DOOLEY REIGNS—Dooley returns to the campus next week. Above, he materialized for a preliminary event and who can blame him for that? The event was viewing of candidates for his queen. They included (from left) Nancy Rand, Barbara Jenks, Betsy Smith, Ysella Perea, Peggy Bulluck, Barbara Gunn, Shirlee Jenkins, Sally Nicar and Stuart Pendergraft. Absent when picture was made were Katy Heinz, Jan Aycock, Doris French and Beth Massey. For the report of who won, see Page 4.

Mother of Two, Others Receive Awards at Honors Convocation

By Pat Hensley

Six seniors—including an Evening College student who is the mother of two children—were cited yesterday at RPI's first spring Honors Convocation.

In a ceremonial occasion which also saw the formal naming of Hibbs building and Scherer Hall, seven honors were conferred. The rites took place in the gymnasium before several hundred students, faculty and administration members and guests.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hewett Grinnan, Social Science major who has pursued her education along with careers as a mother and nursery school director, was named for two top honors.

She received the Alumni award and one of two Scholarship keys. The former is awarded for scholarship and good citizenship, the latter for scholarship. Mrs. Grinnan, wife of attorney Daniel Grinnan and director of the First Presbyterian Church's day nursery school, compiled a 2.94 scholastic average and leads the senior class.

She is a sister-in-law of Dean Gladding.

The other Scholarship key went to Byron John Kirkman, Business major, who has compiled a 2.90 average.

Bobby Gray Buchanan, former president of the Student Government Association, was presented the leadership key. Buchanan is a Drama major.

Art Achievement keys went to Karen J. Harshbarger, Arts and Crafts; Otis Dare Huband, Fine Arts, and William B. Storey, Interior Design.

All of the students cited except Buchanan are residents of Richmond. Buchanan lives in Newport News. Candidates for the key he was presented are recommended to a faculty committee by the executive committee of the Student Government.

Dean O'Connell, chairman of the honors and awards committee, presented the citations.

Provost Oliver officially named the Hibbs building at 214-220 Shafer st. and Scherer hall, the women's

857 Vote; Whitehead, Harman, Gable Win

By Dave Burton

The most active election week in years was climaxed Wednesday afternoon by the election of Jerry Bradshaw as SGA president for 1960-61.

Chosen to other SGA offices were: Betsy Harmon, vice president; Marie Gable, secretary; and Dick Whitehead, treasurer.

Bradshaw defeated his two opponents by a landslide vote, and he will become the first person ever to serve more than one term as SGA president. He moved into the top student office in February after the resignation of the president.

According to Dean O'Connell, the total of 857 votes was the highest number cast that he could remember. Last year only 462 votes were cast, and 756 students voted in 1958.

Notable in this year's election was the number of candidates (15) also the largest that could be remembered.

Bradshaw, a 22-year-old Retailing major from Fredericksburg, received 603 votes, while his opponents, Billy Ayers and Morris Schiff, received 147 and 103 votes.

Betsy Harmon becomes 1960-61 vice president by virtue of a close win over Cecelia Mansfield and Ann Kane. Betsy received 349 votes, Cecelia 310 and Ann, 191.

She is a 20-year-old Elementary Education major from Waynesboro.

In the closest race of the election, Marie Gable defeated Brenda Whitehurst for the job of secretary.

Marie got 213 votes, while Brenda got 209. Also in the running were Alice Boxley (178), Penny Wetzler (140) and Sharon Godsey (109).

Marie, 20, is a sophomore Drama major from Hampton.

The only freshman to be elected was Dick Whitehead, an Advertising major from Roanoke, who was chosen as treasurer in another fairly tight vote. Whitehead totaled 323 votes, while DeeDee Bishop, with 271, provided most of his opposition. Other candidates for treasurer were Pat Barnes and Diane Dennis.

The United Party, only group which offered a slate of candidates, failed to place one in office. Its candidates were Morris Schiff, president; Sharon Godsey, secretary; and Diane Dennis, treasurer.

The party's fourth candidate, Diane Sadler, was disqualified through a technicality.

Council Proposes Student Fee

By Carole Sandy

Dr. Oliver has authorized further study of a Student Council-backed proposal to establish a student activities fee.

The annual fee would cost $16 per student and would provide for:

- (1) The Cobblestone
- (2) Admission to major drama productions
- (3) Admission to home athletic games
- (4) Class dues
- (5) A name band fund

Any excess at the end of each year would go into either the SGA scholarship fund or the Dr. Johnson memorial fund.

On Monday, SGA president Jerry Bradshaw presented the plan to Dr. Oliver who authorized further study. Student Council endorsed the proposal the preceding Thursday night.

Campus Church Clubs Unite For Religious Emphasis Week

RPI's religious clubs have united their efforts by supporting a Religious Emphasis Week, next Tuesday through Thursday.

During the week, religious meetings will be held in the Shafer Street Playhouse. On Tuesday and Wednesday nights, there will be panel discussions from 6:15 to 7 p.m.; at this time any questions may be asked. After each discussion, groups will meet in the various dormitories to have general discussions.

The panel members for Tuesday night are Dr. J. P. Allen, the Rev. Howard P. Harris, and Rabbi Joseph Levine.

For Wednesday's panel the Rev. Carl Saunders, the Rev. Howard P. Harris and Rabbi Benjamin Eisenberg will be present.

Any subject may be brought up at these panel discussions, but to get the program started, several

New Interest

This week's SGA elections have shown a remarkable increase in interest by both candidates and their supporters.

For most of the record 15 office seekers the campaign trail has been rough and tiresome.

No student now at RPI can remember having seen such vigorous campaigning on this campus. And Dean O'Connell, a former SGA president himself, who has been around a few years longer, couldn't recall any race that had the combined impact that this week's did.

Although it is hard to designate any specific reason for this sudden political surge, certainly Student Council members had something to do with it.

Council representatives and officers, under heavy fire from President Bradshaw, when it became necessary to extend the petitioning deadline, went out and within four days aroused enough interest to boost number of candidate to 16. (One student was disqualified)

Those who lost contributed many progressive ideas.

The race as a whole has greatly renewed student respect for the SGA and even more important, it has brought forth several excellent suggestions for the winners to work with next year.

Lets review some of these ideas.

The best new idea was supported by the United Party. This is a "Campus Week." According to its backers the week would call for contributions from all departments, such as exhibits, concerts, displays, lectures and plays.

Not only would this be a step toward unity, but it would also improve relations between the school and the community.

Another proposal was the strengthening of the honor system by stricter adherence to the rules.

A literary magazine is another worthwhile suggestion.

These proposals, and many others are not ideas to be lost and forgotten next year but are ones to be seriously considered and fought for. It is up to the officers elected this week to lead the fight.

Karen Harshbarger

Soft, Quiet And Deliberate

By Shirley Voland

(Editor's note—This is the second in a series of articles on RPI's campus leaders... Next week Bob Nitchie, SGA Treasurer, will be featured.)

Walk softly, but carry a big stick. These famous words may well be applied to Karen Harshbarger, Student Government Association Vice President.

This 21-year-old senior's manner conveys the idea of soft, quiet, and yet deliberate action.

Karen, a Fine Art major with emphasis on applied arts and crafts education, plans to teach or do personnel work after graduation.

"I have applied for positions in both fields in the Richmond area," said Karen, "but I don't know which one I'll get."

Elected to vice president when the two top officers resigned from the SGA, Karen is also chairman of the Honor Council.

Too Much Secrecy

Karen believes that too much secrecy can ruin the SGA.

"I think the students should know what is going on in the SGA, and I think the open discussions are very good ideas.

She also expressed hope that the discussions would be carried on in years to come.

Former Class Secretary

In addition to her present SGA post, Karen has served as secretary of her class and is a member of the Fine Arts Club.

A graduate of Thomas Jefferson High School, she has been a Richmond resident for 10 years. She came to Richmond from Harrisonburg.

Art Critic Speaks

Basil Taylor, librarian of the Royal College of Art in London, spoke to the advanced history of art classes at RPI on Thursday, April 7.

Mr. Taylor is an art critic, author and noted authority on animal painting. His topic was "The Late Works of the English Landscape Painter Turner, and the color theories of Goethe."

in running for a school office, she says that, with a lot of hard work, a day student can succeed.

"If I hadn't had the support of the dormitory students, I would never have made it."

Karen lives with her mother in an apartment in the city, close to school and her job.

Conducts Tours

Her job, at present, consists of conducting children's tours in the Virginia museum. She works in the school services department.

Asked about SGA elections, Karen said they should come off much better than in past years. There were two polls operating this year and only one in the past.

"I have my own choices so I'm very anxious to see the outcome."

Karen would like to continue with her education and get a master's degree, but has decided to work for awhile after graduation.

Her hobbies include sports events, her museum membership and hiking.

Alumna Takes Job Reporting in Hopewell

Miss Virginia (Ginger) Foxwell, a 1959 Journalism graduate, was recently named chief of the Petersburg, Progressive-Index's Hopewell news bureau.

Miss Foxwell, a native of Richmond, was editor of the Proscript during her senior year. She was a general assignment reporter for the Danville Registrar.

'Legs and Lassos'

'Boy Friend' Leads Are Burroughs, Wilson

Brook Burroughs and John Wilson have been named to the lead roles in "The Boy Friend," the fourth and final major production of the Department of Dramatic Art this year.

The play will be given in the Shafer Street Playhouse, May 11-14.

Brook, as Polly the daughter of an American millionaire, falls for a titled young Englishman named Tony, played by Wilson. There is a subsidiary affair between Polly's father, Percival Brown (Frank Fuller) and the headmistress of a girls' finishing school Madame Dubonnet (Sharon Godsey).

Interwoven into the plot are a multitude of other subordinate comics: Marian Kinzie, is Hortense; Stanley Soble, is Bobby Van Huse; Wilbert Keys and Sharon Hale, will play Lord and Lady Brockhurst; Bert Clark, is Marcel; Carey Lee King, is Pierre; Ed Cohen, is Alphonse.

Also, Bill Morgan, is a waiter; Marshall Murdaugh, is Gerarme; Walta Chandler, is Lolita; Woody Eney, is Pepe. Barbara Gunn, Marcy Block, Diane Hord, and Barbara Jones are chorus girls. Julia Field, Marie Gable, Mary Breckenridge, and James Sellers are guests at a ball.

"The Boy Friend" is a musical comedy that gained considerable success both here and abroad. The action is in the slam-bang era of the 1920's, and is fast and frantic, as befits this period.

dormitory at 923 West Franklin st. Mr. Raleigh Hobson, director of the Richmond department of public welfare, expressed appreciation for the naming of RPI's newest building for Dr. Henry H. Hibbs, former Provost.

Appreciation for the naming of Scherer hall for the late Rev. John J. Scherer was expressed by Dr. Churchill J. Gibson, former rector of the St. James Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Mr. Scherer was chairman of the board of directors of RPI in 1917 and later chairman of the Citizens Foundation.

Music for the convocation was provided by the RPI choral group, who sang "The Lord is a Mighty God" and "O Clap Your Hands."

Senior Week End Scheduled

A dance, banquet and picnic are the activities scheduled for senior week end to be held April 29-30. This year, for the first time, the senior festivities will be on a separate week end from the May dance.

Friday, senior day, all seniors will be dismissed from classes. After breakfast together in the cafeteria, the seniors will go to Forest Hill Park to spend the afternoon picnicking.

A banquet and dance at the John Marshall Hotel will highlight Saturday's activities with the Occidentals, a local combo, providing the music for the evening.

Sunday afternoon from 2-4 p.m. Dean and Mrs. O'Connell will give a reception for the seniors at their home at 1007 Beveridge Rd.

Paid class members will be issued free tickets to the banquet and dance and may buy a guest ticket for $1.50. Non-paid members may get tickets for $2.50 from the SGA office.

Graduation invitations will be on sale next week at the SGA office.

Additional invitations are available.

Shaw Play Reminiscent Of Old Movies

Take one poisoner (Judd Shrieffer); have his passionate wife (Walta Chandler) commit a series of indiscretions with another man; fold in one starched and eventually petrified Englishman (Jim Davis) with a chronic disinclination to die, and you have the ingredients of George Bernard Shaw's "Poison Passion and Petrification."

Shaw must have been more irrepressibly bad-boy than usual when he wrote this one. The crazily mismatched costumes, preposterous make-up and exaggerated stage movements were strangely reminiscent of the old Charlie Chaplin silent movies. To top it all off, "Won't you come home Bill Bailey" played continuously in the background for no apparent reason except that it was, perhaps, one of the author's favorite tunes.

The direction of Wilbert Keys and the performances of Shrieffer, Walta, Davis and Marie Gable turned what could have easily been merely corny comedy into a well-done belly-buster.

Others in the cast, were Leland McGhee, Lewis Stout and Peter Morrison.—C. B.

was a principal speaker during the ceremonies.

In the past senior achievement awards have been presented at commencement.

Dr. Oliver said the spring Honors Convocation will be a permanent annual event highlighted by the presentation of the citations.

Deans' Convention

Dean Gladding and two dormitory hostesses represented RPI at a convention of deans and housemothers at Longwood College, Farmville, during spring vacation.

Accompanying Dean Gladding were Mrs. Robert Smith, hostess of Ritter Hickok dormitory, and Mrs. Eunice Walsh of Founders Hall.

PROSCRIPT—SPORTS

By Bill Jamerson
Proscript Sports Editor

RPI's baseball team, which started the season with an impressive win over the touring New Bedford Tech team, ran into diamond difficulties and dropped a doubleheader to Bridgewater and a single game to the Hampden-Sydney Tigers.

Bridgewater, Hampden-Sydney and Randolph-Macon are generally considered to be the three toughest teams in the Little Eight.

The Green Devils, who have six freshmen and two sophomores on the starting nine, should improve as the season progresses. The RPI mound staff, plagued by wildness, forms what is potentially one of the finer hurling staffs in the league... Righthanders Hunter Talbott, Lew Lanham and Bob Hanchey each have several semesters' experience.

MacNamee Tops

In sophomore Joe MacNamee, the Green Devils hold title to one of the finest shortstops in the Little Eight.

Marvin Russell, sophomore centerfielder, is more than an adequate replacement for last year's centerfielder Warren Turner. Russell has made several outstanding defensive plays and batted four for four against New Bedford.

Bud Reid, leftfielder; Warren Burke, first baseman; and Bill Graham, a converted catcher who plays rightfield, should provide the power that the team needs.

Catching, with Buddy Hampton and veteran Tommy Wright, is one of RPI's strongest points. Graham, will also catch some if needed.

Don (Flea) Lee, second baseman, forms with MacNamee a good double play combination.

Wayne Davis, speedy freshman third sacker, gives the Devils an excellent leadoff man. Davis, who injured his throwing hand in fielding practice last Saturday against Hampden-Sydney, is expected to be back in action this afternoon.

Binns Gets Thumb

Freshman lefthander, Sonny Binns was ejected from the Hampden-Sydney game for protesting too vigorously a play in which he was called out at first base. The Devils, behind 3-2 at the time, then proceeded to fall apart.

Binns will be one of the great pitchers of Little Eight baseball if he learns to control his temper.

Volleyball Team Loses

RPI's defending state champion volleyball team was knocked out of contention in the State volleyball tourney by the Union Theological Seminary and Virginia Tech last week at the Richmond YMCA. The Devils' loss of both matches was due to lack of practice, said team Captain Gene Bourne.

Softball Tourney Set

The Virginia Amateur Softball Association's collegiate softball tourney will be held in Richmond May 7, 1960, at Byrd park.

RPI softball team captain, Jimmy Craven stated that the team needs some boys to try out for the positions of catcher and pitcher.

Petitioning Begins Monday

Petitioning for senior class officers will begin Monday, according to Betsy Holt, chairman of the Elections Committee.

A petition must be signed by at least 25 regularly enrolled students and contain a statement from the Registrar confirming the student's academic average.

Following is the schedule for petitioning, campaigning and voting:

Petition deadline—April 18-22

Campaign—April 25-29

Election—May 2-4

Devils Play Tigers Today; Team Wins First, Drops 3

By Tom Weedon

The Green Devils will play Hampden-Sydney today at 3 p.m. on the Byrd Park diamond.

RPI opened its baseball season last Wednesday against New Bedford Tech of New Bedford, Mass. and what an opening day it was.

The Green Devils got spectacular one-hit pitching from a quartet of hurlers as they rolled over the Techmen, 5-0.

Dukie Talbot, opening day pitcher, held the Techmen to one hit in the four innings he worked.

The Techmen loaded the bases in the fourth with Talbot pitching, but a brilliant diving stop of a line-drive through the middle by Green Devil shortstop Joe MacNamee saved the shutout.

The Devils topped Tech starter Paul Pacheco for a run in the fifth on a triple by Bud Reid and a single by Marvin Russell.

RPI put the game out of reach by scoring four runs in the eighth on walks to MacNamee and Bill

Graham, a single by Burke and a three-run triple by Reid, Russell then singled home Reid for the final tally of the inning.

The Techmen could not collect a hit after the fourth inning as winning pitcher, Paul Stafford, along with Lew Lanham and Sonny Binns held them well in check.

Thursday the Green Devils traveled to Bridgewater and lost a doubleheader—3-2 and 10-0, as they could manage only five hits for the day.

Bob Hanchey started the opening game for the Green Devils and pitched fine ball until the seventh when the Eagles got to him for four hits and three runs.

The Green Devils never were in the nightcap as Bill Kline held them to one hit—a fourth inning single by Don Lee.

Saturday RPI visited Hampden-Sydney and lost an 8-2 verdict to the Tigers.

Devil hurler, Sonny Binns, who was the loser, was evicted in the sixth for disputing a close play at first.

RPI concluded its first week of play last Tuesday by dropping a 16-2 decision to Newport News Apprentice School.

The Green Devils were never in the game as the Builders lashed out 19 hits and had twelve runs before RPI could get on the scoreboard.

subjects have been decided upon in advance.

Dormitory discussions, which will be held from 7:15 to 8:00 on the same nights as the panel discussions, will also have a general discussion group with no emphasis on any one religion.

The activities will end Thursday night with a one act play, "Sacrifice of Isaac," presented by the Department of Dramatic Art.

Devilettes Take Opening Match From Lynchburg

The Devilettes' tennis team won a 3-2 victory over Lynchburg College Tuesday afternoon in its opening game of the season.

Although handicapped by having only five of their seven member team present, the girls won both doubles and one singles match.

Pat Kloss and Barbara Wilke lost their singles matches. Dot Neatrou won the third singles match by coming from behind and winning her last two sets.

Betty Vaughan and Pat Kloss won the first doubles match and Barbara Wilke and Grace Linton won the second doubles match that clinched the game for RPI.

Peggy Bullock Will Reign Over Dooley's Annual Rites

Peggy Bullock has been chosen to reign as queen of Dooley's spring frolic, which will be held next week end.

One of 11 girls nominated by school dormitories and organizations for the queenship, Peggy was entered in the competition by Founders Hall, and was selected from the other candidates by residents of the 712 Dormitory.

A 19-year-old Secretarial Science major from Rocky Mount, N. C., Peggy won by a close margin over her closest competitor.

Dooley, the spirit of spring, has become a tradition of RPI and of the 712 W. Franklin st. dormitory, which has sponsored the annual rites in Dooley's honor for six years.

Each year Dooley rises from his grave and returns to the RPI campus for a week of merriment, during which time he may capriciously dismiss any class or perform other pranks. He is a resident of the 712 Dorm. and is chosen by the dormitory manager and his assistant.

This year's week-end festivities

Students Must Be Informed About Fee

According to Bradshaw, Dr. Oliver recommended that the SGA spend about a week informing student organizations about the purpose, technicalities and benefits of such a fund. If the majority of the students are in favor of the fee, the plan will be submitted to the Board of Visitors. The board's next meeting is in May.

Bradshaw said student sentiment would be determined by discussion among SGA representatives of campus organizations.

The proposal was presented last week by Margaret Jones, Art major. About 75 students attended council's open meeting to hear the discussion.

"This fee has been discussed the four years I've been here," said Margaret, "but nothing has been done about it. I am proposing it now, because every year an increasingly smaller group of students work for their classes, carrying a heavy burden to keep the college activities going. . . . The fee would save time at registration, eliminating the need for workers to collect money for so many individual activities."

Margaret, a senior, further told the council that a fee collected from full-time students would lower costs of all activities to the students. In addition, it would bring production of the yearbook out of debt because all the students would be purchasing one.

"It has gotten so bad that only those who buy the yearbook can have their picture in it. This is not representative of the entire school," she said.

Discussion centered on the question of those who simply do not want to buy the yearbook or attend activities.

Diane Sadler, a junior majoring in Art, said, "It is time to put aside our selfish ideas. As for me, I don't particularly care for basketball, but this is for the good of RPI."

Said Judy Waldorf, former SGA president: "If we face facts, we can see that RPI is in trouble concerning school spirit and participation. I feel that the fee will create new interest in the school."

According to Dean O'Connell, several questions remain to be ironed out—such as whether the fee would be included within tuition or as a separate fee.

will start next Friday night with an informal dance from 8-11 at the 712 Dormitory. Music will be recorded, and Dooley will formally rise at this time.

On Saturday, a picnic will be held from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Forest Hills park. This will be followed Saturday night with a semi-formal dance from 8 to 12 p.m. also at the dormitory.

Dooley's identity will be revealed during the dance.

The Specks, a combo made up of RPI students, will provide the music for the concluding event.

Other candidates for Dooley's queen and their sponsors were: Jan Aycock, 828 Park ave. dormitory; Doris French, Meredith House; Barbara Gunn, Scherer Hall; Katy Heinz, Ritter-Hickock dormitory; Shirlee Jenkins, Lee House; Barbara Jenks, Freshman class; and Beth Massey, Cotillion club.

Also, Stuart Pendergraft, Fashion club; Ysella Perea, Student Government Association; Sally Niar, Day Students League; Nancy Rand, 913 W. Franklin st. dormitory; and Betsy Smith, sophomore class.

Tickets for Dooley's, including all the activities, may be purchased by any RPI students for $2 at the Rotunda Monday thru Friday.

Alumna's Art Exhibited In New York Gallery

Paintings of Greece by Nell Blaine, noted artist who graduated from RPI in 1942, are on exhibit at the Poindexter Gallery in New York.

Money earned from the exhibit will be used to help pay medical bills of Miss Blaine, who is recovering from an attack of polio, which has kept her confined to an iron lung since September.

The show will end tomorrow. Mr. Maurice Bonds, director of the Department of Art, described Miss Blaine as "perhaps the best-known graduate of the art school at RPI."

Life magazine listed her in 1958 as one of the six outstanding women artists in the United States.

A native Richmonder she won a fellowship from the Virginia Museum of Fine Art that enabled her to go to New York and study under Hans Hoffman, American abstract expressionist.

She had two other exhibits at the Poindexter Gallery, the first when the gallery opened, and the second in 1956. Her work was also exhibited at the Tibor De Nagy Gallery in 1953 and 1954.

Summer Registration Date Set

Registration for the 6-week summer school session and the 3-week post session courses will be held in the gymnasium on June 13, 9-12 a.m. and 1-4 p.m.

Classes will begin on Tuesday, June 14. Persons who wish to register for the post-session program only will register at the summer school office on July 25.

Dormitory rooms are available for men and women.

Registration for the Evening College will be held on June 13 and 14 from 6-7:30 p.m. Evening students are limited to only one class during the session.

Evening classes will be held two evenings a week from 7-9:40 p.m. Classes will begin June 13 and end August 4.

A complete bulletin of the summer program is available in the registrar's office.

Make-Up Sessions

The Evening College has scheduled two more make-up sessions for classes that were canceled because of snow. These sessions will be held on April 22 and 29.
