Pendleton Plays Are Cited

Biblical Play Tells Struggle Of Abraham

Mr. James D. Pendleton, assistant professor of English, has won a $500 prize for a play submitted to the committee of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.

The play, "The Oaks of Mamre," is the story of Abraham's struggle when told to sacrifice his son to God. The internal struggle of Abraham is depicted in a struggle between Abraham and Sarah.

"It is not reasonable to kill your son," Sarah argues. Abraham must struggle against her logical reasons and still find the strength to obey the will of God.

"His reason for having faith is something that cannot be proved," Mr. Pendleton said. The script follows the Bible, but Mr. Pendleton has added dialogue to fill out the story.

Several Speaking Parts

"The Oaks of Mamre" has seven speaking parts and the dialogue lasts for 30 minutes. Mr. Pendleton also wrote the opening and closing musical scores.

Mr. Pendleton received the check for his play from Howard Montgomery, assistant to the executive secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, and Dr. Robert W. Kirkpatrick, a professor at Union Theological Seminary, also a member of the committee.

Two years ago Mr. Pendleton wrote "The Defender" especially for production at RPI. It was produced four times.

He has finished a three act

Turner, Hensley To Change

Larry Prentice, senior Journalism student, was named this week as editor of the Proscript for the spring semester.

Prentice will succeed Patricia Hensley, senior, who will assume the position of news editor.

Stepping up to succeed Prentice as managing editor of the paper is Sandra Turner, also a senior.

The appointments were announced by Jack R. Hunter, Proscript advisor and head of the Journalism department.

Prentice, 25, is a resident of Richmond. He attended public schools at Richmond's Manchester High and graduated from Bennettsville High School, Bennettsville, S. C.

Prior to entering RPI, he served three years in the marine corps. Prentice has held the positions of news editor and managing editor of the Proscript.

Pat, a resident of Elkton, is 21. A graduate of Montevideo High School, she was editor of the Image here last school year and has won two state-wide creative writing awards in contests conducted annually by the American Association of University Women.

She has also held the positions of managing editor, features editor and associate editor on the school paper.

Sandra, 21, is a resident of Gaffney, S. C. and a graduate of high school there. She is a former associate editor and news editor of the Proscript.

Graduation to Be at Mosque; Dogwood Dell Is Rejected

By Sandra Turner

Graduation exercises will be held in the Mosque, Dr. Oliver announced Monday.

The Senior class officers had proposed in October that commencement exercises be held at Dogwood Dell, the amphitheater at Byrd park. After visiting Dogwood Dell, Dr. Oliver and the Special Events committee decided against the three-months-old proposal.

Dr. Oliver, Dean Roach, Dean MacDougall, Mrs. Dorothy Fierst and Mr. Raymond Hodges, members of the committee and Everett Jenkins, Senior class president, and Richard Duffner, Speaker of the House of Representatives, visited the site on January 28. Other members of the committee had seen the amphitheater earlier.

The two members of the committee and the deans met after returning from the site to discuss the proposal. Jenkins and Duffner were busy with other matters and did not attend.

Dr. Oliver said that although the seniors were not present, a copy of the questionnaire sent out by the Senior class containing their reasons for advocating the move to Dogwood Dell was available to the committee. Also, comments and suggestions made by students were considered.

The Senior class was informed of the decision in a letter to Jenkins from Dr. Oliver.

The letter stated, "Each member of the committee was impressed with the intelligent and thorough way in which the matter had been studied by your group prior to presenting the proposal."

Mr. Hodges, faculty marshal in charge of planning graduation exercises said, "We are interested now in having the best possible exercises at the Mosque."

The Special Events committee will begin work on graduation as soon as plans for Parents Week End and the Honors convocation have been completed.

SGA Drive Nears Goal Of $1,500

The Student Government Association's semi-annual scholarship drive, which ended January 31, was termed a success by SGA Treasurer and drive chairman Mary Burton.

"Contributions to the fund have not been totaled as yet, but we expect to near our $1,500 goal," Mary said.

Due to conflicting schedules and an inability to secure facilities, some clubs were unable to sponsor an activity to raise money for the drive. "If there had been more activities promoted by the various clubs, we would have surpassed our goal," Mary said.

Eleven students were awarded $100 scholarships for the spring semester from the money raised during the drive. This is the largest number of SGA scholarships to be awarded in a single semester

Alma Mater Contest Now Open for Entries

Two $50 bonds will be offered as prizes for original words and music in the RPI Alma Mater competition February 8 through April 8.

The purpose of the competition is to find an original alma mater for RPI. Words and music may be submitted separately or as a unit.

One $50 bond will be awarded for words and one for music. It is possible for one person to win both bonds. However, either words or music could be selected from a combined entry.

The competition is open to any enrolled student of RPI, its alumni and its faculty.

Judging will be conducted by a five-member committee representing students, alumni, and faculty. The English and Music departments each will be represented by one student and one faculty member. One member of the alumni will also serve as a judge.

All entries must be submitted to the chairman of the Competition committee, L. Wayne Batty. His office is located on the first floor of the Music School, 900 Park avenue.

Need for Alma Mater

An editorial in the Proscript on November 9 and efforts of L. Wayne Batty, chairman of the School of Music, have resulted in an organized competition for an RPI Alma Mater.

The purpose of the alma mater competition is to find an original alma mater for the Richmond Professional Institute. It is expected that such a composition would have the characteristics of a refined and stately alma mater. The competition is for words and/or music.

One $50 bond will be awarded for words and one for music. It is possible for one person to win both bonds. It is also possible that words could win the competition and not the music and vice versa. Therefore, it would be necessary to obtain a suitable counterpart from the pen of another person.

A Competition committee formed by Mr. Batty organized the competition and drew up the following rules:

1. The competition is open to any enrolled student of RPI, its alumni and its faculty.
2. All entries, words and music, must be original. Words and/or music may be submitted for judging.
3. Entries should not exceed 20 lines of poetry.
4. The music must be of such range that it can be sung by all people. It must be suitable for harmonization for all combinations of voices. It must have the properties that will make it adaptable for band and orchestra arrangement.
5. The music and/or the poetry must be submitted on paper no larger than 8½ x 11 typing paper or music paper. Words must be typewritten. Music must be written with black ink.
6. Manuscripts should be accompanied by a sealed envelope including the name of the composer and/or poet as well as the title. The envelope and the composition will be numbered by the chairman of the Competition committee. The envelope will not be opened until the alma mater has been chosen.
7. Judging will be conducted by a five-member committee representing students, alumni and faculty. Both the Music School and English Department will be represented on the committee.
8. The judges reserve the right to withhold awards if no entry is of sufficient quality.
9. The competition will open February 8, 1963 at 8 a.m. and close at 5 p.m. on April 8, 1963.
10. Manuscripts will not be returned. The writer and/or composer of the winning composition must surrender all rights and copyrights of publication to the Richmond Professional Institute. From the date of acceptance it will be solely the property of RPI.
11. All entries are to be submitted to the chairman of the Competition committee, L. Wayne Batty. His office is located on the first floor of the Music School, 900 Park Ave.

Umberger Is Named To Fill New Evening College Position

Paul M. Umberger, an instructor in the School of Business, has been named assistant director of the Evening College.

Mr. Umberger, in filling the newly created position, will assist Director Melvin E. Fuller in dealing with increasing administrative demands of the college. Mr. Umberger will continue teaching a full schedule of day classes including Business Math and Introduction to Business.

As assistant to the director, Mr. Umberger's specific duties will include planning the Evening School catalog, selecting faculty members and conducting a room survey.

Mr. Umberger was recommended by Dr. Oliver and approved by the Board of Visitors. The appointment was made in December and became effective February 1.

Milton Loses Value; But Just Briefly

Early purchasers of the textbook "John Milton," by Merritt Hughes, found that they could buy the English scholar's works at $6, instead of the correct price of $7.50. "This was due to an error on the part of a student that checked the books in," said Mr. M. O. Vanhorn, manager of the Book Store.

"So far, in all of the confusion a book store goes through in the first week or so, this is the first mistake that we have found," he continued. "As for the text, the people that got it for $6 were just fortunate, and the latter purchasers certainly not wronged, he said.

Fifth Source Added

Financial Aid Mounts for Students

By Sandra Beale

A recently-combined loan plan and small scholarship fund, the Johnson Memorial Scholarship-Loan Fund, now provides a fifth source of financial aid to RPI students.

Dean Johnston announced this week that applications for the larger student aid funds, including the General Assembly Undergraduate Scholarship Program, State Teachers Scholarships, National Defense Student Loans and the College Student Loan Plan will be available February 15.

The Johnson Memorial Scholarship-Loan Fund is available only to RPI students. It is the combination of the Dean of Students Loan Fund and the Johnson Memorial Scholarship Fund honoring former Dean of Students Dr. Margaret Johnson.

The primary purpose of the combined Johnson Memorial Scholarship-Loan Fund is to make small loans of $25 to $35 for 30 days without interest or for longer terms at four per cent interest. Loans are made only for school expenses.

The Undergraduate Scholarships, State Teachers Scholarships and National Defense Student Loans are awarded to applicants with financial need who show academic promise. The College Student Loan Plan of the State Education Assistance Authority enables Virginia residents to borrow funds to obtain a higher education.

National Defense Education Bill
 Funds are appropriated by Congress and distributed among participating colleges and universities. Each participating institution is required to contribute to the fund a sum equal to at least one-ninth of the amount contributed by the Federal government. Administration of the fund is handled by the institution.

The General Assembly Undergraduate Scholarship Program is for Virginia residents. These scholarships do not exceed $350. They are valid for one regular school year and may be extended by renewal of application and continuing eligibility. Total scholarships for a four-year degree program may not exceed $1,400. An additional scholarship not to exceed $350 may be granted to a student in a five-year degree program.

To be eligible for the Undergraduate Scholarships applicants must be legal residents of Virginia. They must have established records of good personal character and citizenship, have been accepted for admission by a state-supported institution, demonstrate that financial assistance is necessary in order to attend college, and be a regular full-time student enrolled in a curriculum leading to a baccalaureate degree.

Banks Show Aid

The State Education Assistance Authority, through insurance agreements with commercial banks, enables the banks of Virginia to make long term, personal loans to students to help pay their tuition.

Loans are made to persons who reside in Virginia and are accepted for enrollment or are in good standing at a state-supported institution of higher learning in Virginia. Eligible students wishing to apply for an Authority-insured loan may do so by making application at a participating commercial bank in Virginia. The loan may be made to students between 16 and 21 years of age after consultation with parent or guardian.

Loans may be made up to $750 for any one year, with an overall maximum for all years of $3,000. The charge on a loan is four and one-half per cent while the student is still in college and rises to five per cent six months after the student leaves college. The student may have as much as four years to repay the loan.

The State Teachers Scholarship Program provides $350 scholarships each year for qualified students who enter courses of study leading to teacher certification in Virginia.

The Undergraduate Scholarship funds are apportioned to the state institutions on the basis of the previous year's total enrollment of regular full-time Virginia residents. The allotment to RPI will be made in April. Last year RPI received $9,906 with an average of $300 per scholarship. The amount that RPI will receive from the National Defense Loans will be known in early summer. Last year the sum was $12,120 and each loan averaged $350.

Scholarships and loans are administered through the office of the Dean of Students. A scholarship committee receives and screens applications using transcripts. The need and academic ability of the applicants are primary considerations. Normally upper classmen are given prior consideration, but freshmen who reveal great talent and academic promise may also be considered.

Applications should be submitted to the Scholarship Committee before March 31 of the spring preceding the semester in which the applicant wishes to receive the aid. Applications received after this deadline will be placed on the waiting list. The deadline for new students is August 1.

Interviewers Visit Next Week

Representatives of three business firms and the city will interview students for job applications here next week.

The American Photographic Association representative will interview Business, Liberal Arts and Retailing majors on Monday, Feb. 18. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare will interview Applied Science majors Tuesday, Feb. 26.

The Pure Oil company will interview Business, Retailing, Liberal Arts and Distribution majors and the General Telephone company will interview Accounting, Business, Distribution and Retailing majors on Wednesday, Feb. 27.

Students interested in talking with these representatives should contact Mr. Edwards in the Business Department.

Senior Shows Art

Paintings by Betty Baker, a Fine Arts senior from Richmond, are on exhibit in the Fine Arts Gallery until February 15.

Distributors to Meet

The Distributive Education Club will meet at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Hibbs 303. Pictures for the Cobblestone will be taken.

UDC Sponsors Writing Contest On Civil War Historical Era

The Elliott Gray's Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy has offered a prize for the best essay on the subject "Richmond Women; 1863," Dr. Albert A. Rogers, Director of the History Department has announced.

The essay contest is held each year and the best essay is selected by members of the history faculty here. The winner of the contest will be awarded the James T.

Walker Virginia Historical Medal. The presentation will be made by the president of the Richmond Chapter of the UDC at a ceremony held in July, 1963.

The best essay submitted in 1962 was written by Mrs. Emma Matheny, who graduated in June 1962. She is presently teaching at Varina High School.

Dr. Rogers is enthusiastic about the contest and encourages any student who can to enter. He said that the papers should be of sufficient length, well written, and well documented. Any one interested in entering the contest should contact Dr. Rogers for further details.

Scholarship Goal Nearly Reached

since the formation of the drive.

The recipients of the SGA scholarships were selected by a screening committee composed of the executive body of the SGA. The grants were awarded on the basis of financial need and scholastic average.

The events that were held by campus clubs to raise money for the drive proved highly successful. The "Folk Sing," sponsored by the Junior class, was attended by an estimated 300 persons last Sunday in the Gymnasium. They more than made their $100 pledge.

Those attending the Folk Sing were provided with four hours of musical treat by a group of local entertainers. The group was headed by John Bassett, a Negro folk song artist from Virginia Union University, and The Virginians, a popular recording group which currently has a record listed in the top 10. Several RPI students also participated in the entertainment.

Varsity Club Hasbeens Vie Again Monday

The Varsity Club will attempt to retain sole possession of second place in the men's intramural basketball league Monday when it entertains the third-ranking Hasbeens.

The Varsity Club (9-2) and the Hasbeens (8-3) have met once before this season, with the Hasbeens posting a 62-60 triumph. The Hasbeens have lost their two leading scorers, however, their replacements, Bubba Crone and Ed Tucker were impressive in the Hasbeens' win over the German Club Monday. The Varsity Club has lost its fine guard, Jimmy Jett, via graduation.

The Sots ran their winning streak to 11 Monday with a 91-61 trouncing of 712#2. The Sots got double-figure production from Frank Williams (20), Ed Coffman (16), Bernie Mann (14) and Ken Temple (12). Junior Balderson had 19 for 712 and Jon Motley 14.

The Hasbeens raced to a 38-28 halftime lead against the winless German Club and then went on to rout the tailenders, 81-52. The Hasbeens got 17 points each from Ralph Clark, (Bubba) Crone and (Ed) Tucker. Ken Magill added 10. Jim Antonick paced the German Club with 27 points, 19 coming in the first half. Don Archuleta had 18.

Intramural notes—The University of Virginia plans to hold an inter-collegiate intramural basketball tournament March 16. If there is sufficient interest, the tourney will be an eight-team affair. An All Star team from here will be selected soon to represent RPI in the tourney. The All Star team will be selected by intramural director Dave Magill, by the team managers and by the intramural referees.

Pep Club Charters Bus For Cage Tilts

The Pep Club announced this week that it will charter a Virginia Transit Company bus to the RPI-Randolph-Macon contest next Friday and to Hampden-Sydney, the following Tuesday.

The bus will leave RPI at 5 p.m. for Hampden-Sydney and at 6 p.m. for Randolph-Macon. The fare will be $.60 to Randolph-Macon and $1.70 to Hampden-Sydney. Persons interested in attending these away contests must contact Mrs. McGinty in gym 14.

Devilette Cagers Play Tomorrow

RPI's Devilette basketball team will be trying to record its first win of the season Saturday when the team travels to Fredericksburg to meet Mary Washington College.

The Devilettes began play just before the examination break—losing twice to Bridgewater's Eaglettes in their only contests.

Female Tennis Players Sought

Female students interested in playing on the Devilettes' tennis team are asked to contact Coach Nancy Alexander immediately in room four of the gym.

Green Devils Close Out (8-1) Home Slate This Week with Frederick, Old Dominion

Bulletin: RPI's Green Devils dropped their sixth game in eight outings on the road Tuesday night by a score of 102-82 to Old Dominion College.

RPI's exciting basketball team will be playing "Auld Lang Syne" to the home folks this week, for the Green Devils close out the home part of their schedule by hosting Frederick College Saturday night and Old Dominion Tuesday. The Devils have won eight of nine at home, losing only to powerful Randolph-Macon.

As of Monday night, the Green Devils were well on their way to posting the best record in the history of the school. The Green Devils were 10-6 overall and 4-3 in the Little Eight. The team also played Old Dominion Tuesday and Lynchburg last night—the results will appear in next week's Proscript.

After Tuesday night's contest with Old Dominion, the Green Devils will have only four remaining contests—with Randolph-Macon on the 15th, Hampden-Sydney, the 19th, and Pembroke, 22-23.

Tuesday will also be "trophy night" as a trophy will be presented to the most valuable player, and the Edward M. Bigger award will go to the individual who has displayed outstanding sportsmanship. Voting for the most valuable player, in all probability, will be

Baseball Workouts Began Wednesday

Baseball workouts for pitchers and catchers began officially Wednesday in the gymnasium.

Coach Ed Allen announced that the rest of the candidates will not have to report until March 4. Any battersmen who did not report Wednesday are urged to report immediately. The gym will be open each weekday from 3 to 4 p.m., for workouts.

very close with George Shaheen, Tommy Walsh, Bobby Muse and Jimmy Jones all in the running. Walsh (18.9), Shaheen (18) and Muse (15.1) are three of the Little Eight's top scorers, while Jones has been an outstanding floor general.

The Green Devils kept their perfect record of not having lost twice to the same team in tact Saturday night by edging Bridgewater's Eagles, 75-71. The Eagles had previously trounced the Devils, 78-59, at Bridgewater. "The difference in this one and our first contest with Bridgewater was obviously shooting," said coach Ed Allen.

In our loss to the Eagles, we couldn't buy a basket but we did very well (shooting wise) Saturday night." The Green Devils hit 32 of 67 shots for 48 per cent and the Eagles only 26 of 82 for 32 per cent.

Big Bobby Muse and George Shaheen combined for 49 points in the Devils' win over Bridgewater but the Green Devils couldn't grab the lead until 12:32 was left in the contest. Muse and Shaheen then hit on jumpers to give the Devils a 49-45 advantage. The Devils piled up a six-point lead with 7:29 left. The Eagles sliced the margin to three at the 2:40 mark, but Muse came back to score two baskets and Jimmy Jones' driving layup finished the scoring. Muse had 27 points and Shaheen 22.

Both the Eagles and the Green Devils appeared to be a bit rusty after the two-week examination period layoff.

The Green Devils have scored 1245 points in 16 contests this season for a 77.9 average. The defense has been yielding an average of 74.6 points per game. Saturday night's contest with Bridgewater was the first contest in which (Tommy) Walsh has failed to score in double figures. Shaheen has been out of double figures twice and Muse three times.

THE CURSE OF THE CAMPUS: NO. 1

Hate me if you will, but I must speak. We college types are far too complacent. Sure, we've got plenty to be proud of. We've got atom smashers, we've got graduate schools, we've got new peaks in scholarship, new highs in academic honors. And yet, in the midst of these triumphs, we have failed dismally to make any progress in solving the oldest and most horrendous of all campus problems: we've still got roommates.

To be sure, all roommates are not bad. There is the well-documented case of Hilquit Globe, a student at the Manhattan College of Agriculture, majoring in curds and whey, who admitted publicly that he actually liked his roommate—an odd admission when you consider that this roommate, Mervis Trunz by name, was frankly not too winsome a fellow. He practiced his tympani in his room, he kept an alligator, and he collected airplane tires.

But, on the other hand, Mervis bought two packs of Marlboro Cigarettes every day and gave one of them to Hilquit—and I ask you—who can stay mad at a man who gives you Marlboro Cigarettes? Who, upon tasting that flavorful blend of Marlboro tobaccos, upon drawing through that pure white Marlboro filter, upon exulting in this best of all possible cigarettes, Marlboro—who, I say, can harden his heart against his neighbor? Certainly not Hilquit. Certainly not I. Certainly not you, as you will find when you scurry to your nearest tobacconist and buy a supply. Marlboros come in soft pack or Flip-Top Box. Tobacconists come in small, medium, and large.

Today Molly is Paying off her debt...

But I digress. Roommates, I say, are still with us and I fear they always will be, so we better learn how to get along with them. It can be done, you know. Take, for instance, the classic case of Dolly Pitcher and Molly Madison.

Dolly and Molly, roommates at a prominent Midwestern girls' school (Vassar) had a problem that seemed insoluble. Dolly could only study late at night, and Molly could not stay awake past nine o'clock. If Dolly kept the lights on, the room was too bright for Molly to sleep. If Molly turned the lights off, the room was too dark for Dolly to study. What to do?

Well sir, those two intelligent American kids found an answer. They got a miner's cap for Dolly! Thus, she had enough light to study by, and still the room was dark enough for Molly to sleep.

It must be admitted, however, that this solution, ingenious as it was, had some unexpected sequelae. Dolly got so enchanted with her miner's cap that she switched her major from 18th Century poetry to mining and metallurgy. Shortly after graduation she had what appeared to be a great stroke of luck: while out prospecting, she discovered what is without question the world's largest feldspar mine. This might have made Dolly very rich except that nobody, alas, has yet discovered a use for feldspar. Today Dolly, a broken woman, squeezes out a meagre living making echoes for tourists in Mammoth Cave.

Nor has Molly fared conspicuously better. Once Dolly got the miner's hat, Molly was able to catch up on her long-lost sleep. She woke after eight days, refreshed and vigorous—more vigorous, alas, than she realized. It was the afternoon of the annual Dean's tea. Molly stood in line with her classmates, waiting to shake the Dean's hand. At last her turn came, and Molly, full of strength and health, gave the Dean a firm hand-shake—so firm, indeed, that all five of the Dean's knuckles were permanently fused.

The Dean sued for a million dollars, and, of course, won. Today Molly, a broken woman, is paying off her debt by walking the Dean's cat every afternoon for ten cents an hour.

© 1963 Max Shulman

We, the makers of Marlboro and the sponsors of this column, will not attempt to expertise about roommates. But we will tell you about a great pocket or purse mate—Marlboro Cigarettes—fine tobacco, fine filter, fine company always.

Sales Management Lectures Draw Sixty-Four Firm Representatives

Sales Market Seminar Starts This Month

A sales management seminar sponsored by the School of Distribution and the Sales Marketing Executives of Richmond, Inc., began here Monday.

The seminar is designed to provide a foundation of practical sales management principles for planning, organizing, training and controlling activities of salesmen.

Emphasis is placed on the techniques of effective sales leadership.

The sessions will continue February 11, 18, 25 and March 4 and 11, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in Hibbs 303. Lectures, demonstrations, question-and-answer periods and group discussion will highlight the program.

Subjects to be discussed in the seminars on Mondays will be, on February 18, "Plan Your Work and Work Your Plan"; on February 25, "Increasing Sales Through Training in Professional Selling Techniques, Field Supervision and Individual Counseling"; March 4, "Increasing Sales Through Individual Counseling"; March 4, "Increasing Sales Through More Productive Sales Meetings." At a dinner meeting March 11, the topic will be "The Sales Manager Makes Decisions and Provides Leadership."

Speakers for coming sessions are Al P. Dodge of the Bank of Virginia, February 11; Cloyd S. Steinmetz, director of sales training at Reynolds Metals Co., February 18; Boyd A. Probert, businessman, sales executive and educator, February 25; Ray M. Ayres, supervisor of the Distributive Education Service of the Richmond public schools, March 4, and Dr. Roy B. Eastin, professor at George Washington University, March 11. Donald M. Bernard of the Washington Post spoke Monday afternoon.

Sixty-five sales personnel from Richmond firms registered for the courses.

Original Revue Set for Tonight

"What Is This Bit?," a revue written by RPI Drama students, will be presented by the Theater Associates tonight in the Shafer Street Playhouse at 7:30 and 9 p.m. Admission is 50 cents.

Proceeds from the show, which was also presented last night, will go to the department's scholarship fund.

The scholarship, which is awarded each year to a Drama major, was established in 1952 as a memorial to Jack Joyce, a Drama student who was killed in an automobile accident in 1952.

Jean Caseino Resigns Office

Jean Caseino resigned recently as Student Government Association secretary.

Jean said in a letter to the SGA that she resigned because of plans to transfer to another school.

A new secretary to fill the vacated position will be elected by the House of Representatives. Nominations made in the House will be voted on the following week. Those nominated must be members of the House or the Honor Court and must be members of the Junior class. They must have good academic records.

The SGA secretary is a non-voting member of the Senate, responsible for keeping and filing the minutes of the House and the Senate. The secretary also serves as secretary of the Honor Court.

Comets Will Play At Sophomore Hop

The Sophomore class will sponsor a sock hop next Friday from 8 until 12 p.m., in the Gymnasium.

Music will be by the Comets. Cost will be 50 cents stag and 75 cents drag.
