Commencement Speaker

Recipient, Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters Degree

Since 1987 Dr. Clifton R. Wharton Jr. has been the president and chief executive officer of Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association of America and the College Retirement Equities Fund. On his appointment, he became the first black to head a Fortune 500 service company.

TIAA–CREF is the largest retirement system for faculty and staff of the nation’s universities and colleges and a number of foundations. Today 4,321 colleges, universities and related non-profit educational organizations participate in the pension system and in TIAA group insurance programs. As of December 31, 1989, TIAA–CREF’s combined assets were approximately $83.9 billion. TIAA–CREF is ranked as the nation’s largest pension organization and according to a January 1990 Fortune magazine survey, TIAA is ranked among the 10 most-admired U.S. life insurance companies.

Before his appointment to TIAA–CREF, Dr. Wharton was chancellor for the State University of New York System (SUNY) for nine years. It is the largest university system in the United States, and Dr. Wharton is widely credited with improving SUNY’s funding and management, establishing an effective affirmative action effort for women and minority faculty and staff and enhancing the system’s academic reputation. Prior to this nine-year appointment, he served as president of Michigan State University for eight years.

Born in Boston in 1926, Dr. Wharton attended Boston Latin School and entered Harvard University at age 16, where he earned a bachelor’s degree in history in 1947. He went on to Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies, receiving a master’s degree in international affairs. At the University of Chicago, he earned master’s and doctoral degrees in economics. More than 35 honorary degrees have been conferred on Dr. Wharton from such institutions as Georgetown University, Columbia University, University of Notre Dame and Colgate University.

Dr. Wharton is a past member of numerous presidential commissions and the son of a career diplomat. He is married to the former Dolores Duncan. They are the parents of two sons.
PRESENTED TO

BY THE

BOARD OF VISITORS
Wayne Medal

The Wayne Medal was established in 1971 to honor individuals who have made outstanding contribution or provided exemplary service to Virginia Commonwealth University.

Awarded by the president at commencement, the medal is named in honor of Edward A. Wayne, chairman of a commission that planned to establish a state-supported university in the Richmond metropolitan area. With the commission's recommendation and the General Assembly's approval, Virginia Commonwealth University was established in 1968.

Mr. Wayne also served as the university's first vice rector.
Rhoda R. Thalhimer
Charles G. Thalhimer

Recipients, Wayne Medal

The support Rhoda and Charles Thalhimer have shown Virginia Commonwealth University is as long as it is extensive. The couple have favored the university by creating the Scholar-in-Residence and the Executive-in-Residence programs in the School of Business. They have also established the Rhoda Thalhimer Chair in Art History, the Charles G. Thalhimer and Harry R. Thalhimer Tennis Center and scholarships and provided financial and moral support to athletics. They have shared their time and energy as well as their financial support.

Their contributions are manifested not only through funding but through leadership, as evidenced in the voluntary chairmanship of Mr. Thalhimer in the highly successful campaign for VCU and the many years of service given to the university by Mrs. Thalhimer. Mr. Thalhimer’s dedication to the school’s first major fund-raising effort was reflected in a response letter to VCU and Mr. Thalhimer written by a local business leader: “I had thought my partners and I were completely impervious to any conceivable appeals for contributions—but such was not the case with you and VCU. . . . When you put a great salesman together with a superior product even the most hardened resistance will fail!”

The campaign was coordinated so effectively that the goal of $52 million was reached well ahead of schedule.

Mr. Thalhimer says he got his sense of obligation to the community from his father. “Dad was very community-minded,” he said. “He always emphasized to us that the good fortune that has been ours, we have earned. But we wouldn’t have earned it without the support of the community, and it is vital for one to show appreciation by doing something in return.”

Equally supportive is his wife, Rhoda. Her relationship with VCU began in 1962 when she was appointed a board member of VCU’s forerunner, Richmond Professional Institute. She has devoted nearly 30 years of her time and energy to serving on various VCU boards and currently serves on the board of the VCU Foundation.

A graduate of Adelphi University in New York, Mrs. Thalhimer holds a bachelor’s degree and has extended her community service to serving on the boards and committees of the Carpenter Center, Maymont Foundation, the Shepherd’s Center and the YWCA.

Mr. Thalhimer holds a bachelor’s degree from Washington & Lee University and served in the Merchant Marine before joining Thalhimer Brothers Inc. in 1947. He was elected president in 1973 and became vice chairman in 1984. He retired from the family department store in 1986.

Instead of Mr. and Mrs. Thalhimer enjoying the leisure of retirement, Mr. Thalhimer spent his time recruiting players for his fund-raising team and organizing committees. Speaking of those organizational days, Mr. Thalhimer commented, “We had before us a wonderful challenge; a chance to attract public and private support while telling VCU’s story. The support we received testifies to the broad impact of VCU’s activities in education, research, community services and patient care. The one thing I learned in the retail business is that if you believe in the product, you can sell it. And I believed in this product.”

It is with great pleasure and sincere appreciation that Virginia Commonwealth University presents the Wayne Medallion to Rhoda and Charles Thalhimer.
THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION
Presidential Medallion

An exceptional honor, the Presidential Medallion is bestowed by Virginia Commonwealth University and is awarded in recognition of outstanding contribution by a member of the university community. The award is meant to recognize extraordinary achievement in the world of learning and dedication to Virginia Commonwealth University as shown by numerous outstanding contributions to several areas of university life. To honor these individuals, the president recommended and the Board of Visitors approved the establishment of this award in March 1984. The medallion is awarded at either the annual faculty convocation or at commencement, on recommendation of the president.
Wyatt S. Beazley III, M.D.

Recipient, Presidential Medallion

"I have been a faculty member at VCU for 20 years," said Wyatt Beazley III, M.D., a vice chairman of The Campaign for VCU, "and during that time I have watched this university take its rightful place on the national scene. That kind of progress doesn't happen overnight and without a lot of hard work and commitment from many people."

As an alumnus of the Medical College of Virginia and now a faculty member, Dr. Beazley has first-hand knowledge of what it takes to keep the country's fourth-largest teaching hospital functioning at maximum capacity.

"VCU has a great potential that we have only begun to tap, and the gifts we've received from the campaign mark the beginning of a new and exciting future," he said.

As associate clinical professor of surgery, Dr. Beazley says he has seen VCU take a leadership role in several areas of medical research and treatment, gaining a national reputation for its innovative, creative approaches to current medical concerns.

"These areas include cardiology, pediatric care, neonatal medicine, organ transplants, burn treatment and geriatric medicine," Dr. Beazley continued. "The list goes on and on. The story is the same: a commitment to patients and students together with ongoing research for the benefit of all humanity.

"One priority of the Campaign for the Medical College of Virginia campus was the establishment of several endowed chairs and professorships. These will enable the university to attract and retain nationally renowned faculty and maintain leadership in medical research, teaching and patient care."

Dr. Beazley has shown his sincerity in this belief through generous personal donations toward the David M. Hume Distinguished Professorship in Surgery and the Hume Chair. (David Hume was an MCV surgeon and pioneer in the field of transplant surgery.)

"Through these chairs, we honor faculty members and others whose distinguished careers are part of our history and our success," he said.

A graduate of the University of Virginia and the Medical College of Virginia, Dr. Beazley completed his internship at Stuart Circle Hospital in Richmond, and a surgical residency at MCV. He held the rank of captain in the medical corps and served in an evacuation hospital in Viet Nam. He has maintained a private practice in general surgery and gynecological surgery since 1968.

His honors include membership in MCV's honorary medical fraternity; the Bigger Award, given to an outstanding MCV resident; the Bronze Star; and the American Cancer Society Service Award.

The Richmond Academy of Medicine, Virginia Medical Society and the American College of Surgeons are among his professional memberships.

In addition to giving his time and talents to the VCU campaign effort, Dr. Beazley has served on the board of the Ronald McDonald House and is the past president of the American Cancer Society.

He is married to the former Mason Henley and has three children.

Concluding, Dr. Beazley said, "While we can take pride in our accomplishments, the time has come to look forward in particular to the successful completion of the campaign. The future of the university lies with those who are committed to its tradition of excellence and its programs."

In grateful recognition of his efforts and interest, Virginia Commonwealth University proudly presents the Presidential Medallion to Dr. Wyatt S. Beazley III.
William W. Berry
Recipient, Presidential Medallion

William Berry says he views his ties with Virginia Commonwealth University as an integral part of his position as chairman of Virginia Power and as a community resident.

Berry, who is also the chairman and chief executive officer of Dominion Resources Inc., Virginia Power's parent company, served as chairman of the Major Corporate Gifts Committee of The Campaign for VCU.

"Virginia Power has always had strong links with the university," Berry said. "The company supports the Department of Environmental Health & Safety as well as the burn clinic at MCV Hospitals. This type of support comes naturally because we want to guarantee the best possible work environment for our employees. One way corporations can respond to the interests and concerns of their community is by supporting our institutions of higher learning."

These strong sentiments stem from a series of questions he put to potential donors. He also was equipped with the answers:

"Who hasn't worked with a graduate of VCU? Every year more than 1,000 graduates enter the Richmond work force as doctors, graphic artists, accountants, social workers and other professionals.

"Who hasn't noticed the changing look of downtown? VCU is a major contributor to the renovation of historic buildings that are providing attractive and interesting office space.

"Who hasn't been or known a patient at MCV Hospitals? This is the fourth-largest teaching hospital in the country, and those people treat thousands of patients each year."

One of his queries provided food for thought for the chairman of a Richmond advertising agency. In a letter responding to Mr. Berry's campaign request, the donor replied, "Your visit triggered a survey to determine the educational backgrounds of our people. Interestingly, we find that 22.6 percent of our staff attended Virginia Commonwealth University."

His straightforward and logical approach where business is concerned was rewarded with the 1989 CEO of the Year award from the Virginia Regional Minority Supplier Development Council, which recognized him for his broad-based support of council activities and his company's record of purchasing supplies from minority suppliers.

A native of Norfolk, he holds a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from Virginia Military Institute and a master's degree in commerce from the University of Richmond.

Berry joined Virginia Power in 1957 and has worked at various Virginia Power locations throughout the state. In 1978 he was elected executive vice president. In 1985 he was elected chairman and chief executive officer of Dominion Resources.

In addition to his former membership on VCU's Board of Visitors, he is a member of the board of directors of Avantor Financial Corporation, Ethyl Corporation and Universal Corporation; a member of the board of trustees of Hollins College and Union Theological Seminary.

For all of his contributions and candor in effectively alerting corporate sponsors to the needs of higher education, and for being one of the key players in VCU's latest success story, Virginia Commonwealth University is pleased to present the Presidential Medallion to William Berry.
J. Stewart Bryan III
Recipient, Presidential Medallion

J. Stewart Bryan III represents the fourth generation of his family to have served as a Richmond newspaper publisher. He serves as chairman and publisher of Richmond Newspapers and vice chairman of its parent company, Media General Inc. Since the university has the only accredited journalism program among state-supported colleges and universities in Virginia, Mr. Bryan was a logical choice to play a key role in The Campaign for VCU, serving as chairman of the Foundations Committee.

Born in Richmond, Mr. Bryan attended St. Christopher's School in Richmond and the Episcopal High School in Alexandria, Virginia. He earned a bachelor’s degree at the University of Virginia and served as an infantry officer in the U.S. Marine Corps.

In addition to providing guidance to VCU's campaign, Mr. Bryan and two colleagues made a gift to the School of Mass Communications devoted to buying books and tapes for its library. It will be known as the Richmond Newspapers Collection.

In 1988 his organization made possible the Virginius Dabney Distinguished Professorship in the School of Mass Communications, the first endowed professorship in that school. Mr. Dabney, long-time editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, was the first rector of the VCU Board of Visitors.

"About 15 percent of Media General's employees are VCU graduates," Mr. Bryan said, "and we felt a responsibility to assist such a prime source of employees.

"We hope this professorship will help VCU attract distinguished journalists to the campus and to help future generations of students better understand the significance and impact of print journalism in today's information age.

"We hope to strengthen a long-standing relationship between Richmond Newspapers and the School of Mass Communications that will benefit our newspapers, the university and the public."

Mr. Bryan began his newspaper career in the circulation department of The Richmond News Leader. He subsequently worked for The Burlington (Vt.) Free Press, the Tampa (Fla.) Times and the Richmond Times-Dispatch before being named a vice president of the Tribune Company in Tampa in 1968. He was named publisher of the Richmond Times-Dispatch and The News Leader in 1978, and vice chairman and executive vice president of Media General in 1985. He has been a director of Media General since 1974.

Mr. Bryan has been a member of Sigma Delta Chi, the Society for Professional Journalists, since 1967, and is the former president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association and the Florida Press Association. He is a member of the board of the Associated Press, the Newspaper Advertising Bureau, the Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges, and the advisory board of the VCU Business School. He was a trustee of the University of Tampa from 1971-1978.

He is the father of two daughters.

With sincere appreciation of his efforts in The Campaign for VCU and for his awareness of the importance of higher education, Virginia Commonwealth University is proud to present the Presidential Medallion to J. Stewart Bryan III.
Wallace Stettinius

Recipient, Presidential Medallion

“When I agreed to serve as vice chairman of The Campaign for VCU, I simply ‘went public,’ in what I had been doing and saying all along: I believe in VCU,” said Wallace Stettinius.

The chairman and chief executive officer of Cadmus Communications Corporation, Mr. Stettinius considers himself a VCU alumnus of sorts, having earned 18 credit hours in the psychology department and taken courses in the School of Business. Actually, he earned a bachelor’s and master’s degree in business administration from the University of Virginia.

After graduation, he began working for the Richmond printing firm of Garrett & Massie. Eight years later, with experience working for a brokerage firm and management and investment company, he was asked to succeed to the presidency of William Byrd Press. He agreed and acquired his former employer, Garrett & Massie, within one year.

Cadmus Communications Corporation is a graphic communication holding company. Its business focuses on publication printing, promotional printing, corporate and financial printing and direct marketing. Corporation headquarters are in Richmond, and according to 1989 industry sales data compiled by Graphic Arts Monthly, Cadmus ranks as the 26th largest graphic communications company in North America. Of the publicly held companies in this group from the United States, Cadmus ranks as the eighth largest.

At its helm is Mr. Stettinius, who has been described as “an economic planner, but a commonsense kind of fellow.” Stettinius adds that “strategic positioning and long-term vision are vital to success. He brought these components to The Campaign for VCU in his role as vice chairman.

“Most people who live in Richmond for any length of time and who take part in the life of the community come to know something about Virginia Commonwealth University,” he said. “VCU’s many programs in community service and cultural enrichment contribute to the quality of life for all of us. Clearly, a medical center and university of this size and scope bring to Richmond opportunities that wouldn’t be here otherwise: economic opportunities and a better quality of life.”

Mr. Stettinius has generously shown his commitment to The Campaign for VCU in his leadership roles, gifts to the Nemuth Professorship in Neurosurgery, the Terrace Concert Series and athletics. He also assisted with printing services for campaign publications.

“In business, you investigate opportunities to expand where you believe a strategic advantage might be achieved. I believe that’s what this campaign will allow VCU to do; allow the university to explore new opportunities and get the recognition it deserves when it puts its strategy into action,” he concluded.

Born in New York City, Mr. Stettinius is the son of a former U.S. secretary of state. He and his wife Mary have three children and four grandchildren.

In brief, values, long-term vision and planning are what brought Mr. Stettinius to the place he holds in business. For bringing these attributes to the university, Virginia Commonwealth University proudly bestows the Presidential Medallion on Wallace Stettinius.
James C. Wheat Jr.
Recipient, Presidential Medallion

As a vice chairman of The Campaign for VCU, James C. Wheat Jr., gave his support in word and deed to the multimillion dollar effort.

Mr. Wheat is the chairman of the board of directors of WFS Corporation and a well-known figure in the world of high finance. He built a small Richmond brokerage business into an investment giant with capital in excess of $50 million.

Blind for all of his business career, Wheat’s colleagues have been quoted as saying, “There’s nothing blind about Jim Wheat. He sees better than the rest of us” and “He has an uncanny business acumen and ability to judge people.”

After earning a bachelor’s degree in civil engineering from Virginia Military Institute, Mr. Wheat joined his father’s brokerage firm, J. C. Wheat & Co., in 1941 as a clerk. In 1950, he announced to his father that he intended to build the firm into an institution. In 1986, Forbes magazine ranked Wheat third in initial public offerings among national investment banking firms. With annual revenues of more than $200 million, Wheat and its affiliates manage or co-manage more than $2 billion per year.

However, all of Wheat’s interests have not rested solely in the investment banking arena. His community concerns include education, good government, the Chesapeake Bay clean-up and Richmond’s downtown revitalization.

Speaking on behalf of his firm, Mr. Wheat said, “We like to pay our dues, let’s put it that way. We simply say we are cause and effect of what’s around us. That means you’ve got to put something back in.”

Naming education as one of the most “troubling” challenges facing this country, Wheat signed on to The Campaign for VCU saying, “It is a way for me to return to the university some of what it has given our community and our state. Sometimes it’s easy to take the institutions around us for granted—to assume they will be there when we need them. But I know that it takes more than vague promises of support to ensure the university’s strength and ability to meet the challenges that lie ahead.

“As a businessman, I want to emphasize the value of having the state’s largest school of business right here in Richmond. VCU’s School of Business is an important asset for the continued growth and development of our corporate community.

“Education goes to the very heart of whether the city will become a more acceptable place to live. Top quality secondary education is critical.

“People want to see things done right, done effectively and done soundly,” he continued. “With the gifts generated by the campaign, I believe this will happen and that VCU will continue to flourish and receive greater recognition for the achievements it has made academically and medically.”

Along with his service to VCU, Wheat has been recognized with the Virginia Chamber of Commerce Special Service Award, the Virginia Cultural Laureate Society Award and the Outstanding Virginian Award, the National Governor’s Association Distinguished Service to State Government Award and several honorary degrees.

Wheat is married to the former Helen Wiley Hardy. The couple have one son.

For his inspiration and stellar performance as vice chairman in The Campaign for VCU, his membership on the School of Business advisory board and foresight about the evolution of higher education, it is with pride that Virginia Commonwealth University presents the Presidential Medallion to James C. Wheat Jr.
The University Medallion

In 1984, Virginia Commonwealth University commissioned R. Daniel Booton to strike a university medallion to be worn by the president on ceremonial occasions. The University Medallion is hand-carved and designed in 24-karat gold-leafed bronze, created as a perpetual symbol of Virginia Commonwealth University.

The Medallion uses Egyptian hieroglyphics and mythological and real images to represent the University's contributions in teaching, research and service.

The Egyptian Building on the Medical College of Virginia campus was selected as the centerpiece because of its significance as a historical and architectural landmark. The oldest medical building in the South, it is considered the best example of Egyptian Revival architecture in the United States.

The building is flanked on the left by Isis, goddess of medicine, the arts, the home and the community. On the right is Toth, shown in his guise as the Ibis scribe of the gods. He is the master of writing and god of wisdom, numbers, measures and time.

Above the building is the glyph for "A to Z," which represents knowledge and the role of the university. Isis offers the Ahnk, the symbol of life, while Toth, holding the scroll of wisdom, blesses Virginia Commonwealth University.

The central grouping is surrounded by Nut, goddess of the sky, and Geb, god of the earth. The recumbent god forms mountains and valleys with its contorted body and thereby represents the earth sciences. Nut arches over the earth and symbolizes the cosmos and physical sciences. The Eye of Ra, the sun, travels across her back and is shown at its zenith, representing Virginia Commonwealth University's rise to greatness.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

Academic costume worn today at American college exercises goes back in its essential features to the Middle Ages. The oldest universities of northern Europe, such as Paris and Oxford, grew out of church schools, and both faculty and students were regarded in the Middle Ages as a part of the clergy. They wore clerical costumes, largely borrowed from the monastic dress of that day not just on special occasions, but as their regular costume.

The head covering of the academic costume developed from the skull cap worn by the clergy in cold weather to protect their tonsured heads. In the universities, this skull cap acquired a point on top, which gradually evolved into a tassel. The bonnet with tassel is still worn by degree holders of European universities. In America, it has been replaced by the familiar mortar board, which still retains the mediaeval tassel.

The hood (the mediaeval caputium) was originally a covering worn over the head in bad weather, otherwise dropped on the shoulders as the monk's cowl. At first it was worn by faculty and students alike, but in the early sixteenth century it was restricted to graduates, thus it became the mark of a degree holder. Today, each college has its distinctive hood lining by which its graduates may be recognized in academic processions. Anyone with a degree from Virginia Commonwealth University may wear a hood showing a black chevron on gold background.

The gown worn today is the mediaeval roba and seems to have been borrowed from the habit of the Benedictine monks. In the Middle Ages, undergraduates, bachelors, and masters could be distinguished by the simplicity or elaborateness of their gowns. The doctor's gown was often furred—this survives today in the ornamentation found on the doctoral gowns. Usually the gown is black, but some colleges have colored gowns.

The wide velvet borders extending down the front of the doctoral gown, the velvet bars on the sleeves, and the borders of most hoods are colored according to the scholarly field of the wearer. Some of these are:

Virginia Commonwealth University is a comprehensive, state-assisted university with over 20,000 students pursuing undergraduate, graduate, and professional studies on two campuses. VCU was created July 1, 1968 by an act of the Virginia General Assembly that merged Richmond Professional Institute with the Medical College of Virginia. Today, the two campuses blend the old and the new, with historic homes adapted into offices and classrooms amidst modern new high-rise buildings.

Approximately 175 fields of study are offered on the two campuses of the University. The Academic Campus, located in Richmond's historic fan district, houses the College of Humanities and Sciences, and the Schools of the Arts, Business, Community and Public Affairs, Education, Mass Communication, and Social Work. The Medical College of Virginia Campus, one and one-half miles east of the Academic Campus in Richmond’s downtown business district, houses the Schools of Allied Health Professions, Basic Health Sciences, Dentistry, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, and Graduate Studies.

Virginia Commonwealth University maintains a strong position as an integral force in the area’s cultural, educational, and economic life. This ranges from offering more than 200 concerts a year in the Performing Arts Center, including concerts by the highly acclaimed VCU Jazz Orchestra, to developing a series of revitalization plans for targeted areas of the City of Richmond.

 Ranked among the top universities in terms of funded research, VCU received over $63 million dollars during the 1988–89 fiscal year to fund research projects on both campuses. The University is the site of the nation’s fourth largest university-affiliated teaching hospital and offers quality health care services to more than 30,000 patients annually.

High quality academic instruction is provided by a 2,200 member faculty, 75% of whom hold terminal degrees, distinguished in both teaching and research. University Library Services supports the instructional program with James Branch Cabell Library on the Academic Campus and the Tompkins-McCaw Library on the Medical College of Virginia Campus. Library holdings exceed 857,000 books and 9,500 journal subscriptions, and are supplemented by special collections in the arts, sciences, humanities, and biomedical areas.

More than 75,000 students have taken advantage of VCU’s programs of excellence, its prime location, its flexible class schedule, and the relationships formed with fellow students. The success of our graduates and the academic excellence of our faculty enhance VCU’s position as one of the most important institutions of higher education in the United States.

Virginia Commonwealth University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Institution.
