Carnival to Open Dance Week End

Mr. John Mackien of WTVR television will be master of ceremonies at the May day dance to-morrow at the Mosque.

Mr. Mackien has emceed for Jimmy Dorsey, Sammy Kaye,

Henry Busse and Johnny Long. He also has been m.c. at Tantilla and other clubs in Richmond. This is his first time at a college dance.

May dance week end will open to-night with a carnival sponsored by campus clubs. It will be held in the parking lot on Shafer st. from 6 to 11 p.m. The carnival will include kissing and date booths and peep shows. The profits will go to the name band fund.

Saturday afternoon Dean O'Connell will be host to a tea for the May queen and her court. Other guests will include Provost and Mrs. Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Glad-ding, and Miss Jean Gilliam, fashion design and sewing teacher.

Saturday night Billy Butterfield, amidst a theme of Spring Gardens, will play from 9-12 p.m. at the dance. At 10 p.m. the May Court will be presented, and Provost Oliver will crown May Queen Betsy Holt.

Sunday the freshman and sophomore classes are sponsoring a picnic from 12:30-8 p.m. at Camp Kentwood.

Reception

All seniors are invited to a reception given by Dr. and Mrs. Oliver on May 15 from 4:30-6:30 p.m. at the Provost's home.

Tickets Unavailable At Mosque Door

Students planning to attend the May dance are advised to buy their tickets by Friday evening since they will not be sold at the door Saturday night.

However, it will be possible to purchase tickets from SGA representatives as late as Saturday afternoon.

Graduation At Mosque On June 6

State Sen. E. E. Willey will be the speaker for commencement at 10 a.m. Monday, June 6, in the Mosque. Dr. Theodore F. Adams of Richmond, internationally known Baptist minister, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon Sunday, June 5, in the First Baptist Church. Dr. Oliver announced the commencement plans today.

There are 269 candidates for degrees, 220 of whom are bachelor degrees and 49 are master's degree candidates. Sixty-three of this number graduated in February. The degree candidates will be presented by Dr. Oliver, with Alvin Duke Chandler, president of the College of William and Mary, conferring the degrees.

Choral Concert

Music will be provided by the choral group consisting of 37 students directed by Mr. L. Wayne Batty.

Senator Willey is a graduate of the Medical College of Virginia, former president of the Richmond Retail Drug Association, and is now chairman of the State Hospital Board and owner of the Willey Drug Co. The 50-year-old senator is serving his third term as one of the three senators from Richmond.

A reception for graduating seniors and their parents will be given by Dr. and Mrs. Oliver in their home Sunday, June 5, from 3:30 to 5:30.

Sermon At 7:30

At 7:30 that day Dr. Adams will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. Pastor of First Baptist Church here since 1936, he has been president of the Baptist World Alliance since 1955 and now has a weekly television program, "The Pastor's Study," seen on Sunday afternoons, as well as a daily morning radio broadcast. He has contributed numerous articles to religious journals and has written two books—Making Your Marriage Succeed and Making the Most of What Life Brings.

Dr. Adams was ordained to the ministry of the Baptist Church in 1924, and holds an L.H.D. degree from Stetson University and an honorary DP degree from the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Omicron Delta Kappa.

Proscript's Fee Plan Adopted

By Dave Burton

Student Council Wednesday night formally adopted the optional activities fee proposed two weeks ago by the Proscript.

This is the first such fee ever to be adopted at RPI. It will go into effect next September.

Council made two changes in the Proscript's plan which was drafted by editor Bob Boswell.

As recommended by the Executive Council, no money will be refunded regardless of the number of subscribers. Because this move eliminated a guaranteed amount of money to each recipient, the size of the literary magazine will not be determined until subscriptions sales are completed next fall.

The Proscript's plan called for a minimum of 800 subscribers. It would not have been initiated unless that number was reached.

However, the Executive Council's recommendation stated that the fee would be beneficial regardless of the number of subscribers.

"No money will be refunded," said Bob Nitchie, SGA treasurer. Nitchie was serving as spokesman for a committee that was appointed to study the proposal and to re-

The American Way

One year ago last week a group of white citizens of Poplarville, Miss., put their fair city on the map—by lynching Mack Charles Parker, a Negro.

Nothing has been done to bring the killers to trial, although a year has passed and people of Poplarville know which of their neighbors were members of the lynch gang. A brutal double standard of justice still exists in that part of the U.S. Evidently all Americans don't really believe in the rights and freedoms set forth in our constitution.

Parker, a 23-year-old truck driver who was being held on a charge of raping a white woman, was dragged from his jail cell, beaten, shot and tossed into the nearby Pearl River.

A county grand jury ignored the incident and failed to report that a prisoner was missing from the county jail.

A federal grand jury, made up of men from southern Mississippi, announced that it could find no federal violations in the case.

A force of 60 FBI agents spent a month gathering evidence in the case. An FBI report lists 23 white men as "known and suspected participants in the abduction."

The case is not yet dead. It may not be possible to ignore justice forever. The U.S. attorney general's office is studying possible further moves.

But even if something is done later on, the world has seen American democracy at work. A one-year look at our system of justice tells the story.

We are in a bitter fight—perhaps a fight for survival—to convince the "backward" peoples of the world that they should choose democracy over communism as their way of life.

It certainly helps our cause to have incidents like the Mack Parker case as commentaries on the wonderful American way.

Activities Fee Plan Adopted

port its findings to the Executive Council.

Students subscribing to the fee will be allowed admittance to all four major drama productions and home athletic events. The fee also covers purchase of the Cobblestone and the literary magazine, which will be published twice yearly, and the payment of class dues.

In addition, part of the subscribers' money will be set aside for an entertainment fund, from which money for a name band will be taken.

SGA president Jerry Bradshaw appointed a new committee, responsible for the execution of a four-step plan proposed by Nitchie for soliciting pledges to the fee.

The first step in selling the "package proposal" is to compose the pledge cards, which will be distributed to students by their instructors and advisors. Nitchie said that this should be completed by Monday.

Step number two is concerned with the appointment of a committee, headed by the SGA secretary, which will compose a letter to be sent to freshmen and returning upperclassmen by the end of June. This same committee will also draw up a reminder letter to be sent to students by August. Nitchie recommended that this committee be composed of summer session students.

Step three of Nitchie's plan makes the SGA treasurer responsible for all bookkeeping and financial records of the fee.

The final sales pitch will be made at registration day next September, when students will receive pledge cards along with their registration information.

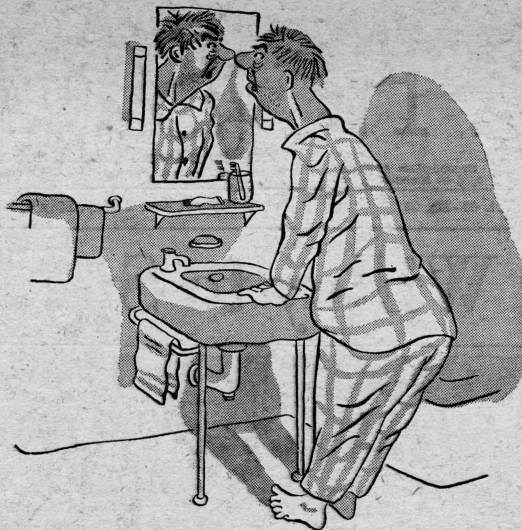

This completes the four-step plan, and then, the success of the activities fee is up to the students, according to Nitchie.

Council officers regarded the move as perhaps the most important of the year. Said Bradshaw, "I'm very happy that the proposal was adopted. The proposal is good, but we are going to have to help it along."

In other action, Betsy Holt, chairman of the elections committee, announced that because SGA representatives had not supervised the polls Wednesday, the polls were closed. Because of this, the voting deadline for senior class officers was extended another day.

Betsy told the representatives that although she accepted part of the blame for this error, she didn't think it was all her fault.

In reminding the representatives about next week's junior class elections, Betsy said, "I took the blame for you this time, but I'm not going to do it again."

One Acts Break Even; One Good, One Bad

By Virginia Gibson

Paddy Chayefsky's poignant television script, "The Mother," was one of two one-act plays presented last Thursday night in the Studio Theater. Directed by Bill Morgan, "The Mother" was done in snatches, broken by intervals when the actors changed places on a darkened stage.

Personifying the resolute woman who refuses to yield to age and incompetence and go live with her children, Marian Kinzie was convincing and aroused sympathy for the widow's dilemma.

Walter Chandler, as the overly protective daughter, Annie, clearly revealed conflict through her zealous love for her mother, her jealousy of her sister and her contention with her husband.

David Wilborn's treatment of the part of George made what might have been an uninterested and uninteresting character into a realistic husband.

As the Jewish Mrs. Kliene, at war with her daughter-in-law, Betsy Holt brought broad grins and guffaws with her feigned accent and scathing comments.

Although she switched from an Irish accent to a Southern one, Julia Field's facial expressions greatly helped her role as the also daughter-in-law troubled, Mrs. Geegan.

Jean Biddle, portraying the sister, Marie, had trouble with her Southern accent and was flighty in her hand movements.

"Pierrot, Poltroon" Poor

Meant to be whimsical and light, the second one act, "Pierrot, Poltroon," by Mary Graham Lund, did not quite make it. Instead, it was only a slightly amusing tale of a fickle young man and the girl who secretly adored him.

A high-note was found in the ridiculously funny stage hand (Richard Cadieux) who, in clown make-up, got slammed around the stage and, like a rubber ball, came bouncing back.

Stanley Soble portrayed the flirtatious young man, Pierrot, while Brook Burroughs was his current sweetheart, Columbine.

Although she was a last minute replacement, Mary Sue Breckenridge did a nice job with the small part of Mother Pierrot.

As the unrequited lover, Pierrette, Barbara Gunn also had difficulty with a Southern accent, and her dancer's gestures resembled nervous flutterings.

Carey King, as Harlequin, an acrobat in love with Columbine, did seem to enjoy turning somersaults. "Pierrot, Poltroon" was directed by Dianne Hord.

Awards to Be Given At TA Banquet

Winners of drama awards will be disclosed at the Theatre Associates' annual awards banquet May 22 at the Raleigh Grill.

Picked by the Alumni Committee, the best actor and actress from the four major productions will receive the Hodges Award from Mr. Raymond Hodges, head of the Department of Dramatic Art, in memory of his mother. Recipients will receive an engraved silver plate.

The Alumni Committee members are Miss Marilisa Bok, director of dramatics at Douglas Freeman High School; Miss Micki Mackey, teacher at Varina Elementary School and Barksdale Theatre actress; and Mr. Frank Brooks, WRVA radio, president of the RPI Actors Alumni and Virginia Museum Theatre actor.

The committee will also pick the actor and actress to receive the best supporting awards. Those elected by student ballot at the Theatre Associates meeting will receive the best male and female technicians awards.

The drama major winning the Jack Joyce Scholarship for next year will be chosen on the basis of need and ability by Mr. Hodges, president and vice-president of the Theatre Associates and by a member from each class.

exception of a few madrigals written this century.

The scene from the opera will follow the intermission. The two characters in this scene are Rita and Beppo, portrayed by Theresa Dumouchelle and Daryle Worley. They will be accompanied on the piano by Ruth Green.

The concert will close with contemporary songs sung by the Choral Group.

Choral Concert

The annual spring concert of the RPI Choral Group, under the direction of Mr. L. Wayne Batty, will be held in the gymnasium at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The concert will consist of two groups of songs by the Choral Group, one group by the Madrigalists and a scene from Donizetti's Opera Buffa, "Rita."

The choral group music spans three hundred years. Their first six songs are from the works of composers in the seventeenth, eighteenth and nineteenth centuries.

The next eight songs on the program will be sung by the Madrigalists, ten singers chosen from the main body of the choral group. Their music is confined to the old madrigals of sixteenth and seventeenth century composers, with the

Devils Beat Lynchburg, Take Fourth Straight

RPI ran its winning streak of four straight as the Green Devils downed Little Eight leader Lynchburg last Tuesday, 12-11.

The win evened the Green Devils seasonal record at 5-5 and gave them a 3-4 mark in Little Eight Circles.

The victory may prove costly for the Green Devils, however, as star shortstop Joe MacNamee twisted his ankle and will be sidelined for the rest of the week, and possibly for the rest of the season.

The Green Devils started with a bang against Lynchburg as they jumped on starter Ashby Milstead and reliever Carroll Givens for seven runs in the first inning.

Tom Wright led off the first with a single, stole second and scored on a single by Marvin Russell. Walks to Warren Burke and Bud Reid loaded the bases. Wayne Davis then grounded to short, but the ball got by for an error as two runs scored. Walks to Binns and Hampton forced in one run and Wright followed with a bases loaded double to finish the scoring. The Hornets scored runs in the first and fifth innings to bring the score to 7-2; however the Green Devils scored once in fifth and four in the sixth to take a 12-2 lead.

Bill Graham blasted a home run to open the sixth for the Green Devils. Burke then walked and Reid singled. Wayne Davis followed with a two-run triple and was knocked in by Sonny Binns who hit a run-scoring single. The Hornets stormed back with five runs in the sixth and added four runs in the eighth and ninth innings to throw a real scare into the Green Devils.

Wright was batting star of the game knocking in four runs with two singles and a double. Binns and Bob Hanchey shared the pitching for the Green Devils with Binns working the first six innings and receiving credit for the victory.

Softball Team to Play In Tourney Tomorrow

By Tom Weedon

RPI will play in the ninth annual Virginia Amateur Softball Tournament at Byrd Park tomorrow.

The single elimination tourney will get under way at 11:30 a.m. with RPI playing George Washington.

Sixteen teams are entered this year with VPI, the defending champions, and RPI, who won the tourney in '58, rated as the teams to beat.

The two teams that beat their rivals in three straight games will vie for the championship at 6:30.

The Green Devils have a veteran team which is composed of seven players who have had previous tournament experience, five students and two faculty members.

Buddy Frank, who pitched for the '58 championship team and was the most valuable player in the tournament, will again do the pitching for the Green Devils.

Other seasoned performers are: captain and manager Jimmy Craven, second basemen Billy Snead, leftfielder Donald Lee, centerfielder Bob Soffee, Dave Dolan and Barry Frazee. Mr. Dolan and Mr. Frazee are both instructors at RPI.

Newcomers to the team are: Tom Wright, John Walker, Vance Long, John Hargrove, Ralph Pettit, Aubrey Fletcher and Jimmy Jones.

Some of the participating teams are: Hampden-Sydney, Medical College of Virginia, Gallaudet, Lynchburg, Maryland, Richmond Law School and Randolph-Macon.

340 Already Accepted For '61 Freshman Class

Three hundred forty applicants already have been accepted for enrollment in next year's freshman class, according to a report from the Admissions office.

This is more than double the number that had been accepted at this time last year.

Although only 155 freshman were accepted as of May 1, 1959, the number who entered RPI last September totaled 717.

Mr. Curtis G. Keesee, director of admissions, cited 1,000 as "a conservative estimate of the capacity of the freshman class—with the present faculty."

He also said that the entire school could increase its enrollment capacity by 1/3 by scheduling afternoon lecture classes and by holding class on Saturday.

Faculty Enlarged

A less drastic method of handling the increased enrollment is to be employed by the English department, which plans to add at

'Spring Swing' Is Sunday

The Accidental Club's "Spring Swing" concert, to be held at 3:30 Sunday afternoon in the gym, will feature modern music ranging from jazz to popular to big band.

Performing in the concert will be three instrumental groups and one vocal group, the Keynotes.

The concert will open with a group of modern jazz instrumentals played by an off-campus trio, who are appearing as guests of the Accidental Club. Second on the program will be a five-piece band playing popular music. Bass and drums from this band will be used to back up the Keynotes, a female vocal group composed of five Richmond girls.

After an intermission, the two small instrumental groups will combine into a 14-piece big band, consisting of five saxophones, three trombones, three trumpets, piano, bass and drums.

least one new faculty member to its staff, according to Mr. Keesee.

Mr. Keesee also noted that the freshmen entering next September appeared to be generally meeting higher entrance requirements than freshmen of previous years. One of these requirements is the College Board examination, which went into effect last term.

In addition to the 340 freshman applicants, the Admissions office has also accepted 56 transfer students, bringing the total of accepted applications to 396.

Senior Cited For Award In Business

William C. Shackelford, a senior majoring in business, was named winner of the Wall Street Journal Student Achievement Award by the School of Business faculty at its April meeting.

Shackelford, a native of Lillian, was selected because of his scholastic achievements and meritorious qualities. He will receive a silver medal and a year's subscription to the Wall Street Journal.

The faculty also selected a February graduate, Byron J. Kirkman, to receive the Virginia Society of Certified Accountants Award. The award is presented annually to the student with the highest average in accounting.

Kirkman will receive a certificate and his name will be placed on a plaque in the accounting room of the School of Business.

Both awards will be presented at the School of Business dinner, June 4, at the Hotel Raleigh.

ANNOUNCING

AIR FORCE OFFICER TRAINING SCHOOL FOR COLLEGE GRADUATES

Three-month course leads to a commission as a Second Lieutenant. If you are graduating this June, you may be eligible for admission to the new Air Force Officer Training School. Successful completion of the three-month course wins you a commission, and a head-start on a bright, rewarding future in the Aerospace Age.

The School is open to men and women college graduates with certain technological and administrative skills. If you are selected for the School, you will receive Staff Sergeant pay while a trainee. Graduated officers may later apply for advanced training and graduate study at government expense. Male officers may also apply for flight training as pilots or navigators.

For the career-minded young officer, the Air Force way of life can be stimulating, exciting and full of meaning. He will be serving himself, his family and his nation. This is the Aerospace Age. It is a time when a career in Air Force blue has so much to offer the young man or woman who qualifies.

The Air Force is seeking only a select group of college graduates for admission into Officer Training School. However, we'd be happy to send detailed information to any senior who is interested. Just write: Officer Training School Information, Dept. SCL04, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.
