Commencement

Dec. 13, 2014

The Stuart C. Siegel Center ♦ Richmond, Virginia
Dec. 13, 2014

Dear Class of 2014:

Virginia Commonwealth University is a premier national research university with a mission focused on people. Research that helps people. Care that heals people. Teaching that empowers people. Service that embraces people.

Our greatest successes, then, are the successes of our people, including those of you who are earning your degree today. You are graduating from one of America’s great public research universities; as such, your educational experience has been about more than completing your courses and receiving a grade. It has been about making your knowledge real to solve real problems that will make a real difference in the real world. It has been about becoming leaders in your academic disciplines and in your communities. It has been about innovating, transforming and creating opportunities for yourself and others.

You are part of a rich legacy at VCU. For 176 years, your alma mater has focused on helping students like you become creators, innovators and entrepreneurs who will advance the human experience around the world. As you graduate from VCU, always remember that your opportunities are boundless because your potential is limitless.

On behalf of the faculty, staff, students and alumni of VCU, I congratulate you on the remarkable achievement of your commencement. We are so proud of you and encourage you to stay connected to your alma mater forever.

Best wishes,

Michael Rao, Ph.D.

Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters

During her long and celebrated career, Kay Coles James has served in academia and government, as well as dozens of for-profit and not-for-profit organizations, with accomplishments in every sector of America’s economy.

In 2001, after being nominated by President George W. Bush and unanimously confirmed by the U.S. Senate, Mrs. James became director of the U.S. Office of Personnel Management. She chaired the Principals of the Joint Financial Management Improvement Program and the Chief Human Capital Officers Council and served as a member of the President’s Management Council. Most notably, she played an instrumental role in designing the agency merger process for the Department of Homeland Security — one of the largest personnel mergers in U.S. history.

Some of her many other positions include Virginia secretary of health and human resources, dean of the School of Government at Regent University and assistant secretary for public affairs at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

Mrs. James is the founder and president of the Gloucester Institute, a nonprofit organization that trains and nurtures African-American leaders. She currently sits on the boards of PNC Financial Services Group, Magellan Health Services, Cancer Treatment Centers of America and numerous others. Mrs. James previously served on the Virginia Commonwealth University Board of Visitors, where she chaired the Academic and Student Affairs Committee.

A graduate of Hampton University, Mrs. James has received numerous awards and honorary degrees, including an Honorary Doctor of Laws from Pepperdine University, and is the author of three books. She is married to Charles E. James Sr. and has three children and five grandchildren.

2014 Recipient
Kay Coles James

The Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters is Virginia Commonwealth University’s highest form of recognition. Presented by the president at Commencement, it recognizes those individuals who have made outstanding contributions to society through scholarship, public service, humanitarianism, science and art.
A native of Egypt, Eva Teig Hardy immigrated to Portsmouth, Virginia, with her family when she was 13 years old. She received a bachelor's degree in political science from Hood College and a master's degree in government and public administration from American University.

Ms. Hardy spent nearly two decades in local and state government service, starting as an urban planner with the city of Portsmouth and culminating as secretary of health and human resources in the administration of Virginia Gov. Jerry Baliles from 1986 to 1990. As secretary, she was a strong advocate for strengthening Virginia's public and mental health services and support for child care and services for the elderly and disabled.

In 1990, Ms. Hardy began her career at Virginia Power as vice president of government affairs, rising to senior vice president of external affairs and corporate communications at parent company Dominion Resources. In this role, she was responsible for corporate communications, environmental compliance and the Dominion Foundation.

In 2008, she was promoted to executive vice president, the first woman to hold that title at Dominion.

Ms. Hardy is currently on the boards of the Virginia Community College System Foundation, the Holocaust Museum and the Virginia Commonwealth University Health System Authority Board of Directors, and she was appointed by Gov. Terry McAuliffe to serve on the Virginia Higher Education Board Appointments Commission. Ms. Hardy has received numerous awards, including the Thomas Jefferson Award from the Public Relations Society of America and the L. Douglas Wilder Public Service Award from VCU. She served on VCU's Board of Visitors from 1990 to 1994 and was inducted into the VCU Communications Hall of Fame in 2006.

She is married to Michael Hardy, a retired reporter.
Presidential Medallion

The Presidential Medallion was established in 1984 by the Virginia Commonwealth University Board of Visitors to honor the outstanding contributions of members of the university community. Presented by the president at Commencement, the award recognizes these individuals for extraordinary achievement in learning and commitment to the mission of VCU.

George W. Vetrovec, M.D., is a professor of medicine and director of the Adult Cardiac Catheterization Laboratory at the Virginia Commonwealth University Pauley Heart Center, and he served on the executive committee of the VCU Health System Authority Board of Directors.

In addition to his administrative, research and teaching activities, Dr. Vetrovec is an active clinical cardiologist and researcher in the management of coronary artery disease, particularly catheterization and interventional therapies. A former "Clinician of the Year" as voted by his university colleagues, he has been listed as one of the Best Doctors in America by Best Doctors Inc. for more than 15 years.

Dr. Vetrovec has authored or co-authored more than 250 papers and eight book chapters, and edited two texts on interventional cardiology. He also serves on numerous cardiovascular journal editorial boards.

A fellow of the American College of Cardiology, Dr. Vetrovec has served as chairman of the Physician Workforce Advisory Committee. He is a fellow and past president of the Society for Cardiac Angiography and Interventions, a past president of the Association of Professors of Cardiology, and a member and past president of the Association of University Cardiologists. Dr. Vetrovec has served as president of both the Richmond council and Virginia affiliate of the American Heart Association, as well as on the AHA national board.

A consultant to the Food and Drug Administration New Cardiovascular Devices Panel, Dr. Vetrovec served on the national qualifying board for cardiovascular specialists. His leadership of two major fundraising campaigns for the Pauley Heart Center earned him the first W. Robert Irby Philanthropic Leadership Award from the MCV Foundation.

Dr. Vetrovec received his undergraduate and medical degrees from the University of Virginia and his internal medicine and cardiology specialty training from VCU.

2014 Recipient
George W. Vetrovec
The Presidential Medallion was established in 1984 by the Virginia Commonwealth University Board of Visitors to honor the outstanding contributions of members of the university community. Presented by the president at Commencement, the award recognizes these individuals for extraordinary achievement in learning and commitment to the mission of VCU.

Richard P. Wenzel, M.D., is a professor in the Virginia Commonwealth University School of Medicine’s Department of Internal Medicine. He chaired the department from 1995 to 2009 and also served as president of MCV Physicians, the clinical practice for more than 600 physicians, as well as the school’s senior associate dean for clinical affairs from 2003 to 2008.

One of the leading infectious diseases epidemiologists in the world, Dr. Wenzel established his reputation in the field of infection control in hospitals and is a recognized expert on antibiotic resistance and its impact. During his celebrated career, his research has focused on the prevention and control of hospital-acquired infections, especially bloodstream infections and sepsis, and he has trained 50 hospital epidemiologists worldwide.

Dr. Wenzel is a former president of both the Society of Healthcare Epidemiology of America and the International Society for Infectious Diseases, as well as a former councilor of the Infectious Diseases Society of America. From 2008 to 2013, he served as chair of the National Research Advisory Council for the Veterans Health Administration.

Dr. Wenzel was a member of the editorial board of The New England Journal of Medicine from 1992 to 2000, and is the journal’s first editor-at-large. He has written more than 500 publications and books, including “Stalking Microbes” and the medical thriller “Labyrinth of Terror,” and edited six textbooks.

He has received numerous awards, including the Abbott Achievement Award for Outcomes Research, a Senior International Fellowship Fogarty Award from the National Institutes of Health and the Maxwell Finland Award for Scientific Achievement from the National Foundation of Infectious Diseases. In 2010, VCU presented Dr. Wenzel with the University Award of Excellence for his accomplishments in science and medicine.

Academic Costume

The academic costume worn at American college exercises derives from the Middle Ages. The oldest universities of northern Europe, such as Paris and Oxford, grew out of church schools, and both faculty and students were regarded in the Middle Ages as a part of the clergy. They wore clerical habits, largely borrowed from the monastic dress of that day, not just on special occasions but as their regular attire.

The head covering of the academic costume developed from the skull cap worn by the clergy in cold weather to protect the tonsured head. In the universities, the skull cap acquired a point on top, which evolved into a tassel. The bonnet with tassel is still worn by degree holders of European universities. In America, it has been replaced by the familiar mortar board, which still retains the medieval tassel.

The hood (the medieval caputium) was originally a covering worn over the head in bad weather, otherwise dropped on the shoulders as the monk's cowl. At first it was worn by faculty and students alike, but in the early 16th century it was restricted to graduates, thus becoming the mark of a degree holder. Today, each college has its distinctive hood lining by which its graduates may be recognized in academic processions. Graduates from Virginia Commonwealth University may wear a hood showing a black chevron on gold background.

The gown comes from the medieval robe and seems to have been borrowed from the habit of the Benedictine monks. In the Middle Ages, undergraduates, bachelors and masters could be distinguished by the simplicity or intricacy of their gowns. The doctor's gown was often furred, which survives today in the ornamentation found on the doctoral gown. Usually the gown is black, but some colleges have gowns of different colors.

The wide velvet borders extending down the front of the doctoral gown, the velvet bars on the sleeves, and the borders of most hoods are colored according to the scholarly field of the wearer.

Virginia Commonwealth University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action university providing access to education and employment without regard to age, race, color, national origin, gender, religion, sexual orientation, veteran's status, political affiliation or disability.
Recipients of Degrees

Because of rigid time requirements, this program must be printed before the final list of degree Candidates and final graduation honor status for undergraduate students can be determined. The exclusion of the name of a student is not to be taken as indication of official status as a nongraduate, nor is the inclusion of a name of a student to be taken as certification of official status as a graduate. Only undergraduate students are eligible for honors designations. These designations do not apply to the degrees received by graduate students.

Dear graduate,

On behalf of VCU Alumni, I am privileged and honored to congratulate you on this wonderful occasion. Although you likely received much support and encouragement from your families and friends, this is a personal educational achievement that is a tribute to your hard work and intellectual perseverance.

As you bring this chapter of your academic career to a close, we hope you will recognize that your university and your alumni organizations have provided you with solid ground from which to grow. We also hope that you, as alumni, will use your significant talents and energies to not only continue your alumni organizations' stewardship for future generations but also to expand upon it.

We invite you to join more than 172,000 VCU alumni throughout the world and, with words and deeds, show the excellence and quality of your education. Be proud of your university, because we are proud of you! Our wish for each of you is that you realize your full potential and, in doing so, find a method of contributing back to society and the university in a way that is meaningful for you.

I hope you will become an active member of VCU Alumni and get fully engaged with your alma mater. We won't be the best VCU Alumni we can be without you!

Yours for VCU,

President, VCU Alumni
Congratulations to all!
