therapy Exam
Is Scheduled

Ten students in clinical training will take the American Occupational Therapy Association national registration examination here on January 28.

All except three of last year's graduates of the O.T. Department will take the exam. Other college graduates will also take the exam here.

The O.T. Club plans to give a tea following the examination.

'Scrapbook ...'
Is Presented by Fashion Students

"Scrapbook of Fashions" was presented by students of the Fashions Trends class yesterday in the Shafer Street Playhouse.

The fashion show, jointly sponsored by Miss Mary L. Wellman's class and the School of Distribution, was part of a class project, which included the program itself and individual scrap-books by each class member.

Approximately 46 students, of whom 25 were from other departments, took part in the show. The volunteers did the modeling of their own clothes, while members of the class were primarily concerned with production work.

Miss Wellman said that the project was not actually to increase the individual's knowledge of current fashions, but was to teach them how to do a project.

Council Postpones
Clean-up Drive

Student Council at its regular meeting Wednesday, January 6, postponed action again on a proposed clean-up campaign for the Rotunda. Plans were made to display posters and napkins printed with clean-up slogans at the beginning of the new semester.

In a meeting before Christmas, Council had planned to start the campaign the first of January. The decision to postpone came when Council was told it would be several weeks before the napkins could be printed. Since this would be about exam time, the first of February was given as the starting date.

A wire sculpture by Margaret Jones, senior art education major, is on exhibition in the Franklin Street Gallery. Although Margaret is from Gloucester she plans to teach in the Richmond area after graduation.

Cooking Class

Coeds Teach 15 Girls

By Barbara Corbett

Take two coeds, Karilene Kruse and Harriet Morris, add a kitchen and some willing hands, mix well with 15 little girls and you have a most unusual recipe.

Both Harriet (or Pinky as she prefers to be called) and Karilene are junior social science majors.

As part of their field work at Powhatan Community Center they teach a group of girls, aged 7-12, the fundamentals of cooking.

"We help the girls prepare simple menus and then they carry them out, right through eating the food and washing dishes," explained Karilene.

"We divide the group so that everyone is not doing the same thing at the same time," said Pinky.

"For example, some set the table, some cook and some clean up afterwards. We rotate these groups so the girls don't lose interest by having to do the same thing all the time."

Karilene, 20, is a native of West Point and a graduate of West Point High School. She transferred to RPI from Madison College in her sophomore year.

Pinky is from Hot Springs and is also 20.

"I just wanted to help people," she said simply.

"I would like to teach elementary school, but it would have to be about fourth-grade level so I could teach math, one of my favorite subjects," she said.

Both girls have a number of hobbies.

"I like to sew and of course I like to cook," said Karilene.

Professor Ralph E. Green, director of the physics department of the VPI extension, demonstrates a Van De Graaff Generator. The experiment shows the effect of the electrostatic field on charged nylon filaments. A rubber belt within the lucite tube carries charges from the base to the sphere. The resulting accumulation of charges produces a high voltage between the sphere and base. Charged particles released within the sphere are accelerated toward the base by the electrostatic field. These particles strike the target element placed in the base thus producing transmutation of the atoms in the target element and also producing artificial radioactivity. The Van De Graaff Generator is used in modern laboratories as an "atom smasher."

Mozart Trio Appears Here

In a concert sponsored by RPI's Accidental Club Tuesday night, The Mozart Trio performed 16 works of Mozart, some rarely heard by audiences in this country.

The Trio consisted of Mr. John Yard and Mr. Joseph Collins, both baritone, and Miss Lee Meredith, soprano and former student of RPI instructor George Harris.

The group was organized several years ago when all three were members of the Pittsburgh Opera Society. With Mozart's lesser-known works as its specialty, the Trio has been widely acclaimed for its contribution to the advancement of vocal music in this country and abroad.

Glen O'Connell, program chairman for the Accidental Club, said that sponsoring the Mozart Trio concert was "a good experience in the organization of the club," and that it has given them an indication of the amount of support that the community will give to such a venture.

There are tentative plans to sponsor another such concert by a different professional group next April or May.

This dance will be the Cotillion Club's first since reinstated by the administration in November.

The club's constitution was presented to the Student Government Association executive council Tuesday for re-entry in the SGA and was expected to be approved.

Moffett Moyer Jr.

Directs Choir From Coke Crate

By Joan Robertson

Take the choir of a very old church. Add the talent of a very young choir director. The result in the case of Moffett Moyer Jr. is very good music.

Moyer, a tall, husky music education major who looks more like a bouncer than a choir director, is minister of music at Taylorsville Baptist Church in Ashland. The church is 118 years old and served as a Confederate hospital during the Civil War. It was founded in 1841 and some of the tombstones in the church cemetery are so old the inscriptions are illegible.

Moyer doesn't have much time to notice the tombstones. He finds that the 350 members of the church keep him busy.

"I direct three choirs in the church and teach piano and voice to 15 pupils," he said. "If you don't think that's hectic, just try it!"

In addition to the adult choir which has 25 members, Moffett also directs a junior choir for pre-teens and early teens and a cherub choir for children 2 to 5.

Choir directing is not unusual among RPI students. At least 15 students from the music department direct church choirs.

However, Moyer is unique in one respect. He's the only choir director in Virginia who directs from a Coke crate. "I couldn't get anybody to build me a podium," he explained.

Moyer, who is from Silver Springs, Md., sings twice a month at the early service of a Richmond Methodist church, then rushes to Ashland. He directed a choir at a Methodist church here until he took his present job a year ago.

Moyer finds that directing choirs takes a lot of time, but he feels that the experience is valuable. After graduation, he plans to teach and direct choirs in public school.

"And besides, a fellow's got to do something to pay his way through school," he said.

He also sings in the RPI chorale and plays trumpet in the concert band. In his spare time, for the past three years, he has been scoutmaster of a Boy Scout troop.

"I don't have them singing yet," he said.

Recipe

"but I also enjoy all kinds of sports."

She has another project under way at present, helping with a Girl Scout troop every Thursday at the William Byrd Community Center.

"I like to sew and cook, too," Pinky said, "but I like to hunt, fish, and play tennis and golf just as much. I haven't played football in a while, though," she added.

These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill in and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

14 Costa Ricans Visit Here

Fourteen Costa Ricans visited RPI Tuesday under the sponsorship of the Richmond Community Ambassador Project of the Experiment in International Living.

After having lunch in the cafeteria with Dean O'Connell and several other faculty members the group took a tour of the campus.

The group, consisting of professors and graduate students, came to the United States with the specific purpose of visiting elementary schools to learn about their methods of teaching.

Recital Planned

The School of Music will present a student recital this Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in room 203 of the Hibbs Building. The program will feature both instrumental and vocal selections and will be open to the public.

ing for industry. He said that the target date for opening this new phase is early in the spring.

Mr. Edwards, noting that industry had expressed a need for this type of program, said that he also will expand the link between the school and industry.

In his inauguration speech, Dr. Oliver said that among the programs which he wanted to see developed was a "systematic and effective program of public relations" and added this week that he considers this program "one of the more important things to be done here now."

Parking Area

Returning to the closing of the parking area, Dr. Oliver said "Parking (around the campus) bothers me.

"I don't know what to do," he continued. "The only way to get (parking space) is to buy a building and tear it down."

He explained that the area behind the 828 Park ave. dormitory would be leveled and that a concrete surface would be poured.

"There is nothing to prevent the laying of the concrete. Our plans have been approved, and it will be done as soon as the weather opens. We hope to have it done by next semester."

All other sections of English 201 and all sections of English 102, 202, and 313 will be held at the times provided on the regular schedule. Examinations not otherwise provided for will be held at regularly scheduled times.

Intramural Basketball League Completes First Week's Play

By Bill Jamerson

The Steve Peoples' All-Stars, 712 Franklin Dorm, the German Club, the Day Students League and the Monogram Club each posted wins last week in the first week of play in the intramural basketball league.

The Steve Peoples' All-Stars, led by Marvin Russell's 20 point performance, trounced Lafayette Dorm 69 to 21. The All-Stars had too much height and speed for the boys from Lafayette as they rolled to a 16-0 lead at the end of the first quarter and 30-5 at the half.

712 Wins

Wednesday night, 712 Franklin Dorm placed four men in double figures as they defeated the Distributors Club 49-31. Wayne Davis and Melvin Steele led the Dormitory in scoring with 12 points each. Bill Thompson and Bobby Edwards had 11 and 10 points, respectively, for 712 Franklin.

Bob Kimmery of the Distributors Club was high scorer of the game with 13 points.

That same night the German Club came from behind to defeat the Journalism five, 42-29. The Journalism team, led by Tom Weedon and Larry Prentice was in the lead at the quarter 10-8. In the middle of the second quarter the Journalism team piled up a 16-8 lead, but the German Club cut the margin to 21-18 at half-time.

At the beginning of the second half the German Club started a fast-breaking offense, led by Bill Owensby, and went ahead, 30-27. In the last quarter, the German Club increased its lead as the Journalism five could tally only one basket. Weedon was the game's high scorer with 18 points. Owensby and Clifton led the German Club with 17 and 12 points respectively. Ronnie Yaffe chipped in 10 points for the winners.

Engineers Lose

Thursday night, the Day Students placed four men in double figures as they led the Engineers all the way, to win 61-29. Bill Genier led the scorers with 18 points. Herb Morehouse, Bob Melton and Jack Heinemann tallied 16, 14 and 13 points each. Mickey Haller led the losers with 11 points.

In the late game Thursday night, the Monogram Club, using a tight zone defense, defeated Robin's Rapid Runners 42-33. The Monogram Club's defense forced the Rapid Runners to take outside shots which they missed. The Monogram Club was led by Don Kloske and Tom Keayns, who scored 12 points apiece. The Runners were led by Moe Tayler, who also scored 12 points.

Do You Think for Yourself?

(THROW THESE QUESTIONS INTO THE POT AND SEE WHAT COOKS*)

If your studies led you to believe you could strike oil by drilling a hole right in the middle of the campus, would you (A) keep still about it so people wouldn't think you were nuts? (B) sell stock in the proposition to all your friends? (C) get an oil man interested in the idea, even if you had to give him most of the profits?

A ☐ B ☐ C ☐

"A watched pot never boils" means (A) the man who made such a statement never watched a pot; (B) if you don't want the stew to boil over—watch it! (C) you can't hurry things by worrying about them.

A ☐ B ☐ C ☐

If you saw a girl perched up in a tree reading a book, would you say, (A) "Timber!" (B) "Is the light better up there?" (C) "Will that branch hold two?"

A ☐ B ☐ C ☐

Assuming cigarettes could talk, would you listen to (A) a filter cigarette that talks only about its taste? (B) a weak-tasting cigarette that talks about its filter? (C) a filter cigarette that lets its advanced filter design and full taste speak for themselves?

A ☐ B ☐ C ☐

Next time you light up, take a moment to think about what you really want in your filter cigarette. Most men and women who think for themselves choose VICEROY.

the cigarette with the most advanced filter design of them all . . . the one cigarette with a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

*If you checked (B) in three out of four of these questions, you're a pretty smart cooky—but if you checked (C), you think for yourself!

Devils Split Pair, Now Last in Little 8

RPI's basketball team took advantage of a cold Newport News Apprentice School five here last Saturday and downed the Shipbuilders, 69 to 51.

The Green Devils, paced by Captain Gene Bourne's 18 points, grabbed a 32-to-12 halftime advantage. At the same time they held Newport News scoreless for eight minutes of the first half.

A 17-point performance by Doug Loughridge and Ernie Wilkinson's 10 markers helped pace the Richmond offense as the Greenmen avenged an earlier 62 to 57 loss to the Tidewater team.

Newport News Captain Homer Nicely led his team with 18 points, all garnered in the second half. The Builders played much of the second half without the services of forward Bobby Jones and guard Freddy McDowell, both of whom fouled out late in the third period.

Coach Edward Allen used his entire 11-man squad in the one-sided affair, with 10 men contributing to the scoring parade.

Eagles Win, 95-58

Little Eight all star Jim Reedy outscored Bill Nunnally, Monk Vaughn and Bill Woodson with 32 points here last Wednesday as the Eagles walloped RPI 95 to 58 in a league clash.

Reedy, one of the state's top scorers, hit 14 field goals and four for four from the foul line as the Eagles raced to their fifth victory in six starts. Bridgewater has also won two and lost one in Little Eight play, which is good enough for a second place standing.

Reedy and company snapped a first period 6-6 deadlock and pulled rapidly away from the outclassed Green Devils. At half-time the Eagles lead, 39 to 21.

The Richmonders placed three men in double figures with Bill

Woodson's 11 markers high for the Ed Allen five. Nunnally and Vaughn each punched in 10 points for RPI.

RPI now stands at three wins against eight losses for season play including a double setback in the North-South Tourney. (See separate story) In league play the Devils have won one while losing four. RPI is currently in last place in the Little Eight race.

RPI Drops 2, 4th in Tourney

RPI dropped both its games in the two day, two game North-South Holiday Seafood Tournament to finish fourth in the four-team tourney.

In the opener, RPI lost a 77-to-70 decision to Bridgewater State Teachers College and in the second lost to host team New Bedford Tech. The tourney was won by Pembroke (N. C.) Teachers College with a final day win over Bridgewater.

In the first game RPI, holding a 42-to-36 half-time lead, fell apart when Bridgewater instituted a second half full-court press. Freshman Tom Davies lead the RPI scoring parade with 19 points, high for the night, while Ernie Wilkinson had 14. Bridgewater's Champin lead the Teachers with 17 markers.

In the second game New Bedford Tech, the host team and last year's tourney winner, pulled away in the closing minutes and downed the Devils 76 to 67 for third place honors.

The tournament was won by Pembroke, who finished last in 1958, as they won over first-round winner Bridgewater.

Scherer, Lee Tie; Meredith Second

The girls' intramural volleyball league ended last Wednesday with Scherer Hall and Lee House dormitories tied for first place. Meredith House finished in second place, a scant half-game behind.

Scherer Hall had assured itself of at least a tie for the championship with a pre-Christmas win over Lee House. A playoff between the two first place finishers was held yesterday in the gym. Results were too late for this issue.

Over Lynchburg

Devilettes Win, 39-35, Wilke High With 26

The girls' basketball team continued its winning ways last Thursday with a 39-35 victory over Lynchburg College. The win was the third of the season for the set against only one loss.

The Devilettes won the contest in the last three minutes with four quick points while holding Lynchburg scoreless.

The tilt was tied, 15 to 15 at half-time, but a 24-point Richmond second half iced the contest for Coach Nancy Alexander's squad.

The Devilette scoring machine was run by Barbara Wilke, who pitched in 26 points. JoAnn Harris added 10 and played an outstanding floor game. JoAnn played the entire third and fourth periods with four fouls and helped to hold down the Lynchburg offense.

The Devilettes play again Saturday as they entertain Mary Washington College here.

Feb. 10 Lynchburg College Away
Feb. 12 Bridgewater College Here
Feb. 18 Westhampton Here

Iris Volkman Wins Seafood Queen Title

Although RPI's basketball team did not win the recent North-South Tournament, basketball queen Iris Lee Volkman brought back an RPI first. She won the Tournament Queen crown.

Iris was elected basketball queen at RPI just before the tournament, and she accompanied the team to New Bedford for the December tournament.

While in New Bedford, the representative school queens were entertained by school officials, taken around the New England area and hosted by city officials.

"I stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Morton of New Bedford," said Iris on her return to Richmond. "We had a wonderful time. The team played well even though we did not win. I can truly say that Northern hospitality is just as good as that in the South."

As tournament winner, Iris was presented with an engraved trophy and a bouquet of roses from the tournament queen committee.
