A Hurt Hurt

Basil Rathbone Gives Performance Tonight

The Student Activities Committee will begin this year's concert-lecture series tonight at 8:30 in the gymnasium with Basil Rathbone's presentation of "In and Out of Character."

Rathbone, a recognized "master" of dramatic readings, will perform works of the English-speaking world's greatest poets, novelists and playwrights. Featured will be the best of Shakespeare, Robert Browning and Edgar Allan Poe.

Rathbone was born in Johannesburg, South Africa, of English and Scottish parentage.

He served his acting apprenticeship with Sir Frank Benson and played 52 roles in 23 Shakespearean plays under his direction.

Early success in London in 1919-20 earned him his first visit to the United States. With a number of stage performances to his credit, Rathbone later performed in motion pictures.

Sherlock Holmes

He is generally remembered for his Sherlock Holmes pictures (16 in all), "Captain Blood," "Tovarich" and "Anna Karenina." But, Rathbone has appeared in nearly 100 movies in varying roles.

Rathbone's accomplishments resulted in the following words of praise from his teacher Benson: "... the best-equipped actor on the English stage."

Dean of Students Russell A. Johnston said the Student Activities committee plans to bring four addi-

Degree Forms Due

Candidates for a Bachelor's degree in June, 1965, must file an application in the office of the registrar by November 1. Mrs. Sophia Hodges, acting registrar, announced.

Applications for a degree may be obtained from the Registrar's office or from individual student advisors.

The application is in two separate sections this year. One is to be filled in by the student and the other must be filled in by his advisor. Both parts are due by November 1.

A fee of $14, payable to the cashier, is required before the student requests his advisor to fill in the second half of the form.

Food Replaces Cards; Noon Space Asked

Dean of Students Russell A. Johnston requested this week that students refrain from playing cards in the Rotunda during the hours between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Dean Johnston said his office was "appealing to the good sense of values" of RPI students.

He acted after receiving a request from M. D. VanHorn, bookstore and snack-bar manager, who said some four or five tables are taken daily by card players and "there just isn't enough room left for those who purchase food."

Americans More Fashionable, Women's Designer Says Here

Italian fashion designer Patrick de Barentzen told the Costume Design and Fashion Illustration students Monday "American women are more feminine and easier to design for than women in Europe."

De Barentzen was here at the invitation of Mrs. Ottie Y. Windmueller, instructor of Costume Design, who met de Barentzen on a trip abroad last summer.

The designer said American women were easier to design for because the women in America are "more fashion-conscious and are more determined to be fashionable."

He gave a brief description of his career in which he mentioned his years of study and apprenticeship under an older designer. De Barentzen said often the couturier would make the apprentices do as many as 200-500 sketches, then throw most of them away.

De Barentzen said he has been

Student Center Open; Facilities Available

The Student Center was expected to be in operation this week although opening ceremonies will be announced at a later date.

Center Manager Steve Cameron, a special Psychology student from Front Royal, said laundromat and snack-bar service would be available Thursday. Offices for campus organizations also will be completed by that date.

Some offices have already been in use, mainly Cobblestone headquarters, the Student Book Exchange and Student Government Association offices.

Other organizations to move in next week are the Image, Circle K and Christian Science organizations.

Features of the new facility include a ping pong table and two pool tables on the third floor. A lavishly-furnished double-room lounge, dining room and the snack bar are located on the first floor. A second-floor card room is another feature of the building.

A building directory is located in the lobby.

Hours have been set at 8 a.m. through 11 p.m. daily and until 12 p.m. on Saturdays. Tentative Sunday hours are noon to 11 p.m.

Snack bar hours will be observed from 11 a.m. through 8:30 p.m. unless popular demand warrants an extension of those hours.

Student Government Association offices have been located in the Center since the beginning of the semester. Office hours for the SGA officers are from 9 a.m. to noon and 2 to 4 p.m.

After the lecture Fashion Department students, faculty and members of the administration had a dinner at the Sheraton Motor Inn.

At the dinner Dr. Oliver presented de Barentzen with a book of historical buildings of Virginia. Ruta Graubics, Costume Design Senior from Waynesboro, gave him a scrapbook of news clippings and pictures relating to de Barentzen and Italy—which was the theme for the costume department's Spring fashion show last year.

Image Less?

Indian summer, a lull between the rains of past weeks and the snows of future weeks, is a welcome guest to the Cobblestone Campus. She has bathed the campus in sunshine, mild weather and multi-colored leaves.

Her spirit has infected the students who have taken full advantage of her generosity.

The Powder-Puff Bowl in Byrd Park and the record attendance at the German Club's "Shake A Tail-Feather, Part I" last week end are excellent examples of participation by spirited students.

How, then, where such spirit of activity prevails, can the Image staff say that a general lethargy exists. In the case of the "student journal of creative ideas," this is a reasonable statement. It is creative spirit to which the staff refers. The "outlet for literary and artistic works" is not being used.

Today is the deadline for art and literary contributions for the Fall 1964 issue. Relatively little material had been submitted for consideration at the beginning of the week.

The editors are left with two alternatives. They can extend the deadline for one week only and hope to gain enough material from which to produce a good Fall issue or they can have only one large issue incorporating the two scheduled publications.

Whether there are two issues or only one will be determined by student response. The magazine is a corporate student effort.

Funds for the publication are obtained from the Student Activities Fee which is included in each semester's tuition and is allotted to several other organizations within the school. The major portion of material used in the Image is produced by students with a few selections by guest contributors. Student staff members select what shall be used in the publication and prepare it for distribution to students in final form.

Much of the material included in issues of previous years has been produced by the staff members. This has been a source of student complaints. Naturally the Image cannot print what is not submitted. The staff members being interested and qualified will submit their material; there is no reason why they should not.

These contributions should not be rejected simply because they come from staff members. If other members of the student body fail to submit materials as requested, it would sizeably reduce the publication if no staff material were selected.

The Image staff is constantly striving for improvement in their publications. Extensive student participation is needed. Within such a large student body there must be some creative spirit.

Cotillion Club Reactivated; Tea Planned To Raise Interest

The Cotillion Club, a dance club made up of coeds, is being reorganized by Sharon Gates, a Junior in Elementary Education from Ocala, Fla. and Betty Nester, a Senior in Retailing from Richmond.

For three years the Cotillion Club has been inactive. According to Mrs. Jane B. Gladding, dean of women, the former club faded away gradually because of a lack of interest and because of the inactivity between the two major dances sponsored by the club every year.

"When the club was first organized," Dean Gladding said, "the membership was composed mainly of Freshman girls who paid their dues of $3 and later ceased to participate."

After the club was disbanded, $300 remained in the treasury of which about $225 was contributed to scholarships. The $75 left is now being used for the new Cotillion Club.

Sharon feels that a social club is needed for girls since there are no sororities.

A tea is being given at 4:00 p.m., Sunday in the Student Center, 916 W. Franklin st. for all girls interested in membership.

An informal meeting will be held after the tea to make plans for the organization of the club. Some of the business to be taken care of is the writing of a new constitution, forming a reorganization committee and electing officers of the club.

Sharon says the Cotillion Club is hoping to work with the German Club on some of the activities throughout the year.

The Rodgers-Barer musical, "Once Upon a Mattress," directed by Mr. Thomas Holloway, assistant professor of drama, will be presented May 19-22 as the closing show of the season.

These plays are produced entirely by drama majors as the "laboratory" part of their course and give the students a chance to develop their talents.

Madrigalists Add Four Performers

The Madrigalists have selected four singers from 18 who auditioned for membership in the singing group last week.

New members include Soprano Jane Reynolds, senior voice major from North Carolina; Alto Bonny Kirk, junior violin major from Culpeper; Alto Suzanne Zeger, freshman music education major from Greencastle, Pennsylvania, and Bass James Andrews, sophomore piano major from Bumpass.

The addition of the new members completes the group's regular membership of twelve.

SGA Suggests Police Force Expansion

The Student Government Association Senate and House passed a motion this week that seeks to increase the campus police force and established a goal of $2,500 for the SGA Scholarship Fund.

Due to the increased size of the student body, members of both SGA houses felt the present campus police force is inadequate. The motion suggesting the expansion of the campus police force will be handed to the Administration. The number of extra men added would be determined by the administration, if it is a feasible plan.

It was announced in both houses that the Scholarship Fund drive will begin in November and continue through Thanksgiving vacation. Student application forms were made available this week in the student personnel office.

Student Government Association President Tony Woolford explained that clubs and classes will not have to donate to the Scholarship Fund this year. Instead, the drive will be aimed at the parents of the students and local business firms. The scholarships will be awarded next semester.

A student snack bar was due to be opened in the Student Center this week by the Slater System. The snack bar, located in the first-floor rear of the building, is open from 11:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. including Saturday and Sunday. If enough interest is shown, the hours may be changed to suit the students. Student meal books may be used at the Center snack bar.

Letters To The Editor

Honor Code, Dance and Article Draw Comments of Readers

Editor, the Proscript:

In a letter which appeared in last week's Proscript, Tony Woolford, the President of the Student Government Association, discussed the policy of RPI's library requiring persons leaving the library building to show all books and open briefcases for inspection. Although Mr. Woolford did not state the problem which necessitates this situation, he did offer two "choices," one of which is used by our own library.

Those solutions were: closed shelves, which would not allow books to be removed from the library, and a check point system. However, I feel that there is a third and rather obvious choice. The student body should be allowed to rely upon its Honor System.

As in my first letter which appeared in the Proscript of September 25, I again point out that every student has willfully accepted the provisions of the Honor System. This system, however, is being degraded by certain facilities of the college which either do not recognize the Honor System or do not trust the students to stand by their pledge.

If Mr. Woolford wishes to clear up any misunderstandings concerning the system, let him speak to the authorities responsible for the bookstore and library, where the Honor System is flagrantly doubted and the student pledged to that system is treated as a criminal.

Again respectfully,

B. W. LAWTON

Editor, the Proscript:

I am happy to announce that well over two hundred people attended the German Club dance, "Shake A Tail-Feather—Part I." The dance featured the "Soul Senders" with "Little Tommy and the Out-A-Sights."

The success of this dance shows that the students of our Cobblestone Campus will support school functions. This support has helped the German Club decide to bring bigger and better bands to our campus in the future.

In the Spring we hope to bring James Brown and his famous Flames. It is our wish to bring this band to RPI because many students have expressed a desire to see and hear these well known people.

I would like to thank all of the students who attended the dance, all of the hard-working German Club members, and our two great advisors, Mr. Lee Hall and Mr. Paul Umberger. I would also like to thank Luigi's Restaurant for their support by sponsoring the tickets. Without the outstanding support of all these people the dance would not have been the great success it was. Thank you one and all!

Watch for "Shake A Tail-Feather—Part II."

CLYDE R. TOWNSEND
German Club President

Editor, the Proscript:

There seems to be quite a bit of controversy over last week's article concerning the SGA Floor Committee.

(Ed. note: see vol. 45, no. 3, p. 1)

Please let it be known now, that this action taken by the SGA was not primarily the result of "existing problems." We acted in compliance with an article in the Student Government Constitution, stating that there shall be a Floor Committee. We only enforced this committee via regulations which we felt would strengthen it. The Floor Committee has been in existence for several years. In accordance with Article Three, Section I of our SGA Constitution.

Perhaps this matter concerning the Floor Committee can best be summed up in Item I of said Section I, "Said committee shall be in complete charge of conduct at all social functions that are approved by the SGA."

We must work within the framework of this constitution which governs all of us.

TONY WOOLFORD,
President SGA

Outlook Promising

Coach Allen Is Pleased After Viewing Practices

By Sam Shield

The men's varsity basketball team held its first workout of the season Monday as 19 students vied for 12 "open" positions on the team.

After watching the opening day's practice session, Coach Ed Allen stated that he was pleased with what he saw. He said that it would be hard to narrow the squad to a dozen men in a week's time.

"They all look mighty good," he said. "I think we're going to have a lot of potential to work with this year."

Returning lettermen showing up for the first practice were Sophomores: C. G. Winston, Richmond, Business; Johnny Magill, Richmond, Applied Social Science; Bill Parker, Sandston, Applied Social Science, Juniors: Rick Lyons, Arlington, Physical Education; Ronnie Brown, Richmond, Physical Education; Jerry Harding, Richmond, Physical Education, and Senior Bubba Crone, Richmond, Physical Education.

Letterman Dave Terry will miss the first few weeks of practice due to a back injury.

Crone was the only other ailing member of the team, re-injuring his right elbow. Crone broke his elbow in 1958 while playing basketball at John Marshall High School in Richmond.

"I had right much trouble with my arm the year I broke my elbow and then again about two years ago," said Crone.

The elbow had been improving until two weeks ago when Crone re-injured his arm.

New players trying out Monday were Freshmen Mel Dunnevant,

Also Marvin Bradshaw, Richmond, Physical Education; Billy

Jones, Richmond, Physical Education; Sophomores Joe Cochean, Staunton, Physical Education; Lester Sapp, Richmond, Physical Education, and Junior Joe Davis, Sugar Grove, Physical Education a transfer student from Ferrum Junior College.

"We'll have a young ball club," said Coach Allen, "but I don't expect that to be a disadvantage. We'll be doing a lot of running and using the fastbreak as much as possible."

Last year the Blue and Gray finished with a 9-12 record.

"There should be an improvement this year," commented Coach Allen.

Wrestling Practice Starts

All students interested in trying out for the men's varsity wrestling team are asked to meet in the gymnasium Monday at 4:30 p.m.

The Rams first match will be with Washington and Lee University on December 2, here.

Cheerleader Tryouts Begin; Nine Positions To Be Filled

Cheerleader tryouts will begin Monday.

Interested students should meet in the gym each weekday through Wednesday, October 28, from 4 to 5 p.m.

Judging will be held on Thursday, October 29. Cheerleaders will be chosen on the basis of personality, co-ordination and ability. Judges will be faculty members and student leaders.

Nine positions are open on the squad. Seven girls are returning from last year, but they too must compete with the new girls for positions.

"We hope to have a bunch of girls try out because its going to be lots of fun getting sore," third-year returning-cheerleader Sharon Gates said.

Keesee Speaks To School Groups

Curtis G. Keesee, Jr., dean of admissions, has begun "College Day" visits to high schools throughout Virginia.

Through this program students in the high schools get the opportunity to learn about the program offerings, requirements and costs at RPI.

Mr. Keesee will visit with students in about 60 high schools this year. He began the visitation program in the latter part of September and will continue through most of November.

"The most effective way of promoting interest in RPI is in work with guidance counselors in the high schools," he said.

The guidance counselors have an opportunity to advise the high school student before his Senior year on how to plan his schedule to qualify for the college of his choice.

Coeds Lose 'Powder Bowl'; Men Had To Fight To Keep Up

Playing with all the vigor and verve of the pros, 10 RPI coeds challenged 15 RPI males in football and lost a, 6-0, heartbreaker at Byrd Park, Sunday.

The lone touchdown was scored on a 50-yard pass interception by Jim Acra, a Junior History major from Richmond.

The game, which was started last year as a "Powder Puff Bowl" by girls from Scherer Hall, was played without the use of officials or an official timer.

"The game began as two-handed touch, but before long we were playing tackle," said Penny Hurt, a Junior Art major from McLean. "We (the girls) really didn't know what to do, but if we could have had shoulder pads we could have done better," she said.

Penny, the fullback on the team, was the game's only casualty with a wrenched knee and probably will not play with the team again until next weekend.

"As soon as my knee gets better I'm going back out there," commented Penny.

Quarterback Joyce Lamm, Senior Occupational Therapy major from Sinking Springs, Pa., said that although most of her passes did not work "I'd love to play again. My football muscles are sore though."

Kathy Holdsworth, a Junior Art Education major from Alexandria, played halfback.

Kathy led the girls on defense, making several solo tackles which stopped scoring threats by the men. Fine brokenfield running was also displayed by flankerback Peggy Kay, a Freshman Art major from Youngsville, Pa.

As for the men, John Welch, Junior Accounting major from Charlottesville, summed it up for his team when he said, "We had to really fight to stay up with the girls, and I don't think there's one of us now that isn't sore."

The end of the game came when Forrest Parker, Junior Advertising major from Richmond, suffered the loss of his pants.

Senator Goldwater Sends Telegram

A telegram from Sen. Barry Goldwater and a speech by Richard D. Obenshain, 3rd district congressional candidate, were highlights of last week's Goldwater Rally sponsored by the Young Republicans club (YRC).

The telegram said "Bill Miller and I are proud to have all of you as part of the 1964 victory team. The job you have been doing is wonderful, and I am certain that your efforts . . . will help insure victory in November."

In his speech Obenshain told the rally there was nothing about Barry Goldwater to scare the public. The congressional candidate said the current administration was placing Candidates for Queen of Openings are Shirley Critzer, Business Education, Waynesboro and Elizabeth Peden, Distribution, Charleston, W. Va., representing the Senior class.

Representing the Junior class are Cindy Molano, Psychology, Arlington and Gwynne Clark, Fashion Design, Greensboro, N. C.

Marena Grant, Interior Design, Hampton and Mary Lou Deal, Commercial Art, Wilkesboro, N. C. are Sophomore representatives.

Those attending the dance November 7 will vote for one of these six girls. The queen will be crowned during the dance by Dr. Oliver.

Tickets for Openings are $2 per couple for the Checkmate's dance to be held in the gymnasium Friday and $5 per couple for the Saturday night dance held at the Mosque.

Dance Club members will be admitted free of charge.

Directory Planned By Business Club

Bill Carroll, Junior Accounting major from Richmond, has been appointed to serve as chairman of Phi Beta Lambda's Student Directory Committee. He was appointed by President Dan Small at the business club's first meeting last week.

The student directory will contain a list of all students names with local address and telephone. It also has their home address and telephone, their major and class. This year's directory will include a list of the faculty.

President Dan Small announced that Douglas Haynes, Sophomore Accounting major from Richmond, will be advertising chairman for the publication.

Shirley Ogburn, Senior Secretarial Administration major from Richmond and Phi Beta Lambda secretary, will serve as chairman of the typing committee.

IBM equipment will supply a list of students' names for the directory. Additional information will be obtained from the Student Personnel Office.

The directory is scheduled for distribution at the end of October.

"The committee," Dean Johnston said, "is still in the process of selecting those personalities, however."

Approximately 700 tickets to this evening's event had been distributed as of Monday.

"No one," Johnston remarked, "should plan to attend the performance unless a ticket has already been obtained."

An estimated 1,000 persons can be accommodated in the gym.

Final Pictures Set

More than 1,000 students have been photographed for the Cobblestone, and there is still a week of photographic work ahead for the yearbook photographer.

Senior pictures will be taken Monday through Wednesday only. No more pictures will be taken after next week.
