Editor's Statement

Vince Lanier once said in his inimitably leading way (with that gleam in his eye) that art is what hangs on the walls in the museums and galleries in New York and Los Angeles. Unfortunately, in light of the Art in America syndrome which dominates not only the art community but also seemingly the art education community, the joke may be on you, Vince. You may be right. Art reflects and perpetuates culture as does education. Culture, as an important aspect of human evolution must have a wide gene pool of ideas to maintain the healthy balance necessary for its continuance. Maybe that's the crucial function of alternative ideas such as those found in this journal: cultural balance insuring continued evolution. The Bulletin, which is often seen by mainstream art educators as the result of mutant genes, may help provide the genetic breadth necessary for survival of art education as a species. After all, it was genetic mutation which resulted in some puny little mammals when dinosaurs were dominant. So, for now, Vince, I'm afraid you might be right, but if you keep asking, if we all keep asking, some different answers may begin to evolve.

Once again this year, I'm indebted to Jerry Draper, Dean of the School of Visual Arts and Charles Dorn, Chair of Art Education, Florida State University, for their support of this journal. Editorial Assistant, Melissa E Smith, was invaluable once again, spending long hours processing and formatting Bulletin #8. The editorial board also performed way above and beyond reasonable expectations. Collectively they've been invaluable to me as editor. I think it's true, however, that power corrupts. In several of the articles presented in this issue, I've disagreed with some of the reviewers' decisions, and each time I disagreed, it went my way. So I think two years are enough. Before I get on a serious power trip, it's time to get me outta here.

T.A.
EDITOR

Tom Anderson ........................................ The Florida State University

EDITORIAL ADVISORY BOARD

Associate Editor

Karen A. Hamblen ........................................ Louisiana State University

Past Editor

Helen Muth ........................................ Southwest Missouri State University

Board Members

Bob Bersson ........................................ James Madison University
F. Graeme Chalmers .................................... University of British Columbia
Jack Hobbs ........................................... Illinois State University
Jan Jagodzinski ....................................... University of Alberta
Kenneth Marantz ........................................ The Ohio State University
Cathy Mullen ........................................... Concordia University, Montreal
Alan Newberg ........................................... Eastern Montana College
Peter Perdue ........................................... University of Saskatchewan
Herb Perr ........................................ Hunter College, CUNY
Amy Brook-Snider ..................................... Pratt Institute
Don Soucy ........................................... University of New Brunswick
Charles Wieder ....................................... University of Kansas

Editorial Staff

Melissa E Smith ....................................... Editorial Assistant
Martha Graham ....................................... Cover Design

Subscription Information

The Bulletin of the Caucus on Social Theory and Art Education is an annual publication of the Caucus on Social Theory and Art Education, an affiliate of The National Art Education Association. The Bulletin is available to Caucus members as a benefit of membership. Membership in the Caucus is $10.00 annually or five dollars for students. Individual copies of The Bulletin may be purchased for $6.00. Membership and Bulletin requests should be directed to Andra Johnson, Treasurer, Caucus on Social Theory and Art Education, Art Department, University of Georgia, Athens, Georgia, 30602.

Editorial Policy

The Bulletin is a refereed journal which accepts articles related to social theory and socially concerned practices in art and art education. Manuscripts should adhere to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association and should be submitted in triplicate. Critical commentary on practice and theory in the field is welcomed as well as reviews of socially-defined literature. All inquiries and manuscripts should be addressed to Tom Anderson, Editor, BCSTAE, 123 Education Building, The Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida, 32306-3014. The deadline for submissions for Bulletin #9 is December 1, 1988.
Contents

ARTICLES

Research for Existential Choice
Karen A. Hamblen

Art, Football and the Politics of Recognition
Pete Helzer and Helen Liggett

Abstract Expressionism and Art Education:
Formalism and Self-Expression as Curriculum Ideology
Kerry Freedman

Seeking Cultural Understanding: Knowing Through the Art of the Picturebook as One of Five Modalities
Rogena M. Degge and Kenneth Marantz

The Interpretation of Modern Art - What is Possible
When Dealing with the Explication of Art
Heinrich Kupffer (translated by Jan Jagodzinski)

Commentary
Jan Jagodzinski

Art Educators' Responsibility to Cultural Diversity:
Or "Where Are You Goin' Wid Alla My Stuff?"
Kristen G. Congdon

Aesthetic Socialization and the Young Child
Sally Hagaman

Another Look at the Aesthetics of the Popular Arts
Edward G. Lawry

Understanding Popular Culture: The Uses and Abuses of Fashion Advertising
Mary Stokrocki

Toward an Aesthetic Androgynous Mentality in Society: A Personal View
Duke Madenfort

Culture Change: The Work of C.A. Bowers in Educational Policy
Nancy R. Johnson
BOOK REVIEWS

Art in Context
Jack A. Hobbs
Reviewed by Donald Soucy

Art in Focus
Gene Mittler
Reviewed by Patrick Taylor

Companeras: Women, Art and Social Change in Latin America
Betty LaDuke
Reviewed by Helane Horner

In a Different Voice: Psychological Theory and Women's Development
Carol Gilligan
Reviewed by Beverly Wilson

Thinking About Art
Edmund Burke Feldman
Reviewed by Laurie Gomon Ring

Ben Steele: Prisoner of War
Alan Newberg
Reviewed by T.A.