Work on New Structure Starts Next Month

Science Building Work Will Start Next Month

Demolition and construction work at the site of the proposed half-million-dollar Science Building on Park ave. will begin in January, President Oliver announced recently.

Referendum Slated On Recognition Of Social Groups

A referendum to decide if RPI will permit and recognize fraternities and sororities on campus will be held immediately after the Christmas holidays.

This announcement was made at the Student Government Association Meeting Wednesday by Pat Scott, SGA president, after he had consulted with Dean Pendleton.

Scott also said that 1500 student votes will validate the referendum, and a two-thirds majority vote will be required from Council to pass the plan.

Bids for demolishing parts of three old structures and erecting the new building are due next Thursday.

"If it can be arranged, bids on two smaller projects will be opened at the same time," Dr. Oliver said.

These projects are renovation of the Shafer Street Playhouse and construction at 800 West Franklin st.

All substandard portions of the present Science Building at 812-816 Park ave. are to be demolished. The new three-story building will be tied in to a brick portion of the existing structures.

The new building, covering 33,900 square feet, should be completed by Aug. 30, 1963. More than 6,000 square feet in the present building will be retained.

The project has been postponed twice because of difficulties in setting up schedules for the various stages of demolition and re-

Area Students Compose 49% Of Freshmen

Richmond area students compose nearly half of this year's Freshman class, the registrar's office reported this week.

Metropolitan Richmond students make up 49 per cent of the new student enrollment of 969, with 466 students.

The remaining 346 Virginia students represent 35 per cent of the total, with 157 out-of-state students rounding out the final 16 per cent.

Of the state's 98 counties, Henrico's student contribution was 33, followed by Chesterfield with 20. Seventeen of the class came from Hanover and Fairfax counties, with Arlington supplying 15.

Hopewell and Norfolk followed Richmond in cities with 18 each, followed by Newport News, with 17.

North Carolina supplied 37 per cent of the out-of-state enrollment with 56 persons, while 16

Concert and Dance Set for Mid-Winters

By Pat Hensley

The Warren Covington Band has been selected to play for Mid-Winters, the Student Government Association announced last Wednesday.

The Dance Band Club will sign the Covington group to a $2,500 contract as soon as a place to hold the dance is selected, Pat Scott, SGA president, said.

Council also heard a proposed clause to extend representation in the SGA, discussed plans for a parade on May Dance week end and heard a progress report on the establishment of an intercollegiate council, a panel to discuss current controversial issues.

The Covington contract provides a concert from 5 to 7 p.m. and entertainment for a dance from 9 p.m. to midnight February 17. The concert will not be covered by Dance Band Club dues, Scott said, and a charge of $1 per person will be required.

Covington, former leader of the Tommy Dorsey orchestra, will bring a 15-member band and a vocalist to Mid-Winters.

The Dance Band Club decided to sign Covington instead of the earlier-proposed Duke Ellington Band when it learned that Covington's group would cost approximately $300 less. Also, Ellington's contract required that he play at inconvenient hours.

Amendment Proposed

In other action, Council heard a proposed amendment to the SGA constitution which would permit honorary societies to have two SGA representatives instead of the usual one representative and alternate.

George Winfree, president of the Psi Chi Honorary Society which is limited to selected students backgrounded in psychology, made the proposal after being questioned by Council regarding that organization's membership in the SGA.

Winfree explained that the "Psi Chi is not a club". He stated certain requirements for membership including a 2.0 average and 12 hours of psychology for undergraduate students. Definite requirements must also be met by graduate students, Winfree said.

"Due to the composition of our membership, we could not send one representative to each meeting," he said.

Council considered a motion that the constitution be amended, but

Scheduling Procedure Is Changed

By Susan Smith

A new method in the pre-registration procedure and a new rule handed down by the Academic Status Committee went into effect this week with the start of the semi-annual pre-registration.

Mrs. Ethel B. Riebe, registrar, today reminded students that the pre-registration period ends Wednesday and that all presently enrolled students who plan to continue studies must complete the procedure by that date.

The new pre-registration method requires instructors to make up class cards for the maximum number of students to be admitted to each class and section.

As the student obtains signatures for his courses during pre-registration, he will have a class slip filled out for him with the course and section number. Each department keeps the slips for its classes and will give them to the registrar at the end of pre-registration.

Chief Benefit

The chief benefit from this method is that if a student pre-registers for a course, at registration he is assured that no matter when he registers, he will have a seat in the class and section he had signed up for.

SGA Drive Nears End

Slave Sale Set for Tonight

The Phi Beta Lambda Slave Sale is scheduled tonight in the Gymnasium as the lagging Student Government Association Scholarship Drive enters its fourth week.

The sale, one of the biggest money producers in past drives, will give the highest bidders their choices of some 20 "slaves." These "slaves" are required to be weekend dates for their buyers and to perform menial chores such as car washing and book carrying.

Despite having the highest goal in its history ($2,000), contributions have been slow in reaching SGA Treasurer Pat Story. She said only $300 had been collected by Monday. Of this total, $130 was raised on the Freshman class's Pancake Supper last Sunday.

A folk Music Festival, sponsored by the Theater Associates, will be held Monday and Tuesday nights in the Studio Theater.

Several events have been scheduled after the drive deadline today to accommodate special situations. These include the Accidental Club which is presenting the Mozart Trio December 18 in the Mary Munford School Auditorium. A fashion show is planned to help raise the Distributors' Club drive pledge on January 19. The show will be held in the Shafer Street Playhouse. Another fashion show backed by the Hillel Club will take place in March in conjunction with Vogue Shoppes of Richmond.

Coffee will be sold during the intermissions of the RPI student play, "The Menaechmi" on the nights of the run. The Junior Class is sponsoring this sale. They have tentative plans for a fund-raising dance before the drive ends.

Lates will go on sale by the Women's Interdormitory Council tomorrow and extend until December 16. For a penny per minute the coed dorm student can purchase a late up to an hour. Freshmen may buy two lates, sophomores three, juniors and seniors four lates during the week-long period.

Great Expectations

The confusion that has marked past registration periods at RPI should be relieved somewhat by the new pre-registration procedure. The procedure, initiated by the Office of the Registrar, is effective with pre-registration now in progress.

Pre-registrations is designed to shorten the length of time required in registration at the start of each semester and to save the student the inconvenience of selecting courses and preparing a schedule of classes all in one day. But heretofore, students have complained that sections were filled before they had an opportunity to enroll and that no provision was made to reserve seats for them in certain elective courses, even though they had pre-registered. The new plan is aimed at alleviating these justified complaints.

Under the new system instructors, or a representative of each department, will prepare class cards for the maximum number of students to be admitted to each class and section they will teach. They will initial pre-registration forms, and a close card for each student, retaining the class card.

This means the departments will have a record after preregistration of enrollment to be expected in their courses and can plan accordingly.

Previously, no attempt was made to inform the department heads of the number of students pre-registered in their courses, and the department head did not learn until final registration how many students from other departments planned to take a given course in his department.

Thus, at the time of registration many students with late last initials found their pre-registered sections closed.

President Oliver gave verbal assurance at a recent conference with department heads that this "bumping" of students from a class for which they pre-registered will not occur again. Students' pre-registration for courses they are qualified to take will be honored; none will be bumped.

At the same conference it was understood that the new wrinkle of having departments prepare class cards in advance is also to eliminate the need for obtaining signatures during the actual registration period, except in cases of last-minute schedule changes.

The announcement of new pre-registration procedure coincided with an equally important announcement for the Committee on Academic Status, regarding changes in regulations concerning student's class programs.

The chief regulation—one certain to cause confusion and misunderstanding—is that which states: "No student may carry over 18 credits unless he makes a B average in the semester preceding his application to take an overload. The Maximum number of credits that a student will be allowed to take is 19." (The emphasis is the committee's.)

The only fault with this otherwise desirable regulation is its timing. Many students signed this fall for year courses and may be forced to cut them short at midyear. A few students may not be able to graduate on schedule because they could not plan in advance to comply with this regulation. This lack of notice suggests something akin to ex post facto law-making.

We understand that the committee will accept letters from department heads asking that exceptions be considered. The committee probably will be swamped with such requests. We suggest that effectiveness of the new regulation be held in obedience until next fall.

Freshman Elections Set for Thursday

Freshman class elections will be held Thursday in the Shafer st. Playhouse. Nominated to run for officers are: President, Judy Hewitt and John Davison; Vice President, Charles Gordon, Joan Levinson and Albert Briggs; Treasurer, Phyllis Hilton and Thomas Robertson; Secretary, Meredith Sembler and Judy Robb; and S.G.A. Rep., Nancy Nichols.

Charles Ellis Composed Play's Music
Music Major Is Native of Hopewell

—Bryant Photo

Ellis Composed 'Menaechmi's' Modern Music

Charles Ellis, a Music Education junior from Hopewell, is responsible for the music used in "The Menaechmi," playing its last two days tonight and Saturday in the Shafer Street Playhouse.

Ellis's music provides a background for the speeches in the drama by Plautus. In keeping with the "Roman-Modern" theme of the play, the music is also modern, including among other numbers a cha-cha.

"It is not known whether the original Roman farce included music, but the speeches are metrical and lend themselves well to music," said Ellis.

In addition to working eight hours a day for eight days on this music, Ellis conducts his own combo which is sometimes featured at RPI dances and other functions.

Since Ellis's band is primarily a dance band, it was necessary to select students from the Drama and Music Departments to play his music in "The Menaechmi."

Ellis's combo consists of five Music majors: Michiel Grady, David Davian, Arthur Martin, John Sharard, Barbara Gayle. Bill Wilson, who majors in Drama, will play the drums.

CORRECTION

In the November 17 issue of THE PROSCRIPT, Don Blackwell, Social Science major, was quoted as saying, "the Byrd Machine" has controlled Virginia for so long that the state has become too progressed . . . Virginia has not progressed enough, Blackwell actually said. THE PROSCRIPT regrets this error.

New Exhibit in Gym

Brenda Thurston, Art Education major, and Merlene Raynolds, Fine Arts major, are having a "two man show" in the Fine Arts Gallery, which began Monday and will end December 19.

Steve Yearick

Sophomore President Said to Be Versatile

By Linda Murphy

He not only heads the Sophomore class efficiently, but he also enjoys water skiing and bowling, plays three musical instruments, is a member in three campus organizations, and holds a part-time job.

Steve says that he prefers outdoor sports to indoor recreation. He especially likes to water ski at a lake five miles from his home in Greenville, S. C.

The 19-year old sophomore can also play the piano, organ and accordion. He has had ten years of piano lessons, two years of organ lessons and three years of accordion instruction. Although he doesn't find much extra time these days, Yearick feels that playing an instrument is "much fun in spare time," and plays "purely for my own enjoyment."

Loves Music

"I love music," he says emphatically. "Any kind except hill-billy."

The well dressed class president feels that it is very important to be well groomed all the time. His favorite outfit is an oxford cloth shirt, khakis, a sweater and a pair of Weejuns loafers.

"I like to wear a tux once in a while," he says, but he doesn't particularly care for men's hats. "I think that they're essential sometimes, but I don't like to wear them. They're uncomfortable."

Yearick has been a member of the German Club, Phi Beta Lambda and the Baptist Student Union.

He calls his job as cashier at the John Marshall Hotel "very interesting because I work with the public, and the public is sometimes pretty interesting." One of the advantages of his job, he adds, is the famous people that he meets. Yearick has seen Ted Mack, Mantovani, John Forsythe (star of T.V.'s "Bachelor Father"), Fran Allison, Vaughn Monroe and the pilot Ronald Conway, who survived the plane crash near Richmond a few weeks ago.

Plans to Be Executive

The blue-eyed General Business major plans to be an executive in a big company after he graduates. He is considering doing some post-graduate work in advertising, too.

This summer he worked for his father, selling mobile homes. His job was seeing prospects, the type of work he enjoys because it involves working with people.

His biggest headache as president of the sophomore class is people who don't cooperate. "There is one group that will really work," he noted. "But then there are the others who lack school spirit. Maybe it's because we are a professional school, and some say it's because the students are uninformed."

"Anyway," he brightened, "we've been lucky in everything we've done so far. Citing the recent successful Shout Party held for the SGA Scholarship Drive, Yearick pointed out that the class made its goal and had a large turnout.

While he doesn't care much for dancing, Steve is "a twister". About the new dance fad he says, "I like it—the Twist is real cool."

Expansion Is Planned For OT Department

The School of Occupational Therapy is in for some long-range expansion, says Cornelius A. Koolman, the new head of that school.

Mr. Koolman, who is replacing Elizabeth Messick who died last winter, says:

"We hope to get a larger number of students, with emphasis on prospective male students in the future. We also want to strengthen our present anatomy courses and add a graduate program.

"We hope to send the faculty back to clinical situations during the summer so we can keep abreast of the changing field," added the graduate of the University of Minnesota.

Mr. Koolman, who did his graduate work at the University of Southern California, adds "Basically, our curriculum is sound and I feel that I have much to work with for the present and future."

Mr. Koolman is a world traveler, having toured Europe in his col-

Davis Is President Of BSU Freshmen

Linda Davis, Journalism major from Woodbridge, has been elected president of the Freshman council of the Baptist Student Union.

Also elected recently by the club's Executive Council were Judy Hodge, Business major from Fredericksburg, vice-president; Sandra Beale, Journalism major from Ivor, secretary and Phyllis Hilton of Richmond, treasurer.

lege days and having served in India during the war.

He is known for his new and progressive teaching methods in Occupational Therapy, and he serves on the executive committee of the American Occupational Therapy Association. He also is a member of the Board of Management, the Curriculum Committee and is chairman of the Committee on Graduate Study.

Directories To Be Issued December 10

The student directories for this year have been sent to press and are expected to be issued by December 10.

Each student's name will be listed alphabetically in the directory with his local address and phone number, home address, major, and class. There will also be a listing of all dormitory phone numbers and addresses in the directory.

Now in its ninth year of publication, the pocket-size directory has been prepared by the Phi Beta Lambda, business students' organization.

Directories will be sold for 35 cents at the switchboard and in the Rotunda. Club members will also be selling copies.

Green Devils Home This Week Play Roanoke, Southeastern

RPI's basketball team will travel to Bridgewater College on Monday to play the Eagles and then return home to entertain Roanoke College on Wednesday and Southeastern University on Friday.

The Green Devils opened their season last Thursday, before an unusually large crowd, with a 74-60 win over the Medical College of Virginia.

The Green Devils lost a 80-59 decision to Lynchburg Saturday night. (On Tuesday the Devils played Newport News and on Thursday, Frederick College.)

The Green Devils staged a second-half comeback to overcome the Medicos. Trailing 39-33 at half-time, the Green Devils used a zone press, which enabled them to forge ahead.

The Devils gained the lead with eight minutes to play and won going away.

Defense Big Factor

Defense, which has been the major point stressed in practice sessions by Coach Allen, was the big factor in the Green Devils' opening victory.

On a night when shooting was rather poor, particularly in the first half, the defense was strong.

In the second-half the defense restricted the Medicos to four field goals.

Bobby Muse scored 21 points and gathered in 18 rebounds for the Green Devils.

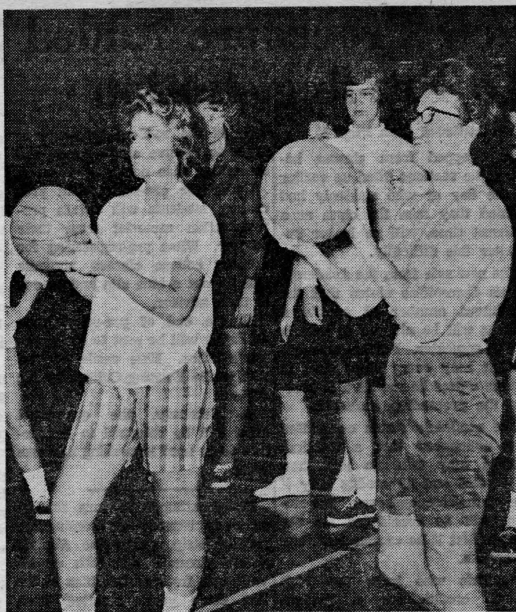

Three other Green Devils also hit in double figures — Steve Peebles and Ernie Wilkerson scored 11 and Jimmy Jones 10. The Lynchburg-RPI contest was a nip-and-tuck affair up until the final seven minutes of play.

The lead changed hands 15 times in the first 30 minutes. The Green Devils led the Hornets, 51-48, with seven and a half minutes to play.

The Hornets then went on a scoring spree in which they outscored the Green Devils, 26-8.

The Hornets' inner defense, during most of the game, was particularly effective against the Green Devils. The Hornets kept the middle bottled-up, and the Devils had few open shots from close range.

Mrs. Thomas Stanley Instructs Players
Woman's Coach Is New Here This Year

Women's Basketball Team Has Only Eleven Players

The women's varsity basketball team needs players.

"Only eleven girls have turned out thus far," says Mrs. Thomas E. Stanley, team coach, "and we usually have only eight or nine of them at a practice, making it impossible for us to scrimmage."

Mrs. Stanley urges all girls to try out for the team. "Anyone who has been hesitant because she does not have time to devote to practice should come out, and we would try to arrange the practices so it would not take up much time," she noted.

The Devilettes will play their first game January 4 against Thomas Jefferson High School. Their schedule, which is to be composed of 10 to 15 games, has not been completed.

Practice sessions are being held Mondays through Thursdays from 7:15 to 8:45 on a rotation basis, involving three nights a week.

The women's varsity basketball team is searching for "a real good manager", says Mrs. Thomas E. Stanley, the team's coach.

The manager could earn a letter for this job.

Her chief duties would involve taking care of the equipment, scheduling games, contacting referees, arranging meals on away trips, keeping time, scoring, writing letters and making phone calls.

OT Freshman Wins Card Design Contest

Doris Val, a freshman from Washington, is the winning designer of the Occupational Therapy Club's Christmas card contest.

The prize includes a dinner for two at the home of Miss Wolfe and Miss Chadwick, OT teachers, plus a surprise gift to be awarded at the next meeting of the O.T. Club.

Hasbeens Lose In Intramurals

The Rebels took over undisputed possession of first place in the men's intramural basketball league Monday by defeating the previously unbeaten Hastings Hasbeens, 41-37.

The down-to-the-wire battle was decided in the final minute of play, when Tommy Wright sank four foul shots to wrap up the win. Bobby Jones of Hastings' was the game's high scorer with 14 points. The Rebels placed three men in double figures.

Also on Monday, the Lafayette Dormitory rolled to its second victory against one defeat, by topping the New Vets, 37-22.

Hastings' team knocked the S.O.T.S. out of first place by a score of 41-39 on Wednesday, November 29. The Rebels beat the Lafayette team, 31-26, that same night.

construction work and co-ordinating these schedules with the architectural work.

Some Portions Will Remain

Of the present structure, the first floor chemistry laboratory and the physics laboratory will remain. The biology laboratories on the second floor and the physics drawing room will be redesigned to accommodate 26 students per section.

The basement of the new science building will house engineering technology, including laboratories for electronics, electricity, welding and air conditioning, heating and refrigeration classes.

Chemistry will be located on the first floor, containing four lecture rooms, three chemistry laboratories, seven offices, two storage rooms and a research room.

On the second floor will be biology and the School of Nursing with four classrooms, four storage rooms, a nursing lab and classroom, three biology labs and 10 offices.

Physics and psychology will occupy the third floor, including two drafting rooms, four lecture rooms, a physics laboratory and an observation room equipped with one-way glass for use by psychology students.

Until construction has been completed, the School of Science is minus four classroom. Rooms in the Hibbs Building and the Gymnasium are being utilized to contract the shortage. Due to the loss of facilities, all science classes have been dropped from the Evening College curriculum.

New Equipment Included

Of the $563,000 appropriated by the General Assembly, $30,000 will be used for new equipment. This includes new furniture for the analytical laboratory, a down-draft hood over each desk and gas, water and electricity at each desk, serving four persons.

The future addition of another wing is also included in the construction plans, adding another 17,976 square feet.

Architects for the new building are Walford and Wright.

The two smaller projects on Shafer St. and West Franklin St.—included in RPI's general plan of development—should get underway soon, Dr. Oliver said.

The ceiling in the Shafer Street Playhouse will be dropped and the electrical system will be re-organized. Facilities for an art gallery on two walls of the playhouse will be installed and the front stairway leading to the second floor will be closed in.

A two-story enclosed stairway will be constructed at the back of 800 W. Franklin St. and a sprinkler system will be installed in the building, which houses the Department of Social Work.

Covington Will Be Band For Dance

tabled the action until the SGA Rules Committee can investigate the proposal and present it to Council in the form of an amendment.

A committee on the organization of a parade for May Dance week end reported that the plan has been approved by the City Traffic Co-ordinator.

The committee will plan several alternate routes for a 40-to-45-minute parade to end at the mall on Shafer Street. Council voted to table action on the parade plans until a count can be procured of SGA organizations wishing to contribute decorated floats.

Vice President Penny Wetzler reported that of the six persons contacted to serve on the newly-established intercollegiate council, none had agreed to serve.

The council was organized at the SGA meeting last week, when it was decided that the first topic of discussion would be "Should RPI Separate from William & Mary." Penny said a few of the persons contacted had not yet made a decision.

President Scott announced that only 20 persons attended the SGA movie matinee last Saturday. The movies will be discontinued after January 5 if attendance doesn't improve, he said.

New Procedure Added To Pre-Registration

been dropped from classes because the sections filled up earlier in the day or who suddenly had learned they take the class at a different time, will no longer encounter this difficulty.

The new rule from the Academic Status Committee states that the maximum number of credits a student will be allowed to take is 19 per semester. Furthermore, no student may carry more than 18 credits unless he makes a B average the preceding semester.

The academic status committee also announced that a full-time student may take no less than 12 credits and 12 credits only if the committee approves. No student will be considered for the Dean's List if he carries less than 15 credits.

Students who have two high school credits for a modern language must take the second year of the modern language in order to receive credit for it, the committee also noted.

Under the pre-registration procedure, students will obtain pre-registration material from their advisor. When pre-registering for evening college classes, students will fill out a blue slip and give it to their advisor.

At the end of pre-registration all forms will be sent to the registrar's office. Blue cards will be sent to the Evening College by the advisor.

In February, the completed class will be returned to instructors to be used in making up class rolls.

The school received 803 college board scores, 339 more than last year. Of these, both verbal and math scores were higher than the previous year. The reading score was 407, and 1960's was 394. The math score was nine points higher than last year's, or 420 to 411.

Of the total applications received, 855 were accepted, 281 rejected and 205 cancelled. Eighty-seven failed to complete their applications.

Applications from Virginia totaled 1174; the remaining 254 were non-Virginians.

Career Cues:

"This age of specialization opens special opportunities for the well-rounded man!"

Robert Saudek, President
Robert Saudek Associates, Inc.

"The more specialists society creates to cope with its complexities, the easier it can be for a non-specialist to achieve success.

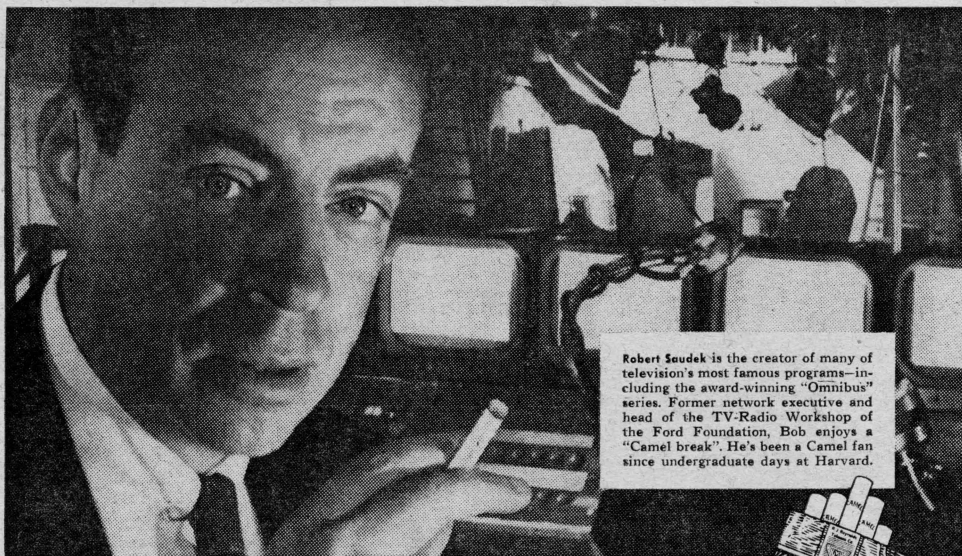

If that seems paradoxical, look at it this way: the more men who go out for specific positions on the ball club, the more chance you have to wind up as manager!

Today's world—in government, business, the arts, even science—needs the well-rounded man. He's the man who can see the entire picture...the man who can draw on a broad background of knowledge, evaluate the problem, then assign the details to specialists.

The world of entertainment may seem somewhat special, but it's a case in point. These days, it demands more of its people than ever before. Today's musical comedy score is often as sophisticated as grand opera. Drama draws heavily on psychology and history. Television productions are concerned with nuclear science and political science. If you've ever watched 'Omnibus' you may have seen how our productions have run the gamut of a wide range of man's interests.

So I suggest to you that even though you may concentrate on one special field of interest, keep your viewpoint broad. Keep your college curriculum as diversified as possible. Attend lectures and concerts, the theatres and museums. Above all, read and read, and listen and listen! But pay scant heed to the oracle who says there's no route to the top but that of specialization. I don't believe it!"

Robert Saudek is the creator of many of television's most famous programs—including the award-winning "Omnibus" series. Former network executive and head of the TV-Radio Workshop of the Ford Foundation, Bob enjoys a "Camel break". He's been a Camel fan since undergraduate days at Harvard.
