Men Capture Top Offices In Elections Italian Style

Even a write-in vote for Sophia Loren in the predominately female class elections last week didn't stop the men from taking the majority of offices and all class presidencies for next year. Eight men and seven girls were elected from 24 candidates and 12 write-ins.

The write-in vote for the Italian actress was for sophomore class Student Government Association Senator.

For the first time campaigning for all three class elections was held during one week instead of being stretched out over a three-week span.

It was also the first time that voting has been limited to one day.

A small turnout of 520 students voted in the three elections.

Here are the results of last week's class elections, numbers in parentheses indicate number of votes cast:

3 Candidates Vying For SGA Presidency

Students have until 4:30 p.m. today to vote for Student Government Association officers. Polls are set up in the Rotunda for qualified students who wish to vote.

Eight candidates began campaigning Monday for today's election. The highlight of the week came last night when candidates were given a chance by the SGA Board of Elections to present their views. A rally beginning at 6 p.m. in Shafer Court gave each candidate an opportunity to present a three to five minute campaign speech. Music was provided by the brass band from the School of Music.

As in last year's election, three students are seeking the office of president. They are Donald Smith, Junior, Education, Richmond; Howard Koch, Junior, Distribution, Richmond, and Emmett Powell, Junior, Education, Richmond.

Running for vice president are Sam Assaid, Junior, Drama, Roanoke, and Jim Acra Jr., Junior, Applied Science, Richmond.

Certain time will be 8 p.m. in the gymnasium.

At the "synthesis" Monday, from the time the audience entered the gymnasium and was issued Navy fatigue caps, the entire performance was a war on the eardrums.

The Steppingstone

Thousands of students will graduate from college in June and begin pounding office doors to seek employment. Many will be turned away. Of those hired a great number will find they are not necessarily equipped for the job.

A college degree is not proof of an education. Although it is becoming a necessary "ticket" to the business world, we are not sure it is a valid evidence of any specific degree of intellectual attainment.

It seems that most students, because they have received this "ticket of admission," feel all study and pursuit of knowledge on their part should stop.

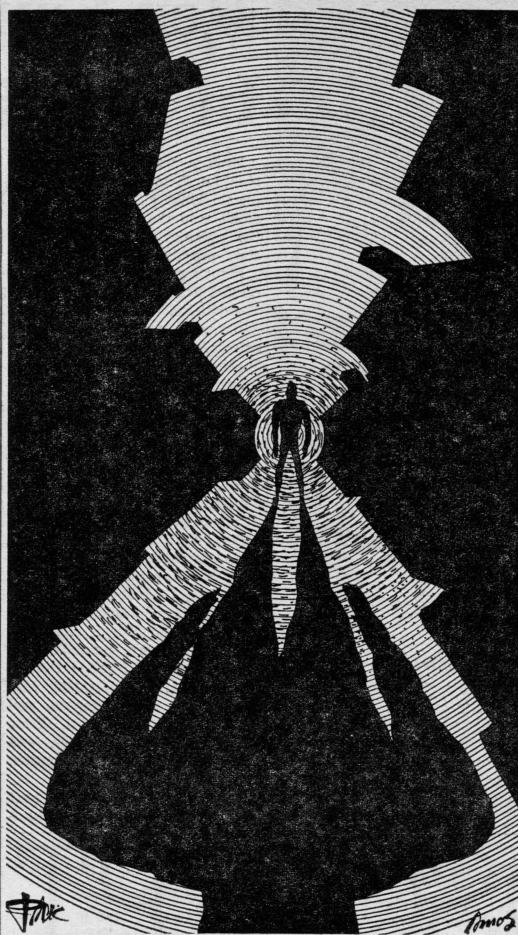

Education should not stop, and academicians deplore the feeling that it ends the day a small, "white sheepskin" is placed in a student's hand. This is the time that his endeavor should begin.

Students find that education does not stop with graduation. They find jobs are hard to keep without hard work, self-education and continual acquisition of information of the changing world around them.

Man's real education comes not from classrooms and textbooks, for this simply serves to whet his appetite and stimulate the process of learning. His real education comes from the world around him—that for which he is merely being prepared in college.

In June students will hold the key to a world of adventure. What is done with that key, now that it has been obtained, is up to you.

Rams Lead Conference

By Larry Evans

RPI scored a 7-5 victory over Randolph-Macon College Saturday to take over first place in the Little Eight Conference baseball race. But the Rams fell victim to Washington and Lee University's Pete Heumann who hurled 11 innings of no-hit ball to lead the Generals, 2-1, over the Rams Tuesday.

The win over Randolph-Macon makes the Rams the only undefeated team in the Little Eight Conference. The pitching of left-hander Butch Usry and key hits by Bill Schwartz and Ron Woody pushed the Rams to the top of the league standings.

Sophomore righthander Pete Heumann held RPI hitless for 11 innings as Washington and Lee halted the Rams' winning streak at two games with a 2-1 victory Tuesday.

It looked as if the Rams were on their way to their third straight win when Heumann loaded the bases with three walks in the first inning. But a strike-out and a double play quickly extinguished the Rams' scoring bid.

W & L took a 1-0 lead in the sixth when Skip Chase's single scored Ashley Allen. RPI tied the game in the seventh when Heumann was guilty of two walks and two wild pitches.

The Generals scored the winning run with two out in the 11th on a single by Larry Perreault, driving in Ed Bishop.

RPI Takes Lead

RPI took a 3-0 lead in the third inning against the Yellow Jackets on singles by Bobby Butler and Bill Gordon and on a pair of errors by the opponent's third baseman.

Randolph-Macon also added a run to their side of the scoreboard in the third when Usry gave up two walks and a single.

Rams Take Command

The Rams took a 5-1 lead in the fifth frame when Verlan Phillips walked and Schwartz drove a home run down the left field line.

Back-to-back doubles by the Yellow Jackets' Fred Daniel and Boyce Reid in the sixth inning gave the opponents their second run.

RPI tallied its last two runs in the ninth inning. Jerry Harding led off with a single and was followed by Usry who walked. Woody then smacked a triple into center field, driving in two runs.

It seemed RPI had the game in the bag, but Randolph-Macon rallied in the bottom of the ninth to give a scare to the Ram fans who turned out for the game.

The lead-off batter for the Yellow Jackets reached first on an error and Bob McConnell singled; Stan Trimble singled into center field. In his haste to make the throw to home plate, Ed Coffman let the ball get by him and all three runs scored, bringing the score to 7-5.

Usry Strike-Out Ends Game

Two more runners reached base for the Yellow Jackets before Usry struck out Winky Whalen to end the game.

Usry gave up ten hits, struck out eight and walked five in going the full nine innings for the Rams.

RPI, now leading the Little Eight Conference with a 1-0 record, will put their league lead on the line when they face highly-touted Old Dominion College (3-1) at 2:30 p.m. today at Hotchkiss Field.

The golf team remained undefeated with a 6-3 victory over Randolph-Macon College Tuesday.

Danny Dixon led the team with a 73, defeating Jerry Cobb, 4 and 3, and Tommy Rash, RPI's number two golfer, decisioned Ray Morgan, 4 and 3. Dixon and Rash had a best ball score of 7 and 6.

The team will travel to Hot Springs for the State Collegiate Tournament Monday with a 3-0-2 record.

William and Mary Tops Tennis Team

The women's tennis team suffered its second defeat of the season Tuesday at Williamsburg. The team lost to the College of William and Mary, 4-1. The game was originally scheduled to be played Thursday, April 15, but was canceled due to weather conditions.

The only victory the Blue and Gray was able to acquire was in the singles as RPI's number one player, Tunie Dooley, defeated Barbara Wampler, 6-1, 6-0.

Laurie Simpson, number two player for RPI, was defeated by C. C. Greider by a score of 6-2, 6-1, and Ronnie Le Vine was also defeated by Susan Baskerville, 6-1, 6-1.

seven swimming events for both men and women.

Men's individual competition includes the 100-yard free style and individual medley, 50-yard breast stroke, butterfly, free style and backstroke and diving. The men's team competition will consist of a 100-yard free style relay.

Women's competition in individual events consists of 100-yard free style and individual medley, 25-yard breast stroke, butterfly, backstroke and free style and diving. The team competition will feature a 100-yard free style relay.

Prizes Will Be Awarded

Prizes will be awarded to individual and team winners.

Last year the German club won the team title for the second straight year by out scoring Alpha Sigma Sigma, 48½-21½.

In the women's competition the Varsity club downed Alpha Sigma Sigma in the last event to register a 36-31 victory.

Eight records were set in last year's meet.

Frances Loth of the Varsity club and Ed Navis of the German club registered three victories apiece. Both anchored their teams in the free style relay.

Ping-Pong Play To Start May 5

'Synthesis' Shows Horrors of War

The fact war is senseless and useless was made very apparent, but the horror of war—despite an inspired effort—didn't quite convey its meaning to the audience.

One of the evening's strong points was the realistic sound effects of men screaming, bombs exploding and the roar of airplanes.

Projectors in Airplanes

Images flashed upon the gymnasium walls from projectors installed and manned in simulated airplanes suspended from the ceiling.

Another visual effect was the marching of armies decked in sunglasses, white outfits, helmets and fixed bayonets.

A mass murder scene, a parade of co-eds in swim suits and a sacrificial death were other high points.

Phi Beta Lambda Members to Attend State Convention

The school chapter of Phi Beta Lambda is sending 38 members to the state convention at Norfolk today and tomorrow. The business club chapter here is the largest in the state with 95 members.

Nancy Bunch, Freshman, Suffolk, has been nominated for the office of state reporter.

Bill Carter, Senior, Union Level, and Dot Brewer, Junior, Richmond, are entered in the Mr. and Miss Future Business Teacher contest; Barbara Pollock, Senior, Falls Church, will be in the Miss Future Business Executive competition; Mary Ann Rasor, Senior, Alexandria, Bill Carroll, Junior, Richmond, and Dan Small, Senior, Arlington, are entered in the vocabulary relay contest.

Bill Oyler, Junior, Purcellville, will be entered in the extemporaneous speaking rivalry.

Velma McCuiston, Junior, Richmond, will retire as president of the state Phi Beta Lambda.

All club members and delegates are Business majors.

The performance ended when five television sets were brought in, turned on and left in the middle of the floor.

The rest of this week saw a demonstration-lecture dance Tuesday night, and a six-hour movie—"Sleep"—cut down from its original eight hours Tuesday morning and afternoon.

Wednesday night a dance recital was given.

Last night there was a panel discussion on the various forms of modern art.

Reason for Poor Support Is Blamed On Alcohol Rules

Why do on-campus activities often receive little or no student support?

A spokesman for the Student Government Association blames poor participation on the fact no alcoholic beverages are allowed on school property.

Mike Boblitz, former chairman of the Dance club, said poor participation at the Dr. Feelgood and the Interns dance Saturday night and at other school-sponsored dances seems to stem from the fact that no alcoholic beverages of any kind are allowed on school-owned property. He pointed out that attendance usually is much larger at dances in other schools where alcohol has been allowed.

Because of poor attendance at dances sponsored by the Dance club, it has been unable to make money to insure even better dances in the future, Boblitz said. He explained that if the dances were to become profitable the club could hire more name groups to perform at week-end dances.

The Dance club paid approximately $500 for the four-hour performance by Dr. Feelgood and the Interns for an attendance estimated at 150.

A loss of approximately $1,400 was suffered recently by the Dance club because of poor attendance at the Hi-Landers concert in March.

Dooley Week to End With Dance Tomorrow

Dooley, the spring spook of Johnson Hall, 712 men's dormitory, began his week of pranks Monday, but his class dismissing privileges were sharply limited compared with previous years.

According to dormitory residents, the Administration at first was not going to allow class dismissals but finally agreed to a few.

Frank Harris, Johnson Hall president, said Dooley would dismiss about five classes during the week.

Dooley's identity will be revealed tomorrow night at a dance in his honor in the dormitory parlor from 9 p.m. to 12 a.m. According to tradition, his queen—Sandra Nash, Freshman Retailing major from Rockwell, N.C.—will take his hand, and he will rise from his coffin.

Sandra, Senior Center Student Government Association representative, was chosen queen from candidates from all women's dormitories by Johnson Hall residents.

The Saturday night dance, for which women dormitory residents will be given 12:30 a.m. lates, will feature The Elegants, a local combo. Tonight Dooley's week will end with a record dance in the dormitory parlor from 8 to 11, and tomorrow, a picnic will be held from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Bryan Park.

Transportation will be furnished for the picnic on Saturday.

Tickets for the entire week end are on sale in the Rotunda for $2.50 per couple.

Pre-Registration To Begin May 3

The Registrar's Office announced this week it was returning to the pre-registration system used here in previous years rather than keeping the pre-planning and counseling period used last semester for the first time.

Students were advised this week to make appointments with advisors for the two-week period, May 3-14, when pre-registration is scheduled.

Pre-registration will be held for all students expecting to take summer classes and/or students returning in September.

According to the Registrar's office, students who complete pre-registration will be enrolled at once in classes and sections they choose, will be assured their choices will be honored in September if no changes are necessary and will benefit from a simplified fall registration.

Students who fail to pre-register will have no course and section reservation, will follow longer procedures of planning and will have to register after all other students have completed registration.

Last semester registration was completed on a first-come, first-served basis by an alphabetical system. Mid-semester pre-planning and counselling offered no guarantee of class assignments.

May Dance To Feature Pink Fantasia

A Pink Fantasia with the Mosque ballroom decorated more completely than ever before will greet students and parents at the May Dance, Saturday, May 1.

Dennis Burton, chairman of the Freshman Advisory Board, said the Freshman class has hired an inexpensive local dance band, the Continentals, in order to allow more money for decorations and food.

Individual committees have been set up to handle decorations for the ceiling, walls, columns, floor, bandstand and special surprise archway leading to the dance floor.

Part of Parents' Week End

The Freshmen have spent $350 on the band and have received $100 from the Dance club. Burton said the class would try to get the Administration to pay for part of the refreshments since the dance is scheduled as a part of Parents' Weekend and parents will attend the dance.

May Queen Joyce Lamm, Senior Occupational Therapy major from Sinking Springs, Pa., who was elected by students during registration in February, will be crowned. Her court will be made up of an honor attendant and one sweetheart and two attendants from each class.

Tickets will go on sale next week in the Rotunda at $4 a couple.

Women dormitory students will be allowed 1:30 a.m. lates for the dance which lasts from 9:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.
