G. Richard Wagoner Jr.
Commencement Speaker
Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters

G. Richard Wagoner Jr. retired from General Motors Corp. in August 2009 after a 32-year career. He led the company as chairman and CEO from May 2003 through March 2009, after serving as GM’s president and CEO since June 2000. Mr. Wagoner began his career in GM’s Treasurer’s Office in New York in 1977, subsequently serving in senior financial positions at GM do Brasil, GM of Canada and GM Europe. Other senior-level positions he held at GM include president and chief operating officer; executive vice president of GM and president of North American Operations; executive vice president, chief financial officer and head of worldwide purchasing; and president and managing director of GM do Brasil.

Born in Wilmington, Del., on Feb. 9, 1953, and raised in Richmond, Va., Mr. Wagoner graduated from J.R. Tucker High School. In 1971, he matriculated at Duke University, where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and graduated summa cum laude in 1975 with a bachelor’s degree in economics and management science. He went on to earn an M.B.A. from Harvard Business School in 1977.

Mr. Wagoner is a member of the board of directors of The Washington Post Co. and Aleris Corp., and a member of the AEA Investors Global Advisory Board. He also serves as chair of the board of trustees of Duke University and as a member of Duke’s Fuqua School of Business Advisory Board and the Detroit Country Day School Board. He is a member of The Business Council and the Mayor of Shanghai’s International Business Leaders Advisory Council.

Mr. Wagoner and his wife, Kathleen Kaylor Wagoner, have three sons: G. Richard “Trip” III and Scott Kaylor, both Duke graduates, and William Matthew “Matt,” who will graduate from Duke in 2012.
Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters

2011 Recipient
Richard M. Bracken

The Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters is Virginia Commonwealth University's highest form of recognition. Awarded by the President at Commencement, it recognizes the Commencement speaker as well as others who have made outstanding contributions to society through scholarship, public service, humanitarianism, science and art.
Richard M. Bracken serves as chairman and CEO of Nashville, Tenn.-based Hospital Corporation of America. The nation's largest private provider of hospital services, HCA is listed in the Fortune 100, with more than $30 billion in annual revenues. The company operates 164 hospitals and more than 100 surgery centers in 20 states and the United Kingdom and employs nearly 200,000 people. Annually, HCA provides services to 18 million patients, delivers 195,000 babies and provides approximately 5 percent of hospital services in America. Recently, The Joint Commission, which accredits more than 5,000 U.S. hospitals, ranked 405 of those facilities, including 76 HCA facilities, as its "top performers."

Mr. Bracken began his career with HCA in 1981 and has held various executive positions within the company, including CEO of the Green Hospital of Scripps Clinic and Research Foundation in San Diego and CEO of Centennial Medical Center in Nashville. Mr. Bracken was appointed president of HCA's Pacific Division in 1996, Western Group president in 1997, chief operating officer of the company in July 2001 and president and COO in January 2002. He was elected to the HCA board of directors in November 2002, became president and CEO in January 2009 and chairman and CEO in December 2009.

He has served on numerous professional and community boards, including the Federation of American Hospitals, the California Hospital Association, the Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee and the United Way of Metropolitan Nashville. He is a member of the American Society of Corporate Executives and the Business Council.

Mr. Bracken received his Master of Hospital Administration from Virginia Commonwealth University in 1977 and is a Fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives.

"I count the decision I made to seek my graduate education at Virginia Commonwealth University as one of my best," he says. "The school provided not only a great curriculum and faculty (many schools can do that), but equally, if not more importantly, a framework for continued learning, professional responsibility and ethical behavior. To have these latter attributes reinforced in an environment that provides an industry-leading curriculum is the sign of a great education. I consider myself very fortunate to have attended VCU."

Mr. Bracken and his wife, Judith, reside in Nashville and have four grown children.

The academic costume worn at American college exercises derives from the Middle Ages. The oldest universities of northern Europe, such as Paris and Oxford, grew out of church schools, and both faculty and students were regarded in the Middle Ages as a part of the clergy. They wore clerical habits, largely borrowed from the monastic dress of that day, not just on special occasions but as their regular attire.

The head covering of the academic costume developed from the skull cap worn by the clergy in cold weather to protect the tonsured head. In the universities, the skull cap acquired a point on top, which evolved into a tassel. The bonnet with tassel is still worn by degree holders of European universities. In America, it has been replaced by the familiar mortar board, which still retains the medieval tassel.

The hood (the medieval caputium) was originally a covering worn over the head in bad weather, otherwise dropped on the shoulders as the monk's cowl. At first it was worn by faculty and students alike, but in the early 16th century it was restricted to graduates, thus becoming the mark of a degree holder. Today, each college has its distinctive hood lining by which its graduates may be recognized in academic processions. Graduates from Virginia Commonwealth University may wear a hood showing a black chevron on gold background.

The gown comes from the medieval robe and seems to have been borrowed from the habit of the Benedictine monks. In the Middle Ages, undergraduates, bachelors and masters could be distinguished by the simplicity or intricacy of their gowns. The doctor's gown was often furred, which survives today in the ornamentation found on the doctoral gown. Usually the gown is black, but some colleges have gowns of different colors.

The wide velvet borders extending down the front of the doctoral gown, the velvet bars on the sleeves, and the borders of most hoods are colored according to the scholarly field of the wearer.

Virginia Commonwealth University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action university providing access to education and employment without regard to age, race, color, national origin, gender, religion, sexual orientation, veteran's status, political affiliation or disability.

Virginia Commonwealth University is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award baccalaureate, master's, doctoral and first professional degrees.
Because of rigid time requirements, this program must be printed before the final list of degree candidates and final graduation honor status for undergraduate students can be determined. The exclusion of the name of a student is not to be taken as indication of official status as a nongraduate, nor is the inclusion of a name of a student to be taken as certification of official status as a graduate. Only undergraduate students are eligible for honors designations. These designations do not apply to the degrees received by graduate students.

Virginia Commonwealth University

Virginia Commonwealth University serves an integral role in the economic health of the city and the state, educating the current and future workforce, reaching out to the community, advancing research and enhancing patient care.

VCU offers comprehensive undergraduate, master's, doctoral and professional programs and encompasses one of the largest academic health centers in the nation. With a record $255 million in sponsored research funding last fiscal year, VCU became one of only 40 national public research institutions to be designated as a research university with very high research activity as well as a Community Engaged Institution, both by the Carnegie Foundation. Its centers and institutes of excellence support the university's research mission and involve faculty from multiple disciplines in public policy, biotechnology and health care discoveries.

VCU enrolls more than 32,000 students in 216 degree and certificate programs in the arts, sciences and humanities. Sixty-eight of the programs are unique in Virginia, many of them crossing the disciplines of VCU's 13 schools and one college. VCU has a full-time instructional faculty of more than 1,900 who are nationally and internationally recognized for excellence in the arts, business, education, engineering, the humanities, the life sciences, social work and all the health care professions. With more than 18,000 employees, VCU and the VCU Health System also have a significant impact on Central Virginia's economy.

VCU students and faculty live and work in locations around the state and around the world. The School of Medicine and the School of Pharmacy collaborated with the Inova Health System in Northern Virginia to establish the VCU-Inova Campus for third- and fourth-year medical and pharmacy students. And, the VCU School of the Arts in Qatar has been conferring fine arts degrees since 2002.

VCU’s achievements under the most recent phase of its strategic plan resulted in high regard for the university's nationally ranked academic programs and academic medical center, research and scholarly productivity, and engagement with the communities it serves. The next phase of the strategic plan — Quest for Distinction — builds upon these achievements and launches a new vision for VCU: to elevate its stature and become the nation's top urban, public research university distinguished by a commitment to advancing knowledge and student success.

Quest for Distinction also embodies VCU's commitment to human health through the VCU Medical Center, which includes the university's health sciences schools and offers state-of-the-art care in more than 200 specialty areas, many of national and international note, including organ transplantation, head and spinal cord trauma, burn healing and cancer treatment.

VCU and the VCU Health System have been honored with prestigious national and international recognition for top-quality graduate, professional and medical-care programs, reflecting a commitment to be among America's top research universities focused on student learning.
Congratulations to all!
