

PROSCRIPT

Second-class postage paid at Richmond, Va.

RICHMOND PROFESSIONAL INSTITUTE

Published weekly (during the school year) except during holiday and examination periods.

Vol. 45—No. 2

Richmond, Va., Friday, October 2, 1964

Tel. 353-2711

Juniors Watch as Freshman Rats Wriggle Out of Trap on Shafer Court Ceremonies
Rat Court Was Part of Yearly Freshman Servitude to Upperclassmen Wiles.

Gormus Photo

Rats Turn About Today; Dance Set Tomorrow Night

By Randolph Goode

"Vengeance is mine," saith the poor Rats. For today is the Rats' turn to get back at the Juniors. Every dog, or in this case, Junior, has his day, and now it is day of the Rat.

Today is Turn-About Day and traditionally brings to a close the 1964 edition of the RPI Rat.

The climax of the week comes tomorrow night at 8:30 p.m. in the gymnasium when the Rat King and Rat Queen are crowned to reign over the Rat Dance. Admission is free.

The 10 members of the Junior class who comprised Rat Court will choose as king and queen, a freshman boy and girl to symbolize sportsmanship and school spirit. The king and queen will be chosen on basis of their participation and attitude during the week.

Rat Court and members of the Junior class who have paid their dues have been keeping the Rats very busy this week.

Members of the Rat Court are: Paulette McCall, Art, Roanoke; Gordon Conner, Distribution, Roanoke; Cathy Canady, Commercial Art, Alexandria; Howard Koch,

(Continued On Page 4)

Dean's List Includes 62 Students

Sixty-two students were placed on the Dean's List for the 1964 spring semester. The list was released by the registrar's office during summer vacation.

This was an increase of 10 over the fall Dean's List but was 25 less than the 1963 spring semester Dean's List.

An academic average of 2.5 with no grade below a "C" is required for Dean's List eligibility.

Dean's List students from the Richmond area are: Judith Gray Adams, Mary Catherine Baggett, John Henry Barnett, Kamlyn Barton, Theron Potter III, George Raymond Biley Jr., Emily Carol Braxton, Evelyn Moran Cavanaugh, Ruth Adams Clyborne, John Edward Dodson, Mary Helen Dugan, Billie L. Elmore, Barbara Harrington Haymans, James A. Lawless II, Merle Spracher James, George Walter Jessup and John Leslie Long.

Also Virginia Anderson Mistr, Jacqueline Marie Moore, Caroline Sanderson Pace, Phyllis Louise Palmieri, Mary Jordan Saunders, Mildred Picon Schneider, Betsy Baldwin Shanholtz, Leona Ruth Sil-

(Continued On Page 2)

Faculty Adds 47 Members, Totals 201

Forty-seven new full and part-time members have been added to the list of instructors, pushing the total to 201, according to Miss Virginia Rouse, assistant to Dr. J. Kenneth Roach, Dean of the College.

Of the new teachers, 34 are full-time and five are graduates of RPI.

Changes in the returning administration include Richard E. MacDougall's return to duties of the Dean of Men. During the absence of Russell A. Johnston, who accepted a $1,800 grant for one year of study, MacDougall was Acting Dean of Students. Johnston resumed his position as Dean of Students in August.

Thomas C. Holloway, who served as Dean of Men and assistant professor of Dramatic Art last year, has taken a full-time position as assistant professor of Dramatic Art.

Formerly a part-time teacher in the Department of Art Education, Mrs. Margaret J. Peritt has been appointed to the newly-formed position of assistant to the Dean of Women. She will also be an assistant instructor in Arts and Crafts.

William O. Edwards will remain as associate professor of Business, while promoting better public relations for the college as Director of Development.

The new Director of the Evening College is John A. Mapp.

Dr. W. R. Parker was named to the new position of Director of Guidance and Counseling.

New teachers and respective departments include:

School of Art—Mrs. Viola E. Butzner, part-time; Richard E. Kervorkian, instructor of fine arts; Francis C. Doane, part-time; Boyer G. Richardson, part-time; William L. Joel, II, part-time, and Mrs. Margaret Peritt, assistant instructor of arts and crafts.

School of Business—Preston A. Wilhelm and Arthur L. Walker, both part-time.

School of Distribution—James R. Looney, instructor of advertising; Mrs. Dianne W. Brewington, Robert R. Ferguson and Mrs. Fay R. Wilmer, instructors of distributive education.

School of Education—James W. Bailey, director, Mrs. Jeanne C. S. Lynch, assistant professor of English education; Glenn Murphy, assistant professor of science; Mrs. Elizabeth A. Royster, instructor of physical education and Vincent L. Sexton, instructor of social science education.

School of Engineering Technology—Charles W. Bilmont, instructor, and Robert S. Gay, assistant professor.

History—Mrs. Idele K. Macpherson, part-time.

Department of Languages and Literature—Clyde Jones, assistant professor of English; John S. MacKenzie, assistant professor of Eng-

(Continued On Page 4)

Rathbone Will Appear Here Friday, Oct. 16

English actor Basil Rathbone will bring his unique presentation, "In and Out of Character," to the gymnasium at 8:30 p.m., October 16.

The presentation will entail a dramatic performance of selections from the works of the English-speaking world's great poets, novelists and playwrights.

The program will include works of Edgar Allan Poe, A. E. Housman, Robert Browning and William Shakespeare. Also featured will be reminiscences of Rathbone's many-faceted career in the theatre.

Students and faculty may obtain free advance tickets in the southern end of the Student Personnel Office during October 7, 8 and 9. Tickets may also be picked up at the same location during the week of October 12-16 when they will be on sale to the general public at $1.50 each.

Russell A. Johnston, dean of students, said it has been his experience that a personality of this type generally draws a capacity crowd in the school's gymnasium, which has an estimated 1,000 seats.

Rathbone's appearance at RPI is being sponsored by the Student Activities Committee.

Rathbone is generally remembered for his long-time movie role of Sherlock Holmes, the English fictional detective based on novels by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

Basil Rathbone
The Movie's Sherlock Holmes

Sales Total $1,100 At Book Exchange

Student Book Exchange Manager Landon Wooldridge, Sophomore Distribution major from Yorktown, announced that approximately 375 books, have been sold by the exchange for about $1,100.

Sales this semester were increased about 10 per cent over last semester, Wooldridge said.

"Had the edition change of several textbooks not occurred, he said, 'book business would have been doubled.' The exchange will handle about 1,500 books next semester, according to Wooldridge.

Alpha Delta Rho, sponsor of the Student Book Exchange, is preparing a newsletter for Distribution students, the letter will include news of the School of Distribution. Tentative publication date is the end of the month.

House Approves Tests to Alternates

Several changes were called for in the Student Government Association constitution in the House meeting Tuesday night.

Motions passed which were subject to Senate approval were that all alternates must take the SGA test with the delegates at the third House meeting of the year. Also approved by the House was motion calling for an advisor or faculty member to be a part of each club represented in the House.

"Soul Senders" Is Dance Feature

"Shake A Tail Feather, Part I," a dance featuring the "Soul Senders" with "Little Tommy and the Out of Sights," will be presented by the German Club, 8-12 p.m., October 10 in the Gymnasium.

Rick Townsen, German Club president and a senior Business major from Trenton, New Jersey, said, "The 'Soul Senders' are being brought to the campus in this first of a series of big events planned by the club with the hopes that we can bring more bigger and better bands for future events."

The "Soul Senders," a newly-reorganized group having several members of the now disbanded "Nine Nobles," is composed of three saxophones, one trumpet, two guitars, drums, an electric organ, and three singers.

Tickets for the dance are $2.00 per couple or $1.25 stag.

PROSCRIPT

901 W. Franklin street, Richmond Virginia

Sandra Carolyn Beale, Editor
C. Richard Harrison, Managing Editor
E. C. Jones, Jr., Business Manager
Kenneth Wayne Boettcher, News Editor
Samuel Cary Shield, Sports Editor
Jeffress Frances Hudson, Features Editor
P. A. Gormus, Jr., Photo Editor
David A. Harvey, Photo Editor
Represented for National Advertising
by National Advertising Service, Inc.
420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.
Member:
Associated Collegiate Press
Virginia Intercollegiate Press

Eggs For Egos

"Wee, sleekit, cowrin, tim'rous beastie . . ."

Thus did the 18th century poet Robert Burns describe a mouse in November, 1785.

Such a description could scarcely be applied to the 1964 RPI version of that tiny creature's relative, the rat.

Although they obliged their Junior masters by carrying out the many tasks to which they were assigned, the spirited members of the Class of '68 could not be termed as timid or meek. With an air of devilishness, they managed to "get the upper hand" on several occasions and caused a cry of "REBELLION" to sound from Junior lips.

As methodically as smooth-running machines, Junior minds produced schemes to entertain or plague the servant group. In the spirit of the week, the Rats accepted their assignments as they planned for this day of reckoning when roles are reversed.

We are afraid that the taste of superiority and power will have strong appeal for the servant-spoiled Junior. A week of feudal-system life may have ruined him.

Now we will view the ego-depressing action of the Freshmen. Today the Juniors prove if they can take what they so generously heaped on the ex-Rats.

How about it, Juniors. Is the feudal system still attractive on that side of the whipped cream and eggs?

Maybe TV?

Without a song.

That's what we might be left with. The proposed campus radio station seems to have gone up in the air with a puff of lost kilocycles.

Dean of Students Russell A. Johnston told us he had certain facts concerning the station but referred us to Dr. Lewis C. Goldstein, chairman of the radio steering committee.

Dr. Goldstein said he knew nothing of the status of the station except that it was the same as last spring when the steering committee completed its report and presented it to Dr. Oliver.

And so the report must still rest on Dr. Oliver's desk.

We have heard from several reliable sources that the administration has decided to dump the project. The money supposedly appropriated for the campus radio station reportedly is going to go for the completion of the Student Center project.

If the radio project lies dormant for much longer, the work of the steering committee will be wasted and the project washed down the drain of bureaucracy.

We frankly think a full-time radio station will do much to help solve the communication problem on this campus. (At the same time, we here resolve to try and improve this newspaper.) Not only would a vital area of communications be solved but an instructional aspect will be set up for students in drama, speech, journalism and engineering technology.

We are not advocating the abandonment of the sorely needed Student Center. What we are saying is that time is valuable and when so much time and effort is spent on a worthwhile project some result should be had.

Quick and prompt action, or at least, a definite understanding, should be resolved concerning the campus radio station.

C. R. H.

Campus Calendar

- October 3—Rat Dance, 8-12 p.m., gymnasium.
- October 4—Alpha Sigma Sigma meets, 6:30 p.m., Hibbs 303.
- October 5—German Club meets, 6 p.m., Hibbs 403.
Faculty Concert, 8:30 p.m., Hibbs 203.
- October 7—Fashion Club meets, 2-4 p.m., Hibbs 407.
Cottillion Club meets, 6 p.m., Hibbs 303.
Hillel Foundation meets, 12-2 p.m., 800 W. Franklin, Room 2.
- October 9—Crafts Guild meets, 8-10 p.m., Shafer Street Playhouse.

"Indian Jim"

Former Jug Buster Singer Fills Richmond Folk Demand

A former member of Dragline Dave's Original Galvanized Jug Busters is making his presence felt among Richmond's folk-singers.

Rick Richardson, a Commercial Art senior from Lynchburg, is now considered the standard bearer of folk music at RPI.

Richardson's music career began 8 years ago. He began singing folk music while attending Wingate College in North Carolina a couple of years ago, where he was a member of a group known as "The Fogs".

Since that time he has won acclaim as a folk-singer both on and off the RPI campus. He won the RPI Folk Festival last year, and has performed at dances, hootenannies and private parties.

His off-campus performances include such places as: Hollins College, where he played with the Fanny Hill Singers; the Folk Festival in Newport, Rhode Island, and the Cellar Door in Washington, D. C. With this group he went under the alias of "Indian Jim."

Richardson writes many of his own songs and says, "I hope to get some of them copyrighted."

"In the future I'm planning on doing a greater amount of blues," he added.

"Some of the artists who I feel are a source of inspiration to me are Johnny Cash, Bob Dylan, and John Hammond," he said.

Richardson appears regularly at Richmond's Coffee House and makes frequent appearances at other folk centers in Richmond.

Folk singing has become popular on college campuses across the country. This popularity has resulted in the birth of local singers who usually originate from a college campus.

RPI has many talented students who have made their mark as folk-singers both on and off the campus. Oddly most of them are not Music students, but come from a varied selection of departments.

This is what makes folksinging popular—it can be enjoyed by everyone at any age.

Last year a Folk-Jazz Festival, featuring entertainment in jazz and folk music, was presented here. Many RPI folk singers were included in the entertainment.

Richardson sang in a trio called the Richmond folk trio.

Harvey Photo

Folk Singing Rick Richardson

He Once Sang With Dragline Dave's Jug Busters

Card System Ends Meal Books Due

Mr. Edward P. Bigger, cafeteria manager, explained that the delay of meal ticket books is due to the failure of the printer to fulfill his contract. Mr. Bigger said the meal books are supposed to be here any day this week.

Supplementary cards containing their name and number have been issued to boarding students. Each time the student goes through the line the cashier writes down both name and number and the amount being charged. The total amount will be torn out of their second booklets to avoid a holdup in the line.

Mr. Bigger also announced that students may use the Faculty Dining Room during the dinner hours to relieve crowded conditions. He said the cafeteria is serving about one-third more persons than last year.

Dean's List

For Spring Semester Grades 62 Top Students Are Named

(Continued From Page 1)

ver, Carole Knighton Smith, Carole Lanette Steinmann, Joyce Marie Taylor, Joan Homel Thompson, James Braxton Vassar, Carol Sampson Waddell, and Phyllis

Rev. Atkins to Speak

The Rev. Henry L. Atkins Jr., curate of St. James' Church here and chaplain to Episcopal students at RPI, will speak on "The New Morality" at 6 p.m. Sunday at the Canterbury meeting. The meeting will be held at 6 p.m. at St. James' Church.

Music Workshop Set

Bassoonists—students and their teachers—from throughout the state will get together at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow here. The gathering, sponsored by the Music Education Department, will be led by Donald Charnock, newcomer to the Music faculty.

Olivia White.

Other Virginia students were: Virginia Carol Atkinson, McLean; Clarence Leaton Jr., Stony Creek; Karen Kay Balding, Portsmouth; Charlotte Marie Breedon, Manassas; Carol Scott Bruce, Farmville; George Yolande DeVignier, Virginia Beach; Carol Lee Evans, Arlington; Judith Ann Farnsworth, Falls Church; Evelyn Mae Graham, Staunton; Ruta Graubics, Waynesboro; Sandra Rose Johnston, Holland; Janice J. Moody, Arlington, and John William Porter, Jr., Hopewell.

Also Sarah Hayes Price, Danville; Mary Ann Rasor, Alexandria; Caroline Stitzer Rock, Ashland; Edwin Howard Satterwhite, Midlothian; Katherine Lee Taylor Schewel, Lexington; Rudolph Owens Shackelford, Gloucester; Robert Debenham Shoffner, Charlottesville, and Robert Scott Tyler, Hopewell.

Out-of-state students are Elen

Jarvie Baker, Scotch Plains, N. J.; Jaye Patricia Brown, Pittsboro, N. C.; Janice Barbara McCouch, Millville, N. J.; Phillip Baxter Meggs, Florence, S. C.; Carolyn Jean Robinson, Prince Frederick, Md.; George Edwin Starr, Thomasville, N. C.; Virginia Clarke Team, Camden, S. C.; and Judith Ann Wood, Princeton, W. Va.

Combo to Play

The Checkmates, a local rock and roll combo, will play Friday night, Nov. 6 in the gymnasium as a part of the Harvest Ball weekend sponsored by the Dance club and sophomore class.

The group played here for last semester's May Carnival as a part of the World's Fair Weekend.

Dayna Parker, sophomore class president, said she hopes the expansion of Openings dance to a weekend affair will draw more students to the dance.

Alumna Back As Instructor After 10 Years

"I am pleased with the many changes which have taken place at RPI since I was here ten years ago. The school has had to overcome many odds to grow as fast as it has, and it is to be commended on its efforts," said Mrs. Elizabeth Simpson Royster, a 1954 graduate, who returns this year as an instructor in physical education.

Instructing girls in many team participation sports as well as such individual sports as bowling, tumbling and swimming will be Mrs. Royster's chief responsibility.

Mrs. Royster has previously spent three years as head Physical Education Director at the YWCA and five years as a coach at John Marshall High School.

While attending RPI, Mrs. Royster excelled both on the athletic field and in the classroom. She was captain of the varsity hockey and basketball teams as well as President of the Women's Athletic Association and Honor Court Speaker. She was vice-president of her Junior Class and Secretary of her Senior Class. These activities enabled her to win a leadership key in her senior year.

Mrs. Royster will also be used as an assistant by Miss Nancy Alexander, head of the women's physical education program.

"I have many nice memories of RPI," said Mrs. Royster, "and I am looking forward to being part of the school again."

Faculty Shows Creative Works

The Fine Arts department is sponsoring a showing of faculty paintings and sculpture in the studio gallery on the 3rd floor of the Gymnasium.

Participating in the show are: Mr. David Alexick, part-time Fine Arts instructor; Mr. Maurice Bonds, professor, Fine Arts; Mr. Jewett Campbell, assistant professor, Commercial Art; Mrs. Eleanor Carlson, part-time instructor, Fine Art.

Also Mr. Richard E. Kevorkian, part-time instructor, Fine Art; Mr. Bernard M. Martin, instructor, Fine Art; Mr. Herman M. Meyer, part-time instructor, Fine Art; Miss Theresa Pollack, professor, Fine Art; Mr. Charles C. Renick, associate professor, Fine Art; and Mr. David Sauer, part-time instructor, Fine Art.

"The next show," said Mr. Bonds, head of the Fine Arts department, "will contain work done by alumni and will be a part of this year's homecoming plans."

The art department plans 14 exhibitions this year.

Bradshaw Tells Rally To Get All Information

General Assembly Del. Junie L. Bradshaw told an "L. B. J." Rally in Shafer Court last Thursday that the uncommitted age group of voters between 21 and 35 should get all the available information about each presidential candidate.

Bradshaw said he believes "each person should weigh both sides of the story" before deciding on a candidate.

The "L. B. J." Rally was presented by the Young Democrats club (YDC), which has as an election project the volunteering of students to help in the presidential campaign.

Barry Scher, president of the YDC, said club members have been at the State Fair all week at a Democratic campaign booth.

Bradshaw, floater delegate for Richmond and Henrico county, was also a delegate to the Democratic

Staff Photo
Mrs. Virginia M. Clayton
Financial Aid Secretary

O.T. Plans Picnic

The Occupational Therapy Club will sponsor a get-acquainted picnic at Bryan Park at 5 p.m., October 8. Students needing transportation should meet on Shafer Court at 5 p.m.

Mirr Will Present Trumpet Recital

The School of Music will present Edward A. Mirr, instructor of music and director of the RPI band, in a trumpet recital Monday, October 5, at 8:30 p.m. in Hibbs 203.

The Baroque period of music will be represented in the program by George Telemann's Concerto in D Major for D-trumpet, two oboes, and continuo, followed by the Concerto for Trumpet of Johann Hummel, a classical composer of Beethoven's time and protege of Haydn. The program will conclude with the Concerto for Trumpet and Bassoon composed in 1949 by Contemporary artist Paul Hindemith.

Mr. Mirr, who is first trumpet soloist in the Richmond Symphony Orchestra, will be assisted by Mr. John O'Bannon and Mr. Peter Uivlunch, who will play the solo oboe parts in the Telemann concerto, by Mr. Edwin Thayer on piano, and by Miss Rita Baker on cello.

Mr. Donald Charnock, bassoon instructor at RPI, will join Mr. Mirr in the Hindemith concerto as co-soloist.

Computers Cost 50 G's Data Program Opens

A Univac 1104 and an International Business Machines unit record system with a combined cost of $50,000 and weight of four-and-one-half tons comprises the new data processing equipment installed in the school of business this year.

The data processing program is

Mrs. Clayton Is Loan Secretary

Mrs. Virginia Clayton holds the newly-created office of Financial Aid Secretary. It is her duty to take care of the numerous applications for student loans.

Included in Mrs. Clayton's duties are reports to the Federal government concerning National Defense Loans, processing applications, writing references, and preparing all information for the Scholarship-Loan committee. In addition, she works with the Johnson Memorial Scholarship and the Student Government Association Scholarship-Loan fund.

Working with a committee composed of Russell A. Johnston, Dean of Students; William Cosby, Auditor; Milton Cherry, Associate Professor of Music, and Donald Bowles, Associate Professor of Retailing, Mrs. Clayton grants National Defense Student Loans and Cuban Student Loans.

To be eligible for a National Defense Student Loan, one must be a full-time student, be in need of assistance and be able to maintain good standing. Applications for a loan will be accepted no earlier than February 15 and no later than April 15 for current students. New students will have to August 1 to file their application.

Mrs. Clayton came to RPI in May, 1962. She was born in Buckingham County and attended high school and Case Business School there.

New Hostess Assumes Duties

Mrs. Mary Dillard, a native of West Point, is new to the campus this year. She is hostess at Monroe Terrace.

Although new here, Mrs. Dillard is well acquainted with her duties. For five years she was house mother at the Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg. Among her present duties are responsibility for the dormitory and counsel for the 129 girls in her care.

Thirteen student managers alleviate some of the burden of Mrs. Dillard. These girls include Linda Spence, a junior in the school of nursing, from Quincy; Nancy Schimpf from Latrobe, Pennsylvania, a graduate student in rehabilitation counseling; Shelba Flowers, a freshman in fine arts, from Hickory, N. C., and Joanne Hare, a special student in occupational therapy, from Mentor, Ohio.

Marsha Nelson, a Richmond graduate student, studying dramatic art and speech, from Chatham; Marie Booth of Floyd, a graduate student in art education; Jane Brockwell, a junior occupational therapy student from Vienna; Ann Davis, a social work graduate student, from Portsmouth and Margaret Easley, a Danville junior studying elementary education, share their responsibilities. Edith MacCabe, a junior in art education, from Richmond; Sue Ogden, from Knoxville, Tenn., a special student in art and fashion illustration, and Mary Kay Burton, from Richmond, a senior music major also serve as managers.

Goldwater Rally Is Set By Young Republicans

The Young Republican club (YRC) announced plans this week for a "Goldwater for President" rally on Shafer Court at 5:45 p.m. October 7.

Richard D. Obenshain, candidate for the Third district seat, will address the rally.

"I want to invite everyone who supports Barry Goldwater for President . . . to attend this rally and to join our club," YRC President C. L. Sigmon said.

Sigmon, a Junior Business major from Rocky Mount and treasurer of the College Federation of Young Republicans in Virginia, said he wanted the rally "to be the finest ever held at RPI."

Gold Water—"the right drink for the conservative taste"—will be sold, and a membership booth will be set up so that anyone who wishes to join the YRC can do so.

Obenshain, a Richmond attorney, was chairman of the Young Republicans Federation of Virginia from 1961 to 1964. He says in his platform that "it is not enough simply to resist the advances of communism—Americans must take the initiative and pledge the ultimate extension of freedom to all people."

Senate Talks Center on Paper

The Proscript came under discussion at the Student Government Association Senate meeting Monday night.

Class senators and presidents and the SGA executive board discussed Proscript policies with Dave Harvey, a junior journalism major from Virginia Beach, who was at the Senate to cover the meeting.

The majority of the Senate said it felt the Proscript should be enlarged and should contain columns and special sections.

Harvey told them he thought it was the intention of the Proscript to present "an accurate picture of student happenings and special columns would be difficult to fill up each week."

Harvey also told the Senate that any student could write for the paper and that such contributions were welcomed.

Wayne Tucker, SGA speaker of the house of representatives, said he felt the Proscript should print an insert containing pictures of SGA Senate and House members. He said students "do not know their representatives." An insert would enable them to know who they are, he stated.

Religious Clubs Plan Diverse Activities

Members and guests of the Newman Club received free tickets to attend the State Fair as a group Wednesday.

The group meets on the second and fourth Sunday of each month at 6:30 p.m. in the Rotunda. The Rev. Clement J. McClintock of Cathedral parish is the club moderator.

The Wesley Foundation series of Sunday morning discussion programs is now discussing the relationship of sex and the Christian life. "Sex and the Christian Life," by Seward Hiltner, is the basis for this discussion topic. Copies of this book may be purchased from Charles Morgan at 712 West Franklin st. and Heather Tinney in Founders Hall.

Art
Supplies

325 W. Broad St.

WELSH - ANDERSON

Make HALL'S BARBER SHOP
your headquarters for customized haircuts.

Hall's Barber Shop
1017 West Broad Street

POOL!

NOW! 1/2 block from school
... Directly behind Meadow Laundry ... Ladies, Don't be shy—You're welcome, too ...
Coming soon: a bowling machine ... See you at ...

410 N. HARRISON

Tobacco Princesses—Brenda Goin, Linda Edwards and Margaret Easley trade for a background of tobacco leaves next week. The change of scenery will be the 16th Annual National Tobacco Festival where Brenda will represent Henrico county, Linda—Hanover county and Margaret—the City of Danville.

Coeds Participate in Festival; Tobacco Queen Title Is Prize

By Ken Boettcher

Three coeds will be among 32 Tobacco Princesses competing for the Queen of Tobaccoland title in the 16th annual National Tobacco Festival to be held in Richmond next week.

The beauty queens are Miss Danville Tobacco Princess, Margaret Easley, junior Elementary Education major from Danville; Miss Hanover, Linda Edwards, sophomore Commercial Art major from Montpelier, and Miss Henrico, Brenda Goin, freshman Fashion Illustration major from Glen Allen.

Margaret is 21 years old, has blue eyes and light brown hair, and is a transfer student from Virginia Intermont Junior College in Bristol. She enjoys golf, swimming, reading, music, bridge and piano playing, although she said she could play only a little. In the talent portion of the Tobacco Queen contest she plans to do a comic monologue entitled, "Songs to Forget."

Chosen Miss Hanover

Linda is a 19-year-old, green-eyed brunette whose main interests are photography, drawing and reading.

Linda was chosen "Miss Hanover" from a field of 13 girls in a contest similar to the contests in which most of the other Tobacco Princesses participated. In the "Miss Hanover" contest, as the contest next week, Linda's talent entry will consist of charcoal sketches, photographs and woodcut prints.

Brenda is an 18-year-old, blue-eyed, brown-haired graduate of Richmond's Hermitage High School, who enjoys drawing, sports and sewing. She plans to show three dresses she has made and designed as her entry in the talent part of the contest.

The Tobacco Festival begins tomorrow night with the Grand Ball at 9 p.m. at the Arena.

Monday there will be a "Tobacco Tones" fashion show in Miller & Rhoads Tea Room at 6 p.m. which will be followed on Wednesday by the Princesses' arrival at the John Marshall Hotel at 10 a.m., a luncheon given by the Lions Club at 12:30 p.m., and a President's Reception at 7 p.m.

Contestants Style Show

A luncheon and style show for the contestants at noon in Miller & Rhoads Tea Room, and the "Tobacco Spectacular" with the presentation of the princesses.

Friday there will be another luncheon for the princesses at noon in Thalmers Richmond Room, a Band Concert in Capitol Square at 12:30 p.m. and the "Grand Illuminated Parade" to begin at 7 p.m. down Broad st.

Saturday the Queen of Tobaccoland will be crowned during halftime of the Tobacco Bowl Game between the University of Virginia and Virginia Military Institute at City Stadium.

The grand finale of the festival will be the Tobacco Ball and Presentation of the Queen and her court of princesses in the Hotel John Marshall at 9 p.m. that night.

Mary Burton Selected Madrigalists Leader

Mary Katherine Burton of Richmond, senior voice major in music education, is the new leader of the Madrigalists—the RPI singing group.

Their first singing engagement of the year will be given on November 2 at the Empire room of the Hotel Jefferson for the Monday Morning club.

Emerson Hughes, senior voice major from Highland Springs, will serve as secretary and treasurer. Sophomore voice major Carolyn Upshaw from Caroline County is historian.

Other Madrigalists are alto Connie Blankenbuehler, junior music major from Richmond; baritone William Everett, sophomore music major from Hampton; tenor John Gravitt, sophomore music major from Richmond; and tenor Thomas Moser, sophomore music education major from Richmond.

Four more members will be selected to complete the regular membership of twelve. Auditions for new members began last week. Those auditioning are judged according to voice, appearance, personality, and conduct.

Other engagements the Madrigalists have scheduled include the Caroline Music club, the Chester Women's club, the Sandston Junior

New Faculty Members Include Some Alumni

(Continued From Page 1)

lish; Mrs. Sudie Y. Beck, instructor of English, and Michael G. Squires, instructor of English.

School of Music—Edwin G. Thayer, assistant professor and Miss Joanna Richard, instructor. Also, Donald J. Charnock, part-time,

School of Occupational Therapy—Clark Sabine, assistant professor.

Department of Applied Psychology—Dr. Theodore F. Grant, Jr., and Dr. Joseph D. Warner, professors.

School of Applied Science—Leonard Morrow, assistant professor of biology; Will A. Ledoux, assistant professor of chemistry; Miss Lois Schmitt, instructor of chemistry, and Rene J. Smith, instructor of physics.

School of Applied Social Science—Carroll R. Hormachea, assistant professor of law enforcement; Jerome Wolfe, instructor in sociology; Mrs. Louise G. Lipscomb, and Marian Moody, both part-time.

School of Social Work—Mrs. Alice L. Barber, associate professor; Thomas L. Coffey, Miss Jacqueline Stackhouse and Mrs. Jean B. Jones, assistant professors. Also, Mrs. Ellen K. Ostrow, Mrs. Lolita L. Lowry and Mrs. Margaret D. Popika, all part-time.

In a new position, returning faculty member Leslie W. Smith was promoted from assistant history instructor to instructor. Paul M. Umberger has moved up from instructor of business to assistant professor.

New teachers who are RPI graduates are Mrs. Brewington, Mrs. Royster, Mrs. Perritt, Kervorkian and Looney.

Army Has Position

The Army Reserve has a position for veterans who have completed a two-year or six-month active duty obligation and can type.

Veterans would be working with Reserve-commissioned officers who are practicing attorneys. Meetings will be each Tuesday night and one Sunday per month. Drill pay will be included.

All eligible persons interested should contact Captain William E. Jones, Jr., 1305 Sherwood ave., or phone EL 9-3278.

Film Season Opens First Show Tonight

The RPI Film Society will present, "Ballad of a Soldier," as its first showing of the year today in Hibbs 303 at 4:30 and 7 p.m. and in Hibbs 403 at 5:30 and 8 p.m.

"Ballad of a Soldier" is the story of a soldier alone in a gun emplacement facing an enemy attack. The picture also tells of his meetings with other soldiers and their problems. The film was first presented in 1960 and hailed into the Society cinema as "a most new and welcome addition to the field of visual arts."

Also showing will be the Polish experimental picture, "Dom." "Dom" was awarded the Grand Prix at the International Festival of Experimental Films at Brussels in 1958.

Individual admission will be 60c. Season tickets are $3.50 for students and $4.50 for the public. Both will be on sale at the door.

This is the third year of showings sponsored by the group. Mr. Bernard Martin, instructor of Fine Arts and faculty advisor for the Film Society said that there is a lack of true art films in the area.

You can depend on
DUTCH'S for the finest food at the most reasonable prices for students. Make a date to go to DUTCH'S
RESTAURANT, W. Grace
St. at Harrison.

**Dutch will cash students' checks, with proper identification!*

SAY MATES . . .

For The Best One-Stop

Cleaning Service In Town

Set Your Sights On

MEADOW LAUNDRY

& CLEANERS

* FAST

* CONVENIENT

* ECONOMICAL

ONE-STOP
CLEANING SERVICE

410-412 N. Harrison St.
(Between Grace & Franklin)

Student Charge Accounts
Welcomed